NAVAL CUT DEMANDED

Noted Americans Sign Appeal

Policy Association Calls Conference for Real Reduction

Indorsed by 1200, Including Many Leaders in California

YORK, March 2. (AP)—The Policy Association tonight the American delegates at London naval conference an for reduction, not mere tion of armaments."

The message was signed by 1200 men and women, who, association said, authorized their within seventy-two hours. The message said:

"Upon the reconvening of the we, the undersigned, the hope that the re- negotiations be conducted remembrance of the fact that of the powers at London have part in the pact of Paris to war in favor of settling by peaceful means."

QUOTE HOOVER

The message said the signers their "expectations" on Hoover's Armistice Day in which he declared "We reduce our naval strength in to any other. Having that, it only remains for the to say how low they will go, must be too low for us."

"The policy of reduction," the said, "has had and con- to have the overwhelming in- and support of the Amer- people. We protest against that this policy of reduction may be abandoned."

The 1200 signers urged steps toward the utilization of principle of joint conference in to meet disputes, which might to war and pledged their sup- to the conclusion of "such agreements as embody the princi- of reduction and conference and at the same time meet the just- ly based expectations of the entire world."

Refugees Shot Down in Flight

Guards Fire on Groups Trying to Escape Yoke of Soviet Oppression

Some Get Through to Poland and Influx There Brings Economic Problem

WARSAW (Poland) March 2. (AP) Police border guards on the Russian frontier report that many Russian peasants escaping from the soviet rule have been killed recently by Russian guards while attempting to cross into Poland. The Russian guards are said to be using machine guns in the effort to check the flight of the peasants, which has reached large proportions.

A group of twelve Russians, who arrived in Poland yesterday, said that they numbered twenty when they started, but that eight of their band were killed by Russian guards along the frontier.

In spite of the danger, the movement of peasants to Poland is said here to be increasing, and Poland soon may face a difficult problem in caring for the refugees. Concentration camps have been formed for most of them, but those having relatives or friends in Poland were [illegible] with.

The [illegible] press, however, is urging the government to appeal to the League of Nations for relief, because the unemployment situation already is bad in Poland. The authorities fear that some radical action must be taken soon if the influx continues.

Most of the Russian peasants seem to be leaving because of violent enforcement of the Communist farm-collectivization scheme.

STALIN CALLS HALT ON FARM SEIZURE

MOSCOW, March 2. (AP)—Joseph Stalin, general secretary of the Communist party and "strong man of Russia," today had a three-column article in all the newspapers of the capital warning Communist officials they must slacken their campaign to complete specialization of agricultural lands.

The article was interpreted in official circles here as an indication that Stalin realizes the campaign is rousing the peasantry to open hostility in certain cases, especially in districts where soviet village authorities have attempted to force rapid collectivization upon small farmers.

TIMELY WARNING

The warning, coming while rich peasants are slaughtering their cattle wholesale to prevent the animals from falling into the hands of the government as well as committing more violent acts, is regarded as a distinct moderation of the government's rural policy. It is interpreted as meaning the Kremlin has decided the success of the collectivization policy depends largely on the good will and voluntary con-

NORTHERN AREAS GET RAINFALL

Continuous Wet Weather Forecast for Today With Ocean Storm Approaching

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2. (Exclusive)—Spring showers that have fallen intermittently in Northern California in the last ten days began again tonight with a Weather Bureau promise of continued wet weather Monday. The precipitation will be general throughout the central and northern part of the State with a generous downpour for the bay region, Federal forecasters predict.

Borne on an increasing southeast wind, rain struck the city shortly before 8 p.m. and continued for several hours. Southeast storm warnings were ordered hoisted by the Weather Bureau from Point Reyes to the mouth of the Columbia River.

Radio reports from ships at sea received at 8 p.m. located a new storm center 500 miles west of Cape Mendocino. This low-pressure area, driven by a forty-two-mile northwest gale, was rapidly bearing down on the bay region.

Mild weather was the rule throughout the State today. With the exception of tonight's precipitation here, no rain was reported. A general cloudy condition prevailed up and down the coast, however.

ICE PERILS OUTPOST IN FAR NORTH

Point Barrow Inhabitants Face Prospect of Isolation and Privation

WASHINGTON, March 2. (AP)—A message from the world's most northerly radio station, made public today by the War Department, reported that unless ice conditions change, the inhabitants of the Point Barrow region in Alaska may lose their summer entirely and suffer the privations of an "all-ice year."

The terse report from Staff Sergeant Stanley H. Morgan, in charge of the tiny radio station facing on the Arctic Ocean, said prevailing winds are "packing ice along the coast in great solid packs, forming pressure ridge shallow water and bars twenty-five to forty feet high."

Morgan added that "old-timers," basing their predictions on other years when there had been no south winds to carry away the great packs, think it possible that no ships will be able to get through, and that the msager supplies freighted by dog teams will necessitate "many hardships due to scarcity of food and fuel."

Storms Delay Eielson's Body

MOTORSHIP NANUK, NORTH CAPE (Siberia) March 2. (AP)—Arctic storms sweeping across Southeastern Siberia held planes to the ground for the fourth successive day and prevented pilots from taking off for Alaska with the bodies of Carl Ben Eielson and Earl Borland, American aviators killed November 9, 1929, when their plane crashed in the fog ninety miles southeast of here.

The bodies will be taken to the United States for burial.

Resignation of Santo Domingo Chief Accepted

SANTO DOMINGO, March 2. (AP) The Dominican Congress today unanimously accepted the resignation of President Horacio Vasques and of Dr. Alfonseca, Vice-President. Gen. Rafael Estrella Ureña was named provisional President.

Senor Vasquez has announced that he will go to Porto Rico and remain there until after the May elections. He asked to be relieved of his duties on account of poor health. Physicians said the President's strength was taxed by the recent political upheaval, in which he was forced to agree to retire.

Glider Flown in 'Dead Air' by St. Louisan

ST. LOUIS, March 2. (AP)—A glider was flown in "dead air" inside the huge arena building here last night to mark the first indoor flight by man in such a mechanical device.

Harry Kuchina, member of the St. Louis Glider Club, successfully flew the glider the length of the arena at an altitude of about ten feet. The feat was performed at a Boy Scout circus and the glider used was the one Col. Lindbergh used in his first two glider flights in St. Louis last June.

Student Killed in Auto Wreck

LESLIE (Mich.) March 2. (AP)—A college student was killed and two co-eds injured, one probably fatally, in an automobile wreck near here today.

The dead student was Clarence Snyder, Jr., 19 years of age, a freshman at Michigan State College, East Lansing, and son of the president of the Snyder Tool and Engineering Company of Detroit.

Doris Gallagher, 18, daughter of W. Lloyd Gallagher, vice-president of the Jefferson Savings Bank of Grosse Pointe Park, Detroit suburb, was taken to a Lansing hospital. She suffered fractures of the skull, pelvis and jaw and was not expected to recover. Pauline Webster, 18, of Grosse Pointe Park, was injured less seriously.

Airline Deal in Colombia Made

NEW YORK, March 2. (AP)—Pan-American Airways, operating air lines from Florida and Texas through the Caribbean countries and South America, today announced the signing of a co-operative agreement with Scadta, a commercial air transport line operating in the Republic of Colombia.

Scadta, founded in 1919, operates a 3000-mile network of air lines in Colombia, carrying passengers, mail and freight.

By the terms of the agreement, the companies share the use of all airports, seaplane anchorages and airways facilities.

SECOND VICTIM DEAD IN CROSSING SMASH

PHOENIX, March 2. (AP)—Paul Fisher, 48 years of age, of Phoenix, died in a hospital here today as the result of injuries received last night in a collision between his automobile and a train at a Phoenix street crossing. Fisher's mother, Mrs. Amelia Fisher, died a few minutes after the collision.

MARCH LION STILL ROARS IN MIDWEST

Blizzards and Freezing Temperatures Reported Over Central States

CHICAGO, March 2. (Exclusive) The March lion was still roaring throughout the Middle West tonight. Blizzards were reported from many sectors with temperatures ranging from 5 to 20 deg. above zero. The lowest temperature for the country Sunday was registered at Yellowstone Park where it was 12 below.

From all over the Central States tonight came reports that the mercury was falling. Government weather reports predict temperatures will sink to within a point or so of zero by Monday, although no more snow is in sight.

BITTER WINDS BLOW IN GEORGIA

ATLANTA (Ga.) March 2. (AP)—Bitter March winds struck rapier-like in the South today, routing premature spring temperatures and bringing out heavier overcoats.

Temperatures hit the toboggan last night and there was little relief today. In Atlanta, the temperature was two points below freezing at 7 a.m. Tonight the Weather Bureau said would see the mercury dropping to 25.

WINTER TAKES NEW GRIP ON VIRGINIA

NORTON (Va.) March 2. (AP)—Winter took a firm grip on Southwest Virginia today and early tonight the mercury stood at 10 deg. above zero. Snow fell throughout the day.

RAIN PADRE WEATHERS NEW CRISIS

Resort to Oxygen Brings Father Ricard Through Near-Fatal Attack

SAN JOSE, March 2. (AP)—The condition of Father J. S. Ricard, "Padre of the Rains" of the University of Santa Clara, became so critical early this morning that Rev. C. J. McCoy, president of the university, was summoned to his bedside.

Administration of oxygen brought the aged priest through what appeared to be a fatal attack, and today he is reported resting easier again.

Father Ricard has been at the hospital since January suffering from heart attacks. A year ago he suffered similar attacks and was confined for several weeks. Physicians do not expect him to recover from his present illness.

Leviathan Will Have Night Club

NEW YORK, March 2. (Exclusive)—When the United States liner Leviathan sails April 12 it will carry no second-class passengers, but will have a night club for the recreation of travelers.

The Leviathan, now in dry dock for her annual reconditioning, is having its second-class accommodations converted into "tourist third" quarters. The ship then will have first-class, tourist third and third-class quarters.

The night club will be known as the "Club Leviathan."

TAFT AGAIN ON DECLINE

Further Losses in Struggle Against Disease Cited by His Physicians

Visitors to Sick Room Note Evidences of Patient's Waning Strength

WASHINGTON, March 2. (AP) The condition of William Howard Taft was reported by his physicians as unchanged at 7 p.m. tonight.

WASHINGTON, March 2. (AP)—William Howard Taft continued to linger near death today while disease slowly sapped the resistance of a powerful physique that withstood the rigors of forty years of service to the nation.

The bulletins from the bedside of the distinguished patient recorded a slow decline from a rally which in the last two days had brought brief, feeble flashes of the good humor that had left an indelible imprint on the minds of the American people during his long career.

DOCTORS CALL TWICE

Twice in the day his physicians called, and each time they left the sick room saying that his condition had not changed since last night. At that time he had been reported weaker than earlier yesterday, when he rallied sufficiently to recognise those about him and to speak to them in a wisp of a voice.

To those who visited him in the sick room, however, the patient seemed weaker, as if the vitality which had bolstered him so long were slowly crumbling.

There were few callers at the Taft home today. Some of his neighbors passed across the broad porch to inquire sympathetically regarding the condition of their old friend. They left with sad faces.

SINGLE BULLETIN

The formal bulletin issued by Drs. Francis M. Hagner and Thomas A. Claytor after their visit abortly before noon said:

"The condition of the former Chief Justice, while unchanged since last night, is not so favorable as it was yesterday morning. There is again a slight falling of blood pressure."

No formal bulletin was issued by Dr. Claytor after his afternoon visit.

KELLEY'S RELEASE DELAYED

Prison Board Fixes Term for Slayer of Mrs. Mellus at Ten Years

SAN QUENTIN, March 2. (AP)—Prospects for the immediate release from San Quentin prison of Leo Pat Kelly, the Los Angeles slayer, vanished today when the State board of prison directors fixed his term at ten years, the maximum punishment allowed by law on a manslaughter conviction.

Convicted of the slaying of Mrs. Myrtle Mellus, Los Angeles society matron, Kelley was sentenced to death. He spent thirteen months in condemned row before the State Supreme Court reduced his sentence to manslaughter. Atty.-Gen. Webb then ruled the time served by Kelley while awaiting execution could be applied on his manslaughter term, making him eligible for immediate parole.

Kelley cannot again make application for parole for a year.

The sentence of John Hawkins, 27 years of age, former University of Southern California athlete, was fixed at seven years. Hawkins, received at the prison in January, 1929, was sentenced in Los Angeles on five counts of second-degree burglary to a total of seventy years.

Wires Hum as Wife of Morrow Forgets Papers

LONDON, March 2. (AP)—All the resources of international telephones, telegraphs and fast mail were brought into play over the week-end to save Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow and Miss Elizabeth Morrow from delay at the hands of the French Immigration Service.

Miss Morrow did what everybody does abroad, forgot her passport. Mr. Morrow's office was notified by telephone before she left Victoria station, but the passport arrived after the train pulled out.

The London Embassy, by fast action, then communicated with the Paris American Embassy over telephone and telegraph lines, and the French Foreign Office telegraphed the French port authorities to admit the Morrows without question.

Chicago Jails 800 Suspects

CHICAGO, March 2. (Exclusive) Police jails throughout the city were jammed today as a result of another week-end offensive against gangland.

Arrests in the drive Saturday and early today totaled 814 as bureau squads and district officers combed night clubs, gang dives, soft-drink parlors and other likely spots for questionable characters.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, March 2. [To the Editor of The Times:] Not only the week's biggest laugh, but the year's biggest guffaw come from the United States Senate during the oil lobby hearing. They discovered that Senators were trading oil votes for sugar votes. They were surprised and practically dumbfounded that such a condition could exist. Yes, just about as surprising to everybody that knows politics as it would be to discover that Herbert Hoover was born in the United States, was over 30 years old and white. Vote trading got 'em all in the Senate and kept them in there (if the trades were good enough.)

A Senator learns to "swap" his vote at the same age a calf learns which end of its mother is the dining room.

Yours,

WILL ROGERS.

PRINCE HAS MALARIA

Wales Stricken in Jungles

Royal Hunter Hastened to Civilization as Fever Develops

[Copyright, 1930, by New York Times.]

NAIROBI (Kenya Colony) March 2. (Exclusive)—The Prince of Wales has been stricken with malaria, which has compelled interruption of his hunting trip in the East African jungles. The Prince was resting comfortably here tonight at government house, where, it is said, his fever is "following the normal course."

A bulletin issued at government house, where the Prince and his party arrived by train from the interior, says:

"The Prince of Wales is suffering from an attack of subtertian malaria and has returned to Nairobi in consequence. The fever is following its normal course and it is anticipated that his royal highness will be quite well in a few days."

ATTACK SUDDEN

The attack came suddenly late yesterday afternoon, after the Prince had had a strenuous day flying over the wilderness and then trekking for hours through the bush, stalking wild animals with a motion-picture camera. He arose a little after dawn and soon was in a plane, soaring from sight into a thick cloud bank. When the plane emerged into the sunlight several thousand feet over the camp, the Prince was thrilled by the wonderful view of the snow-covered peaks of Kilimanjaro rising from the flat, white cloud tops. His only regret on landing was having forgotten his camera.

Later in the heat of the day, the Prince trudged for miles over the open plains and through thickets, in the hope of "shooting" big game with his camera. He planted his tripod in the most likely spots, carefully selecting cover, and ground out hundreds of feet of film unworried by the presence of lions and other wild beasts. He refused to shoot anything with fire-arms, because he was in a game preserve and would not take advantage of his privileged position.

INDIA READY TO STRIKE

Gandhi Sending Ultimatum

Notice to Viceroy Will Give England Eight Days to Meet Liberty Demands

Civil Disobedience Campaign Believed to Involve Salt Mine Tie-up

AHMEDABAD (India) March 2. (AP)—Mahatma Gandhi, venerated Indian leader, was ready tonight to dispatch to the Viceroy, Lord Irwin, an ultimatum on civil disobedience.

His note is believed to give the government eight days' notice, after which the civil disobedience campaign will begin. The move has the approval of the All-India Congress party but there are other Indian political elements who do not favor it.

The plan of the campaign, which is designed to force Great Britain to grant independence to India, has not been disclosed. It is thought, however, that Gandhi will lead a group of his followers to some place in the Gujerate district, where salt is manufactured, and urge the workers to cease work. The government has a monopoly in salt.

If Gandhi should be arrested, his lieutenant, V. L. Patel, will take over the leadership of the campaign, calling on village officers to resign and Indians to withdraw from government service. He will declare a social boycott of government workers and advise the nonpayment of taxes.

CHAMBER OF PRINCES ATTACKS FREEDOM POLICY

NEW DELHI (India) March 2. (AP)—Emphatic disapproval of the policy of separation from Great Britain was contained in a resolution adopted by the Chamber of Princes today.

The upper house declared it "welcomes attainment by British India of its due place among the dominions forming the British commonwealth of nations at the earliest date possible consistent with the necessary safeguards and reservations with respect to the different interests in the country."

Viceroy Lord Irwin, commenting on the resolution, said it was important in that it showed that if independence became a concrete political program it could not become the program of united India. He said it did not enjoy the sympathy of one-third of India.

ONE DIES IN WAREHOUSE DOCK FIRE

Thirteen Persons Hurt in New Orleans Blaze Bringing $3,000,000 Loss

NEW ORLEANS, March 2. (AP)—One person was burned to death and thirteen were injured tonight in a fire which destroyed a dock-board warehouse and wharf leased by the Anderson, Clayton Warehouse and Compress Company and seared a warehouse of the Alabo Company on the river front, causing damage estimated at $3,000,000.

A charred body was found in the steamship Scantic which caught fire while docked at the burning wharf, later breaking free and drifting to midstream. Discovery of the unidentified body was reported to police by the crew of a fire tug which boarded the ship after extinguishing the fire. The fire-swept ship was anchored several miles down the river.

With amazing swiftness the flames, starting in cotton bales piled on the wharves, spread over the wharf and into the warehouses. The underpinning of the wharves burned away and the structure collapsed into the river.

The injured were caught aboard the Scantic. The ship was powerless to move with her boilers cold and caught fire while members of the crew were entertaining visitors, including several women and children. Some of them saved their lives by leaping into the river.

SOUND FILMS TO GO BUGS

Cicada, Who Sings of Love, and Cricket Who Chirps of War, Will Do Stuff for Talkies

NEW YORK, March 2. (NANA)—The insects that hatch in the spring, tra la, will be drafted for the talkies and by fall the great American public, sitting at ease in the movie palaces, may be treated to the thrill of seeing and hearing a grasshopper calling to his mate.

Even now experiments are being made that the private life of the coming generation of bugs may be recorded from the moment the infants step out of the cradle. The regular talkie apparatus is used.

HIS JOB LIKE NOAH'S

Raymond L. Ditmars tells about it, at the New York Zoological Park, where he is curator of mammals and reptiles—a title implying responsibilities similar to those enjoyed by the late Noah during the great damp spell.

D. Ditmars, the only executive in New York whose office is guarded by a hooded cobra from India, will make the sound films, but not at the zoo, where the argument of katydids might be drowned out by a lion's roar. He will operate at his home studio, at Scarsdale, just above the city, where he has all the facilities, and where he can work at night, when insects are most loquacious.

CICADA NOISIEST

"We have been experimenting for some time," said Mr. Ditmars, "and already know pretty well which insects are good talkie artists and which are not. As regards volume, the cicada, that harvest fly that flits about in the trees during August, ranks first. It makes more noise for its size than any other insect.

"Under the body of the cicada, often called a locust, though it isn't, are miniature kettle drums. Insects breathe not through the nose but through valves in the sides of their bodies, and in the case of the cicada

STORM AND SUN MARCH AUGURY

Santa Clara Followers of Ricard Try Hand

Two Rainy Periods in Month Found in Forecast

Cloudy Weather at Start to Clear Tomorrow

SAN JOSE, March 2. (Exclusive) The weather forecast for the month of March as prepared at the University of Santa Clara from the sun-spot method of Father Jerome S. Ricard is:

A succession of stormy periods of several days' duration with short intervening periods of clearing weather.

Heavy rains are predicted for the period between the 12th and 21st inst., and a similar period from the 28th to 30th inst.

CLOUDY WEATHER

The daily forecast is:

March 1, 2, 3,—A series of depressions on the north coast causing cloudiness over practically the whole coast.

March 4—Clearing.

March 5, 6, 7—A repetition of the first three days of the month.

March 8, 9, 10, 11—Clearing weather to be followed by brisk winds.

March 12, 13, 14, 15—An accumulating series of depressions over the upper Northwest and threatening rain all over the coast and far inland; brisk southeast winds to be guarded against.

March 16, 17, 18, 19—Increasing storm on the above dates will cause disturbances over the whole coast and especially around the 18th, with high winds and much rain.

March 20, 21—Storm abating and drifting eastward.

March 22—Clearing.

LIGHT STORMS

March 23, 24, 25—A series of light storms over the Pacific Northwest with brisk south winds; this portion of the country may be affected.

March 26, 27—Beginning to clear along the whole coast.

March 28, 29, 30—A storm of some intensity arriving from the north should disturb California on the 29th inst.

March 31—Clearing.

The first three days of April will be cloudy and unsettled.

PEASANTS DIE UNDER RED FIRE

Declaring that 60 per cent of the peasants are already embraced in collective farms under State control, which farms have produced jointly more than 3,000,000 tons of seed for spring sowing, Stalin pointed out that the very success of the government's rural policy may give rise to overconfidence. He warned soviet village officials and others against too much enthusiasm.

"DRUNK WITH POWER"

"The success we have had may make some party members drunk and cause them to overestimate their strength and underestimate the power of our enemies," says Stalin's statement. "We must take resolute measures against those party members who indulge in adventurous policies and anti-Leninist views and who fail to realise the necessity of consolidating our present achievements in collectivization. We cannot collectivise farms by force. This is foolish and reactionary. Healthy collectivization must be based upon the active support of the bulk of the peasantry."

Stalin pointed out that the government cannot mechanically transplant collective farm construction in developed and undeveloped regions alike and warned that village soviets' efforts at collectivization must be confined to those regions where conditions are favorable for its development. It must not be forced on the peasants in such backward regions as Turkestan and the remote northern provinces, he said.

FORCE NOT NEEDED

"In those regions peasants who don't wish to join collective farms not only have been threatened with armed force, but with attempts to deprive them of water and industrial goods," he said.

The article continues, "Such things are unworthy of our party. They constitute a distinct departure from the established policy of our party. They only lead to the strengthening of our enemies and threaten the destruction of the whole collective farm movement."

LINDBERGHS ARRIVE AT SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2. (AP) Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh arrived at Mills Field here today from Burbank. Col. Lindbergh, saying he is in San Francisco on business connected with the Transcontinental Air Transport, went at once to the home of Thomas B. Eastland, a director of the company.

The flyer touched the wheels of his plane at the Alameda Airport, across San Francisco Bay, before taking off again immediately for Mills Field.

BRAWLEY CLEANS UP DEBRIS

Damage Fixed at Approximately $100,000 After Series of Earthquake Shocks

BRAWLEY, March 2. (Exclusive)—Damage caused here by the four major earthquake shocks and the series of minor temblors which jarred this city yesterday afternoon and last night will not exceed $100,000 according to the estimate made today by City Engineer Park.

Crews of workmen were busy early this morning cleaning debris from the downtown streets and traffic was resumed through the main business section which had been roped off and under guard all night.

Slight quakes were felt throughout the night and this morning but none of them approached the intensity of the shocks at 3:44 and 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon when the greater part of the damage was done.

Thousands of sightseers flocked to the city today to view the wreckage, but in most instances found less damage than had been anticipated. A half dozen stores in the business district where overhead arcades were badly cracked have been roped off.

"Business will be resumed here tomorrow as usual," said Mayor Fluke this morning. "Considering the intensity of the quakes, the city as a whole has escaped with comparatively little damage."

Reports from Mullett Island on the shores of Salton Sea stated that the earthquakes here were accompanied by unusual activity among the mud geysers in that district.

the air is pumped against the membrane so that it vibrates."

"What is the chief subject of conversation among insects?" Mr. Ditmars was asked.

THEY SING OF LOVE

"Ah, love—love that makes the world go round, with them as with us. And sad to relate, it is, among the katydids, too often a case of unrequited love. Males, who do all of the singing in courtship, predominate at the rate of about twenty to one. This means that every lady katydid has twenty suitors, all singing as rivals.

"Only one can win, and the others sing in vain, yet hope springs eternal in the katydid's breast, and he continues his serenade clear into life's autumn, which coincides with the fall of the year. He never gives up. Something rather magnificent about it, isn't there?"

SOME INSECTS FIDDLERS

The cricket, says Mr. Ditmars, is an exception to the generalization about love. The trilling effect here is martial music. Not love, but war, makes the crickets articulate. They square off and blow their trumpets, as it were, and then fight.

Such life habits will be described by Dr. Ditmars, in his own voice, in lectures accompanying the talkies of insects, whether calling hopelessly for mates, or in battle. Some grasshoppers and katydids are instrumentalists, not singers. They rub the edges of their wings together, creating a sharp, rasping sound. They are in a class with fiddlers, and are first-rate for talkies. A symphony orchestra of insects is one of Dr. Ditmar's dreams.

the Prince had chills and it was decided to take him back to civilization immediately.

The Prince has been in superb general condition, which should enable him to shake off the fever quickly. He has been free from serious illness all his life and with inoculations on shipboard has tried to take precautions against tropical disease. The last time he was ill at all was in 1924, when he underwent an ear operation to remedy an after-effect of influenza. Otherwise he has been troubled by nothing worse than minor accidents on the hunting field.

AMERICA CALM IN NAVAL LULL

Optimism Marks Delay in Five-Power Parley

"We Are Here Till We Reach Accord," Says Adams

London Speech Broadcast Over Columbia Chain

NEW YORK, March 2. (AP)—Expressing optimism over the outcome of the five-power naval conference at London, Secretary of the Navy Adams, a delegate to the conference, today told an international radio audience that "we are here to sit" until a settlement is reached.

He said the conference has been delayed by the fall of the French government, but nothing has been lost except time, and when the French return they will start where they left off. A few days more or less spent in discussion is nothing as compared to the value of arriving at the agreement, he said.

"It does not cost as much to keep this whole delegation in session as it does to maintain one small cruiser," he added.

BROADCAST FROM LONDON

Secretary Adams spoke from London and his words were carried over the network of the Columbia Broadcasting System to radio listeners in the United States and Canada.

"The interests of peace and the interests of the Navy are the same," he asserted. "I don't mean to say that it isn't possible for a nation to build so large a Navy as to breed the fears that provoke war, it is. Also it is possible to have so feeble a navy as to provoke the indignities that likewise lead to war.

"There is between these two a point at which a nation's navy breeds serenity at home and no suspicion abroad. We are endeavoring to fix that point for five kinds of ships in five different navies. It is a complicated job, but we have made progress."

PROGRESS SUMMARIZED

Summarizing the progress made, he said: "We have got pretty well by the difficulties arising from the question of whether a navy should be limited by total tonnage or by the tonnage of each kind of ship;" and he pointed to the agreement for a treaty governing the use of submarines against merchant vessels.

"We have presented our suggestions of relative programs for our navy, the British and Japanese, and those nations have likewise presented theirs to us. The French have presented their figures and the Italians theirs. As you know, we ourselves and the British are not far apart. We believe that we and the Japanese are coming nearer to an understanding.

ONLY TIME HAS BEEN LOST

"The reconciliation of British, French and Italians has been delayed by the fall of the French government," but nothing has been lost by that except time.

"We have as much time as anybody and America can afford to show patience, for it is well to remember that several of the other nations represented here have more complicated problems of security than we have and a few days more or less is nothing compared with the value of arriving at a solution in a calm and unruffled state of mind."

Earlier in his speech Secretary Adams said that the naval vessels built by the United States since 1922 constitute "probably the smallest amount of building of any first-class navy on record for an eight-year period."

SHIPS GROW OLD

"We are now coming to, if we are not actually at the time," he continued, "when the replacement of aging vessels is upon us, for ships grow old like other engines and machinery.

"The question before us is on what scale are the replacements and building for the future to be. The United States believes in the limitation of naval armaments by agreement between nations . . .

"Our task here in London is to fix our program in a proper relation to the programs of other nations and to get all programs fixed as low as is compatible with sense and efficiency."

"The Navy," the Secretary said, "asks the American people's support in two things—approval of the lowest limit that can be achieved here consistent with the programs of other nations and with our needs; and secondly, the approval of necessary expenditures to build the ships that are agreed upon."

SECOND TARDIEU CABINET READY

Approval of Selections Given by Doumergue

Introduction to Chamber Set for Wednesday

Nearly All of Party Groups Represented

PARIS, March 2. (AP)—Premier Tardieu's second Cabinet was officially constituted and approved by President Doumergue this morning and he will introduce it to the Chamber of Deputies Wednesday. If he gets a vote of confidence he will probably send the French delegation back to the London naval conference Thursday. He himself, however, will have to postpone his departure.

All the groups in Parliament except the Socialists and the Communists are represented in the new ministry. There are even a Cabinet Minister and an Undersecretary of State from the Radical Socialist party, whose leaders, Camille Chautemps, Edouard Herriot and Edouard Daladier, are bitter enemies of Premier Tardieu.

The general impression in parliamentary circles is that though M. Tardieu has not been wholly successful in forming the Cabinet of "wide republican concentration" he desired, his second ministry is one of the most representative from the parliamentary viewpoint that has governed France in recent years.

Owing to the general public dissatisfaction with the two recent political crises, the Ministry has a good chance of weathering the storm in the Chamber Wednesday.

Premier Tardieu's adversaries affirm that they are as strongly opposed to him as ever, but his friends believe he will succeed in splitting the vote in the Radical Socialists' ranks and get enough votes for a working majority.

RADICAL SOCIALISTS

Jacques-Louis Dumesnil, Minister of Marine, and Henri Falcoz, Undersecretary of State for Public Works, are both Radical Socialists. It is pointed out that, though they are supporting the Premier as individuals and are acting contrary to the orders of their group, their personal friends and followers will probably vote for the ministry.

Le Temps, which is pro-Tardieu, said today, "Premier Tardieu has formed a Cabinet in which nearly all the parliamentary groups are represented."

The radical newspaper Paris-Soir, which opposes Tardieu says: "The second Tardieu ministry leans more toward the Right than his first, but, owing to the long drawn-out crisis, it may survive the storm that wrecked the Chautemps Cabinet."

TUNNEL MAY AID NAVY PACT

England and France Have to Reach Accord to Put Through Channel Tube Project

(Copyright, 1930, by the Chicago Tribune)

LONDON, March 2. (Exclusive)—Favorable considerations by the British government toward the scheme of constructing a channel tunnel linking Dover and Calais, may overcome the French demands for a huge navy which thus far have deadlocked the naval conference.

Boring tubes beneath the channel, linking up England and France, will necessarily require a political agreement between the two governments, and such an accord implies military co-operation, principally by their naval forces, which is expected to go a long way toward giving the Paris government the secondary guarantee pact that Andre Tardieu demands as the price for reducing French naval tonnage.

BACKING FOR PLAN

The British channel tunnel committee's report was completed recently, and is being examined by Prime Minister MacDonald during this week-end at Chequers. There is a possibility that it will be discussed Monday at a Cabinet meeting.

Although the report is strictly secret, it has been learned that it carries no recommendations against the scheme, and it is known that Mr. MacDonald, Lord Privy Seal Thomas, and other members of the Labor government, are in favor of the plan.

Mr. Thomas, who also is Minister in charge of unemployment, will make a statement Tuesday in the House of Commons in regard to the tunnel.

FRENCH WILLING

French Ambassador De Fleuriau, has stated:

"The French government is ready, whenever the British government is ready to take the matter in hand to make all of the necessary arrangements."

The French government has always been a strong advocate for boring the tunnel, and shafts already have been sunk and nearly two miles of tubes have been constructed from Sangette, near Calais. Paris holds the viewpoint that the completion of the channel tunnel will automatically force the British to negotiate a defensive alliance to protect it at its continental end, and it has been considered that the tunnel's safeguards would be the French army and the British navy.

GIVES $3.50 TRUSS TO RUPTURED MEN

Pay No Money, Now or Ever, For This Truss, Says Doctor-Inventor.

Kansas City, Mo.—In order to introduce a method that has helped thousands upon thousands of ruptured folks, Dr. Andrew Kaiser, well-known Hernia Expert, offers to give a $3.50 truss to any ruptured person. His newer method does away with leg straps, elastic belts and cruel binding springs. Many people, some with very bad ruptures, have declared it brought them quick improvement and freedom from the hampering and discomfort of previous truss wearing. By its proper holding it gives Nature a chance to strengthen and build up the weakened tissues and muscles and thus has assisted in making many cures of reducible rupture. The method is sent on 30 days' trial. If it does not help your rupture—return it, with no cost for the trial. The $3.50 truss is yours just for making this trial. If ruptured, write today to Dr. Andrew Kaiser, 1813 Koch Bldg., 2906 Main St., Kansas City, Mo., for his free offer.—[Advertisement.

OAKDALE, March 2. (AP)—Before a huge audience at Oakdale's fourth annual almond blossom festival, Buron Fitts, District Attorney of Los Angeles, today made his first public address since he announced his candidacy for Governor.

Fitts urged his fellow Legionnaires to continue their patriotic efforts on behalf of good government, stressing the importance of the duty of suffrage.

"There is no question of the patriotism of the American people in war," Fitts said. "In every national crisis they stand solidly behind the government. America needs most this same patriotism in peace time, but finds only indifference and apathy on the part of the average citizen.

NEW PROBLEMS

"The attitude of the average citizen is that all problems of government were found and solved in the time of Washington, Lincoln and Roosevelt. There are just as many pressing problems today. Aviation, radio and the automobile have brought the American people together and contributed a greater strain upon government.

"You can have any type of government in the nation or State that you want, but the people should go and get it when election time comes. The average citizen is too busy playing golf or fishing when he should be at the polls."

Replying to political criticism of his methods in Los Angeles, Fitts showed crime statistics during his six years in office with those immediately preceding that period.

Fitts urged the segregation of gangsters from other criminals as one part of his crime-relief program. He advocated that young lawbreakers be placed in separate institutions and trained in useful trades and professions.

Regal Romance at End

Queen Souriya of Afghanistan, whose modernization campaign led to rebellion, and King Amanullah, who is returning to throne without her.

AFGHAN QUEEN DESERTED

King Amanullah Chooses Return to Throne Rather Than Remain Exiled With Unpopular Wife

[Copyright, 1930, by the Chicago Tribune]

LONDON, March 2. (Exclusive)—The story of Amanullah Khan's loss of the throne of Afghanistan affects a woman's influence on the ruler—the woman of course being Queen Souriya whose influence on her royal husband had much to do with Amanullah's modernization campaign. The story is about to have a sequel which will be the end of the royal romance. Amanullah apparently cannot have both his wife and his throne. He will choose the throne.

Queen Souriya was left behind in Europe when Amanullah went to Istanbul to await the call to return to Kabul. The reason for his hostility toward her is Afghanistan. It is almost certain that she will never return to her husband. They are separated as completely now as a Moslem couple can be without an actual divorce and that is likely to follow. Nor will anyone be surprised if the news of the final separation is closely followed by Souriya's conversion to Catholicism.

Queen Souriya was educated in a Roman Catholic convent and her tendency is toward Christianity. She would have been contented with Islamism if she had been able to bring about the changes in that religion which she believes necessary to make it consistent with modern conditions but her effort to do that through her husband ended in his ruin. Priests used prejudice against Souriya, particularly against her religious tendencies, to whip up religious fanaticism against Amanullah's whole reform program. No scandal about her was too ridiculous to be spread and it was believed in Afghanistan. One bit of propaganda widely circulated was a large composite photo of a nude dancer to which Souriya's head had been added with a caption explaining that she danced in that fashion in European capitals.

Jirgah has just been held at which the people demanded the return of Amanullah. Nadir Khan, the present King, will be retained as Prime Minister. His first advice on matters of state will be that Souriya remain in Europe and so Amanullah will return minus his queen to resume the program of modernization, although the anti-Moslem features which made Souriya so unwelcome in Afghanistan.

PRIEST GETS FLOGGING AT NOTRE DAME

Student Faces Charge of Lashing Official as Result of "Prom" Ejection

SOUTH BEND (Ind.) March 2. (AP) Rev. J. Allan Heiser, off-campus director of Notre Dame University, is recovering from wounds inflicted with a "black snake" lash in his office yesterday, for which a graduate student, Harold N. Simpson, 21 years of age, of Oak Park, Ill., faces a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill.

Ejection of Simpson from the university junior promenade Friday night is said to have led to the attack.

Father Heiser told police Simpson had no ticket to the dance, that the young woman companion of Simpson already had entered the ballroom, and that the student climbed a fire escape attempting to enter, setting off an alarm warning the management of intruders. It was then, the priest related, that he had Simpson taken to jail.

The youth went to Heiser's office yesterday and started an argument. Suddenly, the priest said, Simpson produced the whip and began lashing at him, while he struggled and called for help.

Simpson's bond was set at $5000.

POWDER THEFTS AROUSE ALARM

Police Fear It May be Used in Thursday Riots

Guards Placed at Plants Throughout New York

Communist Factions Clash in Battle Royal

NEW YORK, March 2. (Exclusive)—With Communist riots continuing here today discovery of the second wholesale theft of explosives in ten days prompted authorities to place police guards at every powder storage place in the city. Ninety sticks of dynamite were taken from a construction company's storage warehouse. Police fear the explosives may be used at the international Communist mass demonstration on Thursday.

The Red riot today—the third in a row—took place at Tuxedo Hall. It began when rival factions of the Communist party began swinging chairs and tables in a private battle and ended after forty police and detectives arrived. The two Red wings united against a common enemy, but the police won, the hall was wrecked, several heads were cracked and five more "martyrs" were arrested.

INVADERS ENTER

The American Communist party—left wing—was meeting in memory of its founder, C. E. Ruthenberg. More than 200 men and women were grouped in the hall. They had paid 25 cents each to enter. Six policemen stood just outside the door. B. D. Wolff, chairman, rapped for order.

It was then that twenty husky members of the official Communist party and several shrieking women rushed past the policemen and attacked the left wingers. They did not pay 25 cents apiece to get in.

It was a fine fight while it lasted, but the invaders were badly outnumbered and soon ejected. The call went out for reinforcements—Communist reinforcements—and soon there was a crowd of fifty or more outside the hall.

POLICE TAKE HAND

They stormed the hall a second time, and the six policemen present sent out their call for reinforcements. With the arrival of forty reserves, the singing, kicking, clawing Reds were separated and five of them were taken to jail charged with "assault upon an officer." The others had vanished in cellars, around corners and in their favorite hideaways. Two cops were treated by ambulance surgeons, one of them suffering from a spine injury.

The three-cornered eye-blacking contest started as a "solidarity" meeting. It was advertised as "a united Communist movement" and was attended by expelled members of the regular Communist party, known as the "Lovestone group."

"You are not a real Communist," shouted the leader of the invading force to a man on the speaker's stand.

"Oh, yeah?" responded the orator.

Then folding chairs instead of words began to fly.

During the "second invasion" fighting was general both in the hall and down below in the street. Several of the street rioters were cut by glass falling from the battle scene upstairs.

VOLCANOES IN NORTH TO BE STUDIED

Expedition to Check Up on Mother Nature Doctoring Own Wounds in Alaska

WASHINGTON, March 2. (Exclusive)—To trace the steps by which Mother Earth heals the great wounds caused by volcanic eruptions, the National Geographic Society will send an expedition to Alaska during the coming summer.

The party which will be led by Dr. Robert F. Griggs will work over the territory around Katmai volcano and the famous Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes which Dr. Griggs discovered while leading the society's expedition of 1916. The valley at that time was a seething inferno of hot rocks and acid gases. After the discovery of the valley the National Geographic Society sent two expeditions to study the interesting physical phenomena that had been disclosed, the latest one in 1919. It is now desired to note the various changes that may have taken place during the last eleven years.

GEM SALE FUROR IRKS ARCHDUKE

Napoleonic Necklace, Sold for $60,000, Not Worth More, Says Austrian

NEW YORK, March 2. (AP)—The Archduke Leopold of Austria, who was subpoenaed to appear tomorrow before Dist.-Atty. Crain for questioning about sale of a diamond necklace originally made for Napoleon's Empress Maria Louisa to a New York jeweler, today said he can see "no necessity for this excitement."

Valued, intact, at $400,000, the forty-seven diamonds were sold without their setting to D. M. Michel, Fifth-avenue jeweler, for $60,000. The sale was made with the Archduke as witness, by Charles L. Townsend, former British secret service officer, who represented the Austrian Archduchess Maria Louisa, who owned the necklace.

"The diamonds were sold for $60,000," the Archduke, her nephew, said, "which is all they are worth. My aunt will get the money and also the ancient silver setting for the diamonds, which, because of its historic value, is worth a lot more than the stones themselves.

"Townsend tried to sell the necklace for months, and having power of attorney for my aunt, he could have sold it for $1 if he wanted to.

"Its value is in the silver setting and, as a matter of fact, I'd just as soon have one of Napoleon's shirts."

The investigation into the sale by the District Attorney was brought about by Mrs. Anna Eisenmenger, who asserted the power of attorney granted Townsend had been revoked before the sale was made and that she now is the legal representative of the Archduchess.

Edge Welcomed at Paris Dinner

PARIS, March 2. (AP)—Ambassador Walter E. Edge and Mrs. Edge received a magnificent welcome tonight from French and American society people at a dinner followed by a reception and a ball offered in their honor by the Comite France-Amerique. This organization, numbering several thousand members, is devoted to the promotion of good relations between France and North and South America.

All the members of the Latin-American Diplomatic Corps as well as Philippe Roy, Canadian Minister, were present.

THIRTEEN DIAMONDS JUST HOODOO TO WIFE

CHICAGO, March 2. (AP)—The woman who held thirteen diamonds and did not take a trick wants a divorce.

The divorce bill, filed in behalf of Mrs. Lila Grey Colyer, tells of a bridge game in April, 1928, in which Mrs. Colyer and her husband, Edwin C. Colyer, who takes his bridge seriously, were partners.

The Colyers were slightly behind. On a hand for game and rubber Mrs. Colyer drew thirteen diamonds. As they say over the radio, West (the dealer) bid a heart, Colyer (north) passed, east bid a spade and Mrs. Colyer (south) made it a no trump. She finally got the bid at six no trump. Since her opponents led first and she could never get in the lead, Mrs. Colyer lost every trick.

When the last card had been played and Colyer saw that his wife had held all the diamonds (here's where she charges cruelty,) he picked up the nearest thing—a cut-glass grapefruit bowl—reached across the table and hit her.

Effects of Guggenheim Fund Contest Summarized

Fool-proof Ship May Never be Attained, Says Report

Curtiss Company Receives $100,000 Winner's Check

NEW YORK, March 2. (AP)—The "fool-proof" airplane, the Daniel Guggenheim Fund Committee said today, hasn't been made as yet and probably never will be. But there has been progress in insuring safety of flying, the committee asserted in making public its final report on the international safe-aircraft competition.

The fund, established four years ago by Daniel Guggenheim with $2,500,000, officially went out of existence February 1, although there still is some money to be distributed as endowments among colleges. Both principal and interest of the fund eventually will be entirely distributed.

The safe-aircraft competition, in which twenty-seven entries were made, ended January 1 and January 6. The Curtiss Airplane and Motor Company was presented a check for $100,000 as winner of first prize with its Curtiss Tanager.

In summarizing the results of the test today, the committee, headed by Orville Wright as chairman, said the following evolutionary safety devices had been proved practicable:

Automatic leading edge slots, flaps either automatically or manually controlled, floating ailerons, long stroke oleo landing gear with provision for locking in the position assumed under load, extreme range adjustable stabilizer and independent brakes on each wheel which aid in ground maneuvers.

GREAT RADIUM MINE DISCOVERY REPORTED

PRAGUE (Czecho-Slovakia) March 2. (AP)—Discovery of a new radium mine between Joachimsthal and Karlsbad was reported today. Technicians estimate the new source to be more important than that at Joachimsthal.

CRIME SURVEY REPORT MADE

Review of 400 Cities Covers Month of January

Chicago Heads Murder List With Twenty-seven

Figures on Various Offenses to Be Analyzed

WASHINGTON, March 2. (AP)—The first report of a survey of the trend and characteristics of crime that has been undertaken by the International Association of Chiefs of Police has been placed in the hands of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The report, covering the month of January, recorded offenses committed during that month in 400 cities of forty-three States.

Bruce Smith of the committee on uniform crime records who filed the report with the Senate committee, said that through the reports that will be gathered it will be possible to analyze the fluctuation, character and distribution of reported offenses.

OFFENSES CLASSED

"Of the reportable offenses," Smith said, referring to the report for January, "murder, manslaughter by negligence, grave assault, robbery, burglary, larceny over and under $50, and automobile theft, the two groups of larceny account for more than one-third of the offenses reported.

"Automobile thefts constitute about one-fourth of the total, with burglary next in line. The total burglaries exceed the number of robberies in the ratio of almost three to one, robbery and homicide which represent the crime wave in the public mind, represent only 9 per cent of the total of reportable offenses, and, of course, only an infinitesimal part of the much larger total which would be obtained if minor offenses were included.

NEW YORK NOT COVERED

"As the first reports on crime are for the month of January, no comparisons can be made," he added, explaining that this will be done with later reports.

The report does not cover New York City nor Philadelphia. Of the cities reporting, Chicago led with twenty-seven murders or negligent manslaughter cases; Detroit had eleven of these; Birmingham, Ala., six; Los Angeles, six; Jacksonville, Fla., six; Kansas City, Kan., three; Baltimore, five; Kansas City, Mo., eight; St. Louis, eight; Newark, N. J., five; Charlotte, N. C., four; Cleveland, five, and Milwaukee, one.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

POR EL PROFESOR R. GUERRERO
Encargado de la Sección Española de Este Diario

Cita el señor Cuervo estos ejemplos más, que prueban que se ha hecho común en España el uso impropio de ese "no" intruso, que se intercala en algunas oraciones en que figura la preposición "hasta": "No se dará punto de descanso hasta que no haya conseguido la venganza" (F. de Castro, "Trad. de la Historia de los musulmanes españoles" de Dozy, tomo I, p. 43): "Yo no desconfío hasta no probarlo" (Galdós, "Gloria", tomo I, p. 110); "Hasta que no llegue a Tanger no estoy tranquilo" (A. de Castro, "Estudios prácticos de buen decir", p. 219); "Hasta que no vuelva mi madre, ha de parecer como si no hubiese nadie en esta casa sino yo y el Sr. D. Andrés" (Valera, "Juanita la Larga", p. 281); "Estoy resuelto — Hasta que usted no me esuche, — A no abandonar el puesto" (Núñez de Arce, "Deudas de la honra", acto III, esc. III).

A. de Castro emplea adrede el giro del antepenúltimo lugar citado en el párrafo anterior, giro que es popular en Andalucía: "Hasta que no t'emborrachas — No bienes en busca mía; — O jalay t'emborracharas — Toitas las horas del día" ("Cantos populares españoles", tomo II, p. 320). Y lo emplea para citar el siguiente lugar de Sigüenza, que copiamos más extensamente: "Con más hermoso modo de filosofar nos dijo las condiciones desta media edad que falta (vivenla muy pocos hombres) el Espíritu Santo por Salomón en el Eclesiastés: Acuérdate de tu criador, dice, en dias de tu juventud, hasta que no vengan dias de mal, y lleguen años que digas: No a mi en ellos voluntad, hasta que no escurezca el sol y la luz, la luna y las estrellas, y tornen las nubes despues de la lluvia. Es manera de hablar entre los hebreos para decir en tanto que esto no sucede, decir "hasta que no" ("Vida de S. Jerónimo, lib. VI, proem., p. 733, Madrid, 1595). Lo cierto es que la particula hebrea reúne los dos significados de "hasta" y "mientras", y en la traducción pudo ponerse el último. Dicho se está que aquí tan sólo se trata de una versión literal, y no de un uso común en aquel tiempo. La edición original del Quijote de Avellaneda (Tarragona, 1614) trae este pasaje: "Y assi resueluanse en que no passare adelante con mi cuento, ni lo puedo hazer con buena conciencia que los ganssos no esten de vno en vno, dessotra parte del rio" (cap. XXI, fol. 187 V.) El editor o impresor moderno, extrañando la locución "que no", igual al latin "quin", no halló otro modo de acomodar la frase a su capacidad, que encajar el "hasta": "hasta que los gansos no estén" (Bibl. de Rivad., tomo XVIII, p. 66).

En América este uso no es de ayer: por lo que hace a Colombia, aparece ya en un cuaderno manuscrito anterior por lo menos al año de 1781, como que en él se llama todavía San Ignacio la iglesia de San Carlos. Un artículo de la Constitución de Angostura (1819) dice: "Ningún proyecto de ley se entenderá sancionado, ni será ley del Estado, hasta que no haya sido firmado por el Poder Ejecutivo"; y recordamos haber visto igual modo de decir en cartas escritas de Londres por Bello a D. José Manuel Restrepo.

Entre los judíos de Levante, "hasta" se ha hecho sinónimo de "mientras", como se ve en estos refranes de la colección de Kayserling: "Bati al hierro hasta que está caliente" (p. 10); "No hables mal del dia hasta que no anochese" (p. 11); "No llames a tu hija bella hasta que no quita sarampión y viruela" (p. 16); "Non mi creo hasta que no lo veo" (p 18); "El cántaro va al agua hasta que non se rompe" (p. 6).

"Y ahora, ¿por qué llora, mamita?", pregunta Celia a su mamá, refiriéndose a su hermanito de teta, que ha dado en no dormir y en llorar a todas horas. Es muy común en España el diminutivo "mamita"; en América dicen más bien "mamacita".

Y ya que de verter lágrimas hablamos, bien será que recordemos algunas frases castellanas en que se trae a cuento lo del llanto: Con el aforismo que dice que "el que no llora no mama" damos a entender que para lograr una cosa conviene pedirla. "Llora llorando" es un modo adverbial que significa "sin dejar de llorar". "A pesar de los lloriqueos", "gimoteando o haciendo pucheros"; "Celia, llora llorando, pidió perdón a su mamá por haberla desobedecido". "Lléname sólo y no me llores pobre" es refrán que explica que no es tan deplorable verse pobre como verse aislado y sin tener uno quien le favorezca. Las frases figuradas "llorar a lágrima viva" y "llorar lágrimas de sangre" no requieren explicación, como tampoco el adagio "lágrimas ablandan peñas". "Lágrimas de cocodrilo" son las que vierte una persona aparentando un dolor que no siente. "Beberse uno las lágrimas" es contenerlas haciendo un supremo esfuerzo. "En cojera de perro y en lágrimas de mujer no hay que creer" es refrán que aconseja desconfiar de manifestaciones demasiado expresivas. "Anegarse uno en llanto" es lo mismo que "llorar a lágrima viva", y "el llanto sobre el difunto" es expresión figurada y familiar que recomienda se hagan las cosas a tiempo y oportunamente, sin dejar pasar la ocasión.

THOUSANDS OF HAITIANS ASSEMBLE

Great Self-Government Demonstration Follows Religious Services

PORT - AU - PRINCE (Haiti) March 2. (AP)—In an orderly and impressive demonstration for the restoration of self-government, 15,000 Haitians tonight gathered around the monument to the negro revolutionist Jean Jacques Dessalines in the square of the Champs de Mars. The demonstration was preceded by a great religious service at the Church of the Sacred Heart, in the aristocratic quarter of the city.

The members of President Hoover's investigation committee approved of the demonstration, and after receiving a report that the gardes might stop it, ordered that under no circumstances should the authorities interfere.

The Archbishop of Haiti announced that today, usually the beginning of the annual carnival season, should be set aside for prayers all over the country for the success of the Hoover commission's work and for the restoration of legislative institutions in Haiti.

CHARGES IN FOX VOTE ROW FLY

Fight for Proxies Becomes Three-Sided Affair

Pleas to Stockholders Sound Contradictory Stories

Film Man Accused and Likewise Accuser

NEW YORK, March 2. (Exclusive)—Charges and counter-charges were hurled about as three appeals for proxies to vote at the stockholders' meeting on Wednesday, which is scheduled to choose between the various refinancing plans suggested for the Fox Film Corporation and the Fox Theater Corporation were issued by three parties to the controversy today.

In his plea to the stockholders, William Fox repeats his previous assertions that the objective of the Halsey-Stuart and American Telegraph and Telephone interests is to drive the companies into a receivership. The plea issued by the latter interests denies this charge and counters with an assertion that "the fact is that the trustees were obliged to make concession to Mr. Fox's desires in order to forestall his avowed purpose of placing the company in the hands of a receiver, which he repeatedly and constantly threatened to do."

THE THIRD APPEAL

The third appeal was issued by Emory Buckner, counsel for an independent stockholders' committee and while it speaks disparagingly of the past actions of both William Fox and his present adversaries, it praises the same reorganization plan which the Fox statement pleads with the stockholders to support. This is the plan submitted by the banking group comprised of Bancamerica, Blair & Co., Lehman Brothers and Dillon, Read & Co.

Fox charges in his statement that, while the Halsey-Stuart group is telling the stockholders it wishes their proxies to vote for any plan which is in the best interests of the stockholders, "in point of fact they want to use that proxy to vote for their own plan and against the one that has been approved by the directors and fully underwritten by the Bancamerica group." In his plea for support of that latter group's plan, Fox informs the stockholders of two instances last week in which those bankers came to the company's rescue with money sufficient to save its 250,000 shares of Loew stock and its $20,000,000 of stock in its English subsidiary.

CHARGES RAP FOX

Despite definite charges in the Fox statement that the Halsey-Stuart group has been endeavoring to buy his majority Class B stock at a considerably greater figure than the remaining Class B stockholders would receive under the first reorganization scheme proposed, the Halsey-Stuart statement says, "Any assertion that there is a fight for control of the company is not based upon facts.

"There are, however, "the statement continues, "millions of dollars at stake which were invested in good faith and it is our intention to protect this money by every means at our command."

The complaint is made in the statement that "Mr. Fox has repudiated the trust agreement. He has likewise repudiated contracts which entitle us to preferred rights to finance these properties. He indicates that he intends to repudiate another contract to pay us compensation which we earned and which he voluntarily agreed to pay." In concluding with its appeal to the stockholders to sign proxies for H. L. Stuart and John E. Otterson, the statement pledges "these men to vote only for the plan most advantageous to stockholders."

DOMINICAN PRESIDENT QUITS POST

Vasquez Politically and Physically Broken After Bloodless Revolt Defeat

SANTO DOMINGO (Dominican Republic) March 2. (AP)—President Vasquez, for thirty years a dominant figure in the Dominican republic, resigned office with his Cabinet today, and tomorrow Gen. Urena, leader of the insurgent movement against him, will take the oath of office as provisional President and form a new Cabinet.

Ex-President Vasquez lay in a hospital tonight politically and physically a broken man.

Practically all the revolutionists, numbering perhaps 2000, had returned home today or were on their way.

They accomplished swiftly and bloodlessly a change of government believed to be almost without precedent in any Caribbean country, where revolution and election are frequently synonymous.

Catholic Men Assail Films

SPOKANE (Wash.) March 2. (AP) Resolutions assailing "immoral" motion-picture shows and news-stand literature were passed here today by 500 Roman Catholic men of the Holy Name societies.

Other resolutions urged that members check profanity and practice the duties of citizenship. Joseph Lavin, attorney, chief speaker at the rally, condemned certain dance halls and women's styles.

ELINOR SMITH DELAYS HER ALTITUDE FLIGHT

ROOSEVELT FIELD (N. Y.) March 2. (AP)—Miss Elinor Smith today postponed her proposed attempt to break the women's altitude record. Her decision was the result of the difficulty of getting a barograph which will register more than 20,000 feet. She said she expects to obtain such a barograph tomorrow, and plans to make the altitude attempt Tuesday.

CATHOLIC HOUR BROADCAST

Weekly Program Begins on Nation-wide Network; Cardinal Hayes Officiates at Opening

NEW YORK, March 2. (AP)—The national Catholic hour, a religious program to be broadcast every Sunday at 6 p.m. over the National Broadcasting Company's network, was begun tonight under the auspices of the National Council of Catholic Men.

Cardinal Hayes of New York inaugurated the hour. He said it was "a very distinct privilege to be invited to dedicate this radio hour to the exposition of Catholic faith and to the spiritual and material well-being of our country." He added the hour is one of service to America which he is sure will listen interestedly "to the voice of the ancient church."

TOPIC OF DAY

"Never before," he said, "has the subject of religion been so widely discussed as at the present time. In happy contrast to nations that have banned religion, as Russia is doing today, our own country stands for liberty of conscience and freedom of worship."

Rt. Rev. Joseph Schrembs, Bishop of Cleveland, followed Cardinal Hayes, speaking on the "Meaning and Necessity of Religion." A musical program was given by the Paulist choristers.

Bishop Schrembs said the world is in "the throes of a mighty struggle" between good and evil, vice and virtue.

"Spiritual rebellion," he said, "has run its course until today there seems no single truth that has not been assailed and denied, no authority, either human or divine, that has not been rejected or cried down.

"Licentiousness stares at us from the public streets of our cities, and

INDIFFERENCE CITED

"The remorse of old, opening the way to repentance when the day of corrupt passion was done, is today lulled to a fatal sleep by a spirit of indifference and apathy in matters of religion."

Bishop Schrembs then called on history, science and philosophy to show there is a God and concluded, "Religion is a dictate of man's reason, a necessity of man's nature. Religion is necessary for the individual, for the family, for time, for eternity."

Cardinal Hayes, in his address, paid a tribute to Bishop Schrembs for his "wise counsel and apostolic leadership in making this evening possible."

WHEAT POLICY CHANGE LAUDED

Agricultural Leaders Voice Their Satisfaction

Legge Confident That Move Will Prove Helpful

Exchange and Farm Union Approval General

CHICAGO, March 2. (AP)—A general feeling of satisfaction was expressed by agricultural leaders today concerning the suspension of the Wheat Stabilization Corporation's policy of paying the loan-basis value for wheat.

Chairman Legge of the Federal Farm Board, who announced the change in policy late yesterday after officials of the Farm Board, the Farmers' National Grain Corporation and the Wheat Stabilization Corporation had met with Secretary of Agriculture Hyde in a closed conference, said today he firmly believes the move will prove "helpful."

"Suspension of the arbitrary loan price basis established last fall," he said, "will relieve the panicky feeling and stabilize the entire grain industry."

CHANGE ACCLAIMED

The new policy, welcomed at many points in the grain belt, was acclaimed at the Omaha Grain Exchange and Farmers' Union headquarters.

"The decision was the only ultimate solution of the wheat-marketing situation," Hugh A. Butler, president of the Omaha Exchange, declared. "The Farm Board needs the co-operation of the grain men. They own the elevators whose storage space must be used if the stabilization program is to be effective. The regular grain exchanges do not fear Federal competition in grain marketing if such competition is on a business basis."

CAUSE OF RELIEF

L. S. Harron, editor of the Nebraska Union Farmer, said the Farm Board's move will relieve the feeling of hundreds of Nebraska farmers who believed they were being forced into affiliation with the grain corporation.

John A. Bunnell, president of the Chicago Board of Trade, asserted he has no comment or criticism to offer, but his organization will "go along with the new policy."

C. B. Steward of Lincoln, Neb., president of the Farmers' West-Central Grain Co-operative, Inc., said he thinks the discontinuance of the buying of grain on a loan basis will stop the congestion at the terminals and help protect the co-operatives.

BYRD SHIP WHIPPED BY HEAVY SEA

City of New York Battles Storm After Crossing Antarctic Circle

BY JOE DE GANAHL

[Copyright, 1930, by Los Angeles Times, New York Times Company and St. Louis Post Dispatch. All rights for publication reserved throughout the world.]

ON BOARD THE BARK CITY OF NEW YORK (At Sea) March 3. (Exclusive)—The City of New York passed the Antarctic Circle yesterday afternoon and today is running before a strong gale at a speed of nine knots, the best time she has made. The wind reached a velocity of sixty-five miles an hour during the night, whipping up a heavy following sea.

Gasoline drums stored against the bulkhead of Admiral Byrd's quarters broke loose early this morning, but the watch was able to secure them again before any damage was done. Eight drums had to be thrown overboard a few hours later to insure the safety of the ship.

It was a busy night for the watch. All square sail had been set early in the evening but as the wind increased Capt. Melville was forced to shorten sail and put out oil bags. The sea was breaking over the ship and she was rolling and pitching heavily. Fortunately the dangerous deck cargo of dog crates had been transferred to the whalers three days before. It was in anticipation of just such a storm as this that they were moved.

A warm sun was melting the ice from the rigging when the bark, under steam and sail, crossed the circle yesterday. It was the first time in fourteen months that Admiral Byrd and the twenty-eight members of the Byrd party had been in the temperate zone. The temperature is rising and we are beginning to realize that our adventure is nearly over. Hats and gloves are no longer necessary. Darkness comes regularly, a welcome relief to the continuous day and night in which we have been living. We are warm and everyone is glad.

Stunt Flyer's 'Circus' Leads to Grounding

DALLAS (Tex.) March 2. (AP)—Lon Hay, Los Angeles stunt flyer, yesterday was prohibited for one year from flying an army airplane by the decision of an Army flyers' board of inquiry which censured him for putting on a "one-man aerial circus" over Love Field, Dallas municipal airport, Thursday.

Army flyers charged that he went aloft in an army plane and despite previous warnings maneuvered the ship through various stunts directly over the field. An altercation resulted when he was ordered to the ground by a staff sergeant.

Hay is said to have figured in several stunt flying scenes filmed for war-time aviation motion pictures.

FARM PRACTICES HELPED

STATE COLLEGE (Pa.) March 2. (AP)—A total of 247,021 improved farm and home practices resulted from extension work of Pennsylvania State College last year, says Prof. J. M. Fry, director. Dairy husbandry, with 42,782 practices adopted, led the list. Home economics was second with 32,563.

NEWS OF MIDDLE WEST

INDIANA

Dispatches from South Bend say three St. Joseph county banks failed in twenty-four hours, the State Bank of Tyner, State Bank of Walkerton and Farmers' State Bank at Lapaz. Generally unsound business conditions are given as the reason.

A $100,000 gift to the Indiana University law school by Margaret Magee and Mary Magee Stewart of Logansport, heirs of the late Rufus Magee, former Ambassador to Sweden, has been announced.

Ira B. Bugbee, 74 years of age, resident of Indianapolis for fifty-seven years and for many years in the lumber and coal business, is dead.

Mrs. Emma E. Watkins, 96, one of the oldest and most widely known residents, died at her home in Goshen.

MINNESOTA

Protests against maintenance of a high-water stage at Winona under the Federal government's plan to provide a nine-foot channel in the Mississippi River have been made by E. E. Chadwick, City Engineer, who said it would cause great damage to the city.

A plan to mark all spots of historical interest with a sign bearing a historical resume for motorists traveling Minnesota highways has been completed. Willoughby M. Babcock, curator of the museum of the Minnesota Historical Society, announced.

Dr. F. R. Immer, corn-breeding specialist of the Minnesota Agricultural Experiment Station, has been appointed to a foreign fellowship providing for a year's study in England and Sweden, the university announced.

A second dividend, amounting to $34,797.29, has been paid to depositors of the closed First State Bank of Balaton.

NEBRASKA

The State has received a check for more than $17,000 for estate tax on the property of the late E. M. F. Leflang of Omaha.

Resignation of J. B. Weldon as president of Cotner College and appointment of Prof. L. C. Anderson as acting president, was announced at Lincoln by the board of trustees. Dr. Weldon will continue with Cotner as director of promotion.

MEXICAN PENAL CODE AWRY

Lawyers Seek Modification of New Laws Due to Many Difficulties in Enforcement

MEXICO CITY, March 2. (AP)—So many difficulties have arisen in connection with enforcement of the new penal code that lawyers have put their heads together to draw up a project of modification to be submitted to the government.

Among the anomalies found in the code is a provision of three years' imprisonment for anyone attempting to shoot another person and missing his mark, while the would-be assassin who does hit his mark but inflicts only minor injuries is subject to a mere three months' detention. Murderers are liable to sentences ranging from five to twenty years, except in cases where the slaying was done in defense of marital honor, such killers going free.

ITALIAN CODE DIFFERENT

The last mentioned clause has been severely criticized on the grounds that it gives opportunity for "framing" and personal vengeance. It conflicts sharply with the new Italian penal code, which stipulates that defense of marital honor is no excuse for taking human life.

Taxicab drivers recently threatened a strike over a clause stipulating six years' imprisonment for the driver responsible for an accident in which a pedestrian is killed, arguing it is unfair, inasmuch as only five years' imprisonment is provided for some other classes of killings.

DRIVER USES CRANK

After running down and wounding a woman here a few days ago the driver of a taxicab is asserted to have hit her in the head with a crank, killing her, and to have thrown the body into a ditch, figuring it worth while to take a chance of being discovered.

The government has offered to consider the proposal for modification of the code, which probably will be submitted within the next two weeks.

RUM DRINKING PRIVATE AFFAIR

Church Executive Explains Dry Law Objective

Purpose Not Prevention of Individual Imbibing

That Phase, He Says, Only Question of Morals

PHILADELPHIA, March 2. (AP)—Dr. Clarence True Wilson, executive secretary of the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals, told an audience in the Arch-street Methodist Episcopal Church tonight that drinking is a "private, individual matter" and that prohibition is "no panacea to cure all the spiritual ills of a people."

"The prohibition laws," Dr. Wilson said, "were enacted to regulate public matters like the licensed sale of intoxicants. Prohibition was not designed to prevent you or me from drinking. This is a matter for our personal tastes to decide.

"But prohibition has made it impossible for anyone to satisfy his craving for strong drink from persons licensed to sell liquor by the government. You can only get liquor from the potential saloon keepers who now are merely cringing bootleggers.

"Young people carrying hip flasks and staging drunken orgies nowadays are not to be blamed on prohibition. It may mean that their home life influences are weakened, that your Sunday schools are not aggressive and holding their interests, that their moral education is lax.

"That, I think, is what has happened. Prohibition is no panacea to cure all the spiritual ills of a people. Temperance must be promoted largely by education, by moral upbringing, by Sunday-school influence. These agencies are designed to influence private tastes. Prohibition was never daigned for such purposes."

WILSON SAYS WETS CONVICT THEMSELVES

WASHINGTON, March 2. (Exclusive)—The dry forces represented by Dr. Clarence True Wilson, answered the wets' testimony before the Judiciary Committee of the House today through the medium of the Clipsheet, organ of the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Dr. Wilson announced that the hearings accorded the wets will be "followed by representations in refutation of the sensational charges made."

WITNESS MYSTERY

He did not indicate who will appear before the committee on behalf of the Prohibition forces and there is much speculation here along that line. It is intimated that there will be several surprises in the list of witnesses and it is taken for granted several outstanding figures in American life will be included. In this connection it is predicted that Henry Ford will be one of those who will attempt to refute the wet arguments and Alfred P. Sloan also is mentioned as a possible witness.

Dr. Wilson, however, questions the wisdom of replying, saying that "perhaps it would show better judgment if instead of answering the sensational charges they requested the anti-Prohibitionists to make use of the time granted to supporters of the law.

ROPE TO HANG SELVES

In a general sense he says of the statements placed before the committee:

"The statements made by the opponents of prohibition have in many cases been so ill considered, so reckless, so sensational, that they are calculated to cause a distinct reaction against the wet movement.

"It is noticeable that the representations made were in behalf of rebellious obstruction or outright repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. No program for dealing with the evils asserted to have been produced by prohibition was proposed, either in the bills before the committee or in testimony. No unity of thought on the part of the opponents of the prohibition law was manifested."

Panchon Lama Informs Nationalists of Advancing Force From India

[Copyright, 1930, by the Chicago Tribune.]

SHANGHAI, March 2. (Exclusive) The Panchon Lama, spiritual leader of the Tibetans, as well as the head of the Buddhist religion, today notified the Nationalist government that a strong native force from Nepal, a British dependency in Northern India, is marching on Tibet. The invading force is headed by the son of the Sultan of Nepal, with the object of invading the Chinese border province of either Yunnan or Szechwan. The Panchon Lama's information is based on telegraphic information from India.

Simultaneously with the receipt of the foregoing information the Nationalist government State Council received a similar report from the Dalai Lama, temporal leader of the Tibetans with headquarters at Lhasa, requesting the Nationalists to dispatch a strong force into Tibet in order to assist the Tibetans who are protecting the border against the Indian invasion.

The Panchon and Dalai Lamas, who are joint rulers of Tibet, have been estranged for many years. The Panchon Lama, residing in China, is trying to obtain Chinese help against the asserted Russian and British intrigues against Mongolia and Tibet.

CRIME SURVEY REPORT MADE

Review of 400 Cities Covers Month of January

Figures on Various Offenses to Be Analyzed

WASHINGTON, March 2. (AP)—The first report of a survey of the trend and characteristics of crime that has been undertaken by the International Association of Chiefs of Police has been placed in the hands of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The report, covering the month of January, recorded offenses committed during that month in 400 cities of forty-three States.

Bruce Smith of the committee on uniform crime records who filed the report with the Senate committee, said that through the reports that will be gathered it will be possible to analyze the fluctuation, character and distribution of reported offenses.

OFFENSES CLASSED

"Of the reportable offenses," Smith said, referring to the report for January, "murder, manslaughter by negligence, grave assault, robbery, burglary, larceny over and under $50, and automobile theft, the two groups of larceny account for more than one-third of the offenses reported.

"Automobile thefts constitute about one-fourth of the total, with burglary next in line. The total burglaries exceed the number of robberies in the ratio of almost three to one, robbery and homicide which represent the crime wave in the public mind, represent only 9 per cent of the total of reportable offenses, and, of course, only an infinitesimal part of the much larger total which would be obtained if minor offenses were included.

NEW YORK NOT COVERED

"As the first reports on crime are for the month of January, no comparisons can be made," he added, explaining that this will be done with later reports.

The report does not cover New York City nor Philadelphia. Of the cities reporting, Chicago led with twenty-seven murders or non-negligent manslaughter cases; Detroit had eleven of these; Birmingham, Ala., six; Los Angeles, six; Jacksonville, Fla., six; Kansas City, Kan., three; Baltimore, five; Kansas City, Mo., eight; St. Louis, eight; Newark, N. J., five; Charlotte, N. C., four; Cleveland, five, and Milwaukee, one.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

POR EL PROFESOR R. GUERRERO
Encargado de la Sección Española de Este Diario

Cita el señor Cuervo estos ejemplos más, que prueban que se ha hecho común en España el uso impropio de ese "no" intruso, que se intercala en algunas oraciones en que figura la preposición "hasta": "No se dará punto de descanso hasta. que no haya conseguido la venganza" (F. de Castro, "Trad. de la Historia de los musulmanes españoles" de Dozy, tomo I, p. 43): "Yo no desconfío hasta no probarlo" (Galdós, "Gloria", tomo I, p. 110); "Hasta que no llegue a Tanger no estoy tranquilo" (A. de Castro, "Estudios prácticos de buen decir", p. 219); "Hasta que no vuelva mi madre, ha de parecer como si no hubiese nadie en esta casa sino yo y el Sr. D. Andrés" (Valera, "Juanita la Larga", p. 281); "Estoy resuelto — Hasta que usted no me esuche, — A no abandonar el puesto" (Núñez de Arce, "Deudas de la honra", acto III, esc. III).

A. de Castro emplea adrede el giro del antepenúltimo lugar citado en el párrafo anterior, giro que es popular en Andalucía: "Hasta que no t'emborrachas — No bienes en busca mía; — Ojalay t'emborracharas — Toitas las horas del día" ("Cantos populares españoles", tomo II, p. 320). Y lo emplea para citar el siguiente lugar de Sigüenza, que copiamos más extensamente: "Con más hermoso modo de filosofar nos dijo las condiciones desta media edad que falta (vivenia muy pocos hombres) el Espiritu Santo por Salomón en el Eclesiastés: Acuérdate de tu criador, dice, en dias d' tu juventud, hasta que no vengan dias de mal, y lleguen años que digas: No a mi en ellos voluntad, hasta que no escurezca el sol y la luz, la luna y las estrellas, y tornen las nubes después de la lluvia. Es manera de hablar entre los hebreos para decir en tanto que esto no sucede, decir "hasta que no" ("Vida de S. Jerónimo, lib. VI, proem., p. 733, Madrid, 1595). Lo cierto es que la particula hebrea reune los dos significados de "hasta" y "mientras", y en la traducción pudo ponerse el último. Dicho se está que aquí tan sólo se trata de una versión literal, y no de un uso común en aquel tiempo. La edición original del Quijote de Avellaneda (Tarragona, 1614) trae este pasaje: "Y assi resueluanse en que no passare adelante con mi cuento, ni le puedo hazer con buena conciencia, que los ganços no esten de vno en vno, dessotra parte del rio" (cap. XXI, fol. 157 V.) El editor o impresor moderno, extrañando la locución "que no", igual al latín "quin", no halló otro modo de acomodar la frase a su capacidad, que encajar el "hasta": "hasta que los ganaos no estén" (Bibl. de Rivad., tomo XVIII, p. 66).

En América este uso no es de ayer: por lo que hace a Colombia, aparece ya en un cuaderno manuscrito anterior por lo menos al año de 1787, como que en él se llama todavía San Ignacio la iglesia de San Carlos. Un artículo de la Constitución de Angostura (1819) dice: "Ningún proyecto de ley se entenderá sancionado, ni será ley del Estado, hasta que no haya sido firmado por el Poder Ejecutivo"; y recordamos haber visto igual modo de decir en cartas escritas de Londres por Bello a D. José Manuel Restreppo.

Entre los judíos de Levante, "hasta" se ha hecho sinónimo de "mientras", como se ve en estos refranes de la colección de Kayserling: "Bati al hierro hasta que está caliente" (p. 10); "No hables mal del dia hasta que no anochese" (p. 11); "No llames a tu hija bella hasta que no quita sarampión y viruela" (p. 16); "Non mi creo hasta que no lo veo" (p 18); "El cántaro va al agua hasta que non se rompe" (p. 6).

"Y ahora, ¿por qué llora, mamita?", pregunta Celia a su mamá, refiriéndose a su hermanito de teta, que ha dado en no dormir y en llorar a todas horas. Es muy común en España el diminutivo "mamita"; en América dicen más bien "mamacita".

Y ya que de verter lágrimas hablamos, bien será que recordemos algunas frases castellanas en que se trae a cuento lo del llanto: Con el aforismo que dice que "el que no llora no mama" damos a entender que para lograr una cosa conviene pedirla. "Llora llorando" es un modo adverbial que significa "sin dejar de llorar", "a pesar de los lloriqueos", "gimoteando o haciendo pucheros": "Celia, llora llorando, pidió perdón a su mamá por haberla desobedecido". "Llórame sólo y no me llores pobre" es refrán que explica que no es tan deplorable verse pobre como verse aislado y sin tener uno quien le favorezca. Las frases figuradas "llorar a lágrima viva" y "llorar lágrimas de sangre" no requieren explicación, como tampoco el adagio "lágrimas ablandan peñas". "Lágrimas de cocodrilo" son las que vierte una persona aparentando un dolor que no siente. "Beberse uno las lágrimas" es contenerlas haciendo un supremo esfuerzo. "En cojera de perro y en lágrimas de mujer no hay que creer" es refrán que aconseja desconfiar de manifestaciones demasiado expresivas. "Anegarse uno en llanto" es lo mismo que "llorar a lágrima viva", y "el llanto sobre el difunto" es expresión figurada y familiar que recomienda se hagan las cosas a tiempo y oportunamente, sin dejar pasar la ocasión.

THOUSANDS OF HAITIANS ASSEMBLE

Great Self-Government Demonstration Follows Religious Services

PORT - AU - PRINCE (Haiti) March 2. (AP)—In an orderly and impressive demonstration for the restoration of self-government, 15,000 Haitians tonight gathered around the monument to the negro revolutionist Jean Jacques Dessalines in the square of the Champs de Mars. The demonstration was preceded by a great religious service at the Church of the Sacred Heart, in the aristocratic quarter of the city.

The members of President Hoover's investigation committee approved of the demonstration, and after receiving a report that the gardes might stop it, ordered that under no circumstances should the authorities interfere.

The Archbishop of Haiti announced that today, usually the beginning of the annual carnival season, should be set aside for prayers all over the country for the success of the Hoover commission's work and for the restoration of legislative institutions in Haiti.

CHARGES IN FOX VOTE ROW FLY

Fight for Proxies Becomes Three-Sided Affair

Film Man Accused and Likewise Accuser

NEW YORK, March 2. (Exclusive)—Charges and counter-charges were hurled about as three appeals for proxies to vote at the stockholders' meeting on Wednesday, which is scheduled to choose between the various refinancing plans suggested for the Fox Film Corporation and the Fox Theater Corporation were issued by three parties to the controversy today.

In his plea to the stockholders, William Fox repeats his previous assertions that the objective of the Halsey-Stuart and American Telegraph and Telephone interests is to drive the companies into a receivership. The plea issued by the latter interests denies this charge and counters with an assertion that "the fact is that the trustees were obliged to make concession to Mr. Fox's desires in order to forestall his avowed purpose of placing the company in the hands of a receiver, which he repeatedly and constantly threatened to do."

THE THIRD APPEAL

The third appeal was issued by Emory Buckner, counsel for an independent stockholders' committee and while it speaks disparagingly of the past actions of both William Fox and his present adversaries, it praises the same reorganization plan which the Fox statement pleads with the stockholders to support. This is the plan submitted by the banking group comprised of Bancamerica, Blair & Co., Lehman Brothers and Dillon, Read & Co.

Fox charges in his statement that, while the Halsey-Stuart group is telling the stockholders it wishes their proxies to vote for any plan which is in the best interests of the stockholders, "in point of fact they want to use that proxy to vote for their own plan and against the one that has been approved by the directors and fully underwritten by the Bancamerica group." In his plea for support of that latter group's plan, Fox informs the stockholders of two instances last week in which those bankers came to the company's rescue with money sufficient to save its 250,000 shares of Loew stock and its $20,000,000 of stock in its English subsidiary.

CHARGES RAP FOX

Despite definite charges in the Fox statement that the Halsey-Stuart group has been endeavoring to buy his majority Class B stock at a considerably greater figure than the remaining Class B stockholders would receive under the first reorganization scheme proposed, the Halsey-Stuart statement says, "Any assertion that there is a fight for control of the company is not based upon facts.

"There are, however, "the statement continues, "millions of dollars at stake which were invested in good faith and it is our intention to protect this money by every means at our command."

The complaint is made in the statement that "Mr. Fox has repudiated the trust agreement. He has likewise repudiated contracts which entitle us to preferred rights to finance these properties. He indicates that he intends to repudiate another contract to pay us compensation which we earned and which he voluntarily agreed to pay." In concluding with its appeal to the stockholders to sign proxies for H. L. Stuart and John E. Otterson, the statement pledges "these men to vote only for the plan most advantageous to stockholders."

DOMINICAN PRESIDENT QUITS POST

Vasquez Politically and Physically Broken After Bloodless Revolt Defeat

SANTO DOMINGO (Dominican Republic) March 2. (AP)—President Vasquez, for thirty years a dominant figure in the Dominican republic, resigned office with his Cabinet today, and tomorrow Gen. Urena, leader of the insurgent movement against him, will take the oath of office as provisional President and form a new Cabinet.

Ex-President Vasquez lay in a hospital tonight politically and physically a broken man.

Practically all the revolutionists, numbering perhaps 2000, had returned home today or were on their way.

They accomplished swiftly and bloodlessly a change of government believed to be almost without precedent in any Caribbean country, where revolution and election are frequently synonymous.

Catholic Men Assail Films

SPOKANE (Wash.) March 2. (AP) Resolutions assailing "immoral" motion-picture shows and news-stand literature were passed here today by 500 Roman Catholic men of the Holy Name societies.

Other resolutions urged that members check profanity and practice the duties of citizenship. Joseph Lavin, attorney, chief speaker at the rally, condemned certain dance halls and women's styles.

ELINOR SMITH DELAYS HER ALTITUDE FLIGHT

ROOSEVELT FIELD (N. Y.) March 2. (AP)—Miss Elinor Smith today postponed her proposed attempt to break the women's altitude record. Her decision was the result of the difficulty of getting a barograph which will register more than 20,000 feet. She said she expects to obtain such a barograph tomorrow, and plans to make the altitude attempt Tuesday.

CATHOLIC HOUR BROADCAST

Weekly Program Begins on Nation-wide Network; Cardinal Hayes Officiates at Opening

NEW YORK, March 2. (AP)—The national Catholic hour, a religious program to be broadcast every Sunday at 6 p.m. over the National Broadcasting Company's network, was begun tonight under the auspices of the National Council of Catholic Men.

Cardinal Hayes of New York inaugurated the hour. He said it was "a very distinct privilege to be invited to dedicate this radio hour to the exposition of Catholic faith and to the spiritual and material well-being of our country." He added the hour is one of service to America which he is sure will listen interestedly "to the voice of the ancient church."

TOPIC OF DAY

"Never before," he said, "has the subject of religion been so widely discussed as at the present time. In happy contrast to nations that have banned religion, as Russia is doing today, our own country stands for liberty of conscience and freedom of worship."

Rt. Rev. Joseph Schrembs, Bishop of Cleveland, followed Cardinal Hayes, speaking on the "Meaning and Necessity of Religion." A musical program was given by the Paulist choristers.

Bishop Schrembs said the world is in "the throes of a mighty struggle" between good and evil, vice and virtue.

"Spiritual rebellion," he said, "has run its course until today there seems no single truth that has not been assailed and denied, no authority, either human or divine, that has not been rejected or cried down.

"Licentiousness stares at us from the public streets of our cities, and holds court in the public theaters of the land, arrayed now in its glittering tinsel of beauty, now in worse than brutal nakedness of lowest degradation, corrupting young and old.

INDIFFERENCE CITED

"The remorse of old, opening the way to repentance when the day of corrupt passion was done, is today lulled to a fatal sleep by a spirit of indifference and apathy in matters of religion."

Bishop Schrembs then called on history, science and philosophy to show there is a God and concluded, "Religion is a dictate of man's reason, a necessity of man's nature. Religion is necessary for the individual, for the family, for time, for eternity."

Cardinal Hayes, in his address, paid a tribute to Bishop Schrembs for his "wise counsel and apostolic leadership in making this evening possible."

WHEAT POLICY CHANGE LAUDED

Agricultural Leaders Voice Their Satisfaction

Legge Confident That Move Will Prove Helpful

Exchange and Farm Union Approval General

CHICAGO, March 2. (AP)—A general feeling of satisfaction was expressed by agricultural leaders today concerning the suspension of the Wheat Stabilization Corporation's policy of paying the loan-basis value for wheat.

Chairman Legge of the Federal Farm Board, who announced the change in policy late yesterday after officials of the Farm Board, the Farmers' National Grain Corporation and the Wheat Stabilization Corporation had met with Secretary of Agriculture Hyde in a closed conference, said today he firmly believes the move will prove "helpful."

"Suspension of the arbitrary loan price basis established last fall," he said, "will relieve the panicky feeling and stabilize the entire grain industry."

CHANGE ACCLAIMED

The new policy, welcomed at many points in the grain belt, was acclaimed at the Omaha Grain Exchange and Farmers' Union headquarters.

"The decision was the only ultimate solution of the wheat-marketing situation," Hugh A. Butler, president of the Omaha Exchange, declared. "The Farm Board needs the co-operation of the grain men. They own the elevators whose storage space must be used if the stabilization program is to be effective. The regular grain exchanges do not fear Federal competition in grain marketing if such competition is on a business basis."

CAUSE OF RELIEF

L. S. Harron, editor of the Nebraska Union Farmer, said the Farm Board's move will relieve the feeling of hundreds of Nebraska farmers who believed they were being forced into affiliation with the grain corporation.

John A. Bunnell, president of the Chicago Board of Trade, asserted he has no comment or criticism to offer, but his organization will "go along with the new policy."

C. B. Steward of Lincoln, Neb., president of the Farmers' West-Central Grain Co-operative, Inc., said he thinks the discontinuance of the buying of grain on a loan basis will stop the congestion at the terminals and help protect the co-operatives.

BYRD SHIP WHIPPED BY HEAVY SEA

City of New York Battles Storm After Crossing Antarctic Circle

BY JOE DE GANAHL

(Copyright, 1930, by Los Angeles Times, New York Times Company and St. Louis Post Dispatch. All rights for publication reserved throughout the world.)

ON BOARD THE BARK CITY OF NEW YORK (At Sea) March 3. (Exclusive)—The City of New York passed the Antarctic Circle yesterday afternoon and today is running before a strong gale at a speed of nine knots, the best time she has made. The wind reached a velocity of sixty-five miles an hour during the night, whipping up a heavy following sea.

Gasoline drums stored against the bulkhead of Admiral Byrd's quarters broke loose early this morning, but the watch was able to secure them again before any damage was done. Eight drums had to be thrown overboard a few hours later to insure the safety of the ship.

It was a busy night for the watch. All square sail had been set early in the evening but as the wind increased Capt. Melville was forced to shorten sail and put out oil bags. The sea was breaking over the ship and she was rolling and pitching heavily. Fortunately the dangerous deck cargo of dog crates had been transferred to the whalers three days before. It was in anticipation of just such a storm as this that they were moved.

A warm sun was melting the ice from the rigging when the bark, under steam and sail, crossed the circle yesterday. It was the first time in fourteen months that Admiral Byrd and the twenty-eight members of the Byrd party had been in the temperate zone. The temperature is rising and we are beginning to realize that our adventure is nearly over. Hats and gloves are no longer necessary. Darkness comes regularly, a welcome relief to the continuous day and night in which we have been living. We are warm and everyone is glad.

Stunt Flyer's 'Circus' Leads to Grounding

DALLAS (Tex.) March 2. (AP)—Lon Hay, Los Angeles stunt flyer, yesterday was prohibited for one year from flying an army airplane by the decision of an Army flyers' board of inquiry which censured him for putting on a "one-man aerial circus" over Love Field, Dallas municipal airport, Thursday.

Army flyers charged that he went aloft in an army plane and despite previous warnings maneuvered the ship through various stunts directly over the field. An altercation resulted when he was ordered to the ground by a staff sergeant.

Hay is said to have figured in several stunt flying scenes filmed for war-time aviation motion pictures.

FARM PRACTICES HELPED

STATE COLLEGE (Pa.) March 2. (AP)—A total of 247,021 improved farm and home practices resulted from extension work of Pennsylvania State College last year, says Prof. J. M. Fry, director. Dairy husbandry, with 42,782 practices adopted, led the list. Home economics was second with 30,565.

MEXICAN PENAL CODE AWRY

Lawyers Seek Modification of New Laws Due to Many Difficulties in Enforcement

MEXICO CITY, March 2. (AP)—So many difficulties have arisen in connection with enforcement of the new penal code that lawyers have put their heads together to draw up a project of modification to be submitted to the government.

Among the anomalies found in the code is a provision of three years' imprisonment for anyone attempting to shoot another person and missing his mark, while the would-be assassin who does hit his mark but inflicts only minor injuries is subject to a mere three months' detention. Murderers are liable to sentences ranging from five to twenty years, except in cases where the slaying was done in defense of marital honor, such killers going free.

ITALIAN CODE DIFFERENT

The last mentioned clause has been severely criticized on the grounds that it gives opportunity for "framing" and personal vengeance. It conflicts sharply with the new Italian penal code, which stipulates that defense of marital honor is no excuse for taking human life.

Taxicab drivers recently threatened a strike over a clause stipulating six years' imprisonment for the driver responsible for an accident in which a pedestrian is killed, arguing it is unfair, inasmuch as only five years' imprisonment is provided for some other classes of killings.

DRIVER USES CRANK

After running down and wounding a woman here a few days ago, the driver of a taxicab is asserted to have hit her in the head with a crank, killing her, and to have thrown the body into a ditch, figuring it worth while to take a chance of being discovered.

The government has offered to consider the proposal for modification of the code, which probably will be submitted within the next two weeks.

RUM DRINKING PRIVATE AFFAIR

Church Executive Explains Dry Law Objective

Purpose Not Prevention of Individual Imbibing

That Phase, He Says, Only Question of Morals

PHILADELPHIA, March 2. (AP)—Dr. Clarence True Wilson, executive secretary of the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals, told an audience in the Arch-street Methodist Episcopal Church tonight that drinking is a "private, individual matter" and that prohibition is "no panacea to cure all the spiritual ills of a people."

"The prohibition laws," Dr. Wilson said, "were enacted to regulate public matters like the licensed sale of intoxicants. Prohibition was not designed to prevent you or me from drinking. This is a matter for our personal tastes to decide.

"But prohibition has made it impossible for anyone to satisfy his craving for strong drink from persons licensed to sell liquor by the government. You can only get liquor from the potential saloon keepers who now are merely cringing bootleggers.

"Young people carrying hip flasks and staging drunken orgies nowadays are not to be blamed on prohibition. It may mean that their home life influences are weakened, that your Sunday schools are not aggressive and holding their interests, that their moral education is lax.

"That, I think, is what has happened. Prohibition is no panacea to cure all the spiritual ills of a people. Temperance must be promoted largely by education, by moral upbringing, by Sunday-school influence. These agencies are designed to influence private tastes. Prohibition was never daigned for such purposes."

WILSON SAYS WETS CONVICT THEMSELVES

WASHINGTON, March 2. (Exclusive)—The dry forces represented by Dr. Clarence True Wilson, answered the wets' testimony before the Judiciary Committee of the House today through the medium of the Clipsheet, organ of the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Dr. Wilson announced that the hearings accorded the wets will be "followed by representations in refutation of the sensational charges made."

WITNESS MYSTERY

He did not indicate who will appear before the committee on behalf of the Prohibition forces and there is much speculation here along that line. It is intimated that there will be several surprises in the list of witnesses and it is taken for granted several outstanding figures in American life will be included. In this connection it is predicted that Henry Ford will be one of those who will attempt to refute the wet arguments and Alfred P. Sloan also is mentioned as a possible witness.

Dr. Wilson, however, questions the wisdom of replying, saying that "perhaps it would show better judgment if instead of answering the sensational charges they requested the anti-Prohibitionists to make use of the time granted to supporters of the law.

ROPE TO HANG SELVES

In a general sense he says of the statements placed before the committee;

"The statements made by the opponents of prohibition have in many cases been so ill considered, so reckless, so sensational, that they are calculated to cause a distinct reaction against the wet movement.

"It is noticeable that the representations made were in behalf of rebellious obstruction or outright repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. No program for dealing with the evils asserted to have been produced by prohibition was proposed, either in the bills before the committee or in testimony. No unity of thought on the part of the opponents of the prohibition law was manifested."

INVASION OF TIBET IMPENDS

Panchon Lama Informs Nationalists of Advancing Force From India

[Copyright, 1930, by the Chicago Tribune.]

SHANGHAI, March 2. (Exclusive) The Panchon Lama, spiritual leader of the Tibetans, as well as the head of the Buddhist religion, today notified the Nationalist government that a strong native force from Nepal, a British dependency in Northern India, is marching on Tibet. The invading force is headed by the son of the Sultan of Nepal, with the object of invading the Chinese border province of either Yunnan or Szechwan. The Panchon Lama's information is based on telegraphic information from India.

Simultaneously with the receipt of the foregoing information the Nationalist government State Council received a similar report from the Dalai Lama, temporal leader of the Tibetans with headquarters at Lhasa, requesting the Nationalists to dispatch a strong force into Tibet in order to assist the Tibetans who are protecting the border against the Indian invasion.

The Panchon and Dalai Lamas, who are joint rulers of Tibet, have been estranged for many years. The Panchon Lama, residing in China, is trying to obtain Chinese help against the asserted Russian and British intrigues against Mongolia and Tibet.

BOTANY EXPERT SERIOUSLY HURT

Dr. Freda Detmers Falls to Bottom of Canyon

Pasadena Ambulance Makes Run in Record Time

Accident Happens During Hunt for Rare Plants

PASADENA, March 2.—While attempting to pluck a rare plant from a steep mountain slope a mile north of Camp Oak Wylde in the Arroyo Seco, this afternoon, Dr. Freda Detmers, curator of the herbarium, University of Southern California, fell thirty feet to the bottom of a canyon and was critically injured.

Miss Detmers has been connected with the botany department of the University of Southern California for the last three years. She previously had served as a professor of botany at Ohio State University of which her father is reported to have been an official. The victim is 30 years of age and has been residing with the family of Robert Erwin at 2690 Ellendale Place, Los Angeles. She is reported to be a nationally known authority on native grasses.

R. M. Thompson and A. W. Nelson, who piloted the city ambulance to within half a mile of the scene of the accident negotiated the round trip of sixteen miles along the narrow canyon road in thirty-five minutes. They carried Dr. Detmers on a stretcher from an inaccessible spot on the trail to Camp Colby, to the Arroyo road.

SCALP LAID BARE

At the Pasadena Emergency Hospital, Dr. William F. Wagner discovered that the entire back of Miss Detmer's scalp had been laid bare when her head struck a jagged rock.

After first aid had been administered, the aged botanical authority was transferred to the Pasadena Hospital where X-ray photographs are being taken to determine whether her skull was fractured.

Dr. Detmers, accompanied by Miss Alta Clare of 2614½ University street, Los Angeles, and two other friends, went to the mountain this morning in search of rare plants.

Seeing what she suspected was a rare specimen growing on a ledge of rock thirty feet above the trail, Dr. Detmers, refusing to heed the warning shouts of the others, succeeded in climbing to within a few feet of her prize when a branch which she was clutching broke off causing her to hurtle head first to the rocks below.

Bandit Slugs Victim; Another Rifles Register

INGLEWOOD, March 2.—Bareheaded bandits, with slugging proclivities, called at a local gas station here last evening and after giving the attendant a severe trouncing, forced him to open the cash register, from which they took $32.90, and then escaped. The Goodrich-Silvertown service station, corner of Commercial street and Manchester avenue, was the scene of the skirmish and robbery at 7:30 p.m., and R. W. Buckley, 11129 South Grevillea avenue, attendant, was in charge.

The two bandits entered the station and flashed a gun on Buckley, demanding that he open the cash register, and after complying he was ordered to lie down on the floor and keep still.

While one bandit took the coin the other passed his time kicking Buckley savagely. They departed as hastily as they had appeared, and officers were at once summoned.

Buckley is aiding in the running down of clews, and the local police hope to arrest the criminals shortly.

BUSINESS ANALYST IS INVITED TO VAN NUYS

VAN NUYS, March 2.—Perry B. Arnold, a business analyst and sales counsellor, will be principal speaker at the meeting of the Van Nuys Business Men's Association in its luncheon rooms at noon Tuesday.

CHANGE IN DESERT WAY PROTESTED

Supervisors' Consideration of Other Than Palm Canyon Route Scored

RIVERSIDE, March 2.—Declaring that it is hardly conceivable that the few miles saved could be looked upon as an economy, and pointing out that the proposed San Jacinto mountain-desert road should be considered as a necessity to motorists to the Palm Springs and Palm Springs Canyon area, Dr. George P. Clements, manager of the agricultural department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, has written a letter of protest to T. U. Jameson, chairman of the Riverside County Board of Supervisors, against consideration of any other than the Palm Canyon route.

Dr. Clements, who is also a director of the San Jacinto Mountain State Park Association, says in his letter that he has been informed that the Supervisors are to take up for consideration at tomorrow's meeting two surveys for the proposed road, one by way of Vandeventer Flats and Pinon Flats and Dead Indian Canyon, and the other by way of Palm Canyon.

He declared that this information was a surprise to the park association, as its members had believed that the route had been fairly well established prior to the establishment of the mountain park project, that it was to follow the Palm Canyon route and thus make available that particular portion of the Coachella Valley which must be considered from all angles as the only reason for the contemplation of such a road.

"The several canyons within the Palm Springs district," Dr. Clements writes, "have been nationalized, yet the general public, who have come from all portions of the United States, have not been able to partake full enjoyment of the highly advertised beauties of these wonderful natural phenomena, due to the mere fact they are on the dead end of a road and that one visit to them, with the experiences that one has after hours of awaiting relief due to traffic congestion, is the last experience.

"No loop," the letter continues, "can be placed in the canyon which will not materially affect its natural beauty, nor can parking facilities ever be secured to meet the requirements. The only possible way in which the canyon can be viewed by the greatest number of people is through the establishment of the road over the San Jacinto Mountain by way of Palm Canyon.

"Most assuredly this road should be considered from the angle of necessity, and it in no way can be considered an economic road."

In closing, Dr. Clements emphasized that the Palm Canyon route would facilitate traffic to the desert canyons and hostelries, while the Dead Indian Canyon road would only contribute to the congestion already existing in the area. He added that the San Jacinto Mountain Board had been led to believe that the purpose of the road was to meet the needs he had outlined.

Divine in Pulpit on His Eightieth Natal Day Talks

ALHAMBRA, March 2.—Celebrating his eightieth birthday anniversary and the completion of sixty-two years in the ministry, Rev. J. E. Pickett preached the morning sermon today at the First Christian Church. His topic was "Life as Seen from Its Eightieth Milestone."

The veteran clergyman, although he has retired from active pulpit duties, is one of the leaders in local church affairs, and is the teacher of the men's Bible class and one of the elders of the First Christian Church. He lives at 208 South Hidalgo street, this city.

Rev. Pickett spent thirty years in Kansas as a pioneer preacher. He also held pastorates in Colorado and for many years occupied pulpits in California, being pastor of Christian churches in Modesto, Orange, Rialto and Arlington. His brother, Dr. C. L. Pickett, is a Christian Church missionary in the Philippines.

BOYS FACE SERIOUS CHARGE

Prisoners Accused of Kidnaping Girl Near Glendale Last December in Burbank Jail

BURBANK, March 2.—Investigations that have been under way since December 18, last, to trace the two men who kidnaped Miss Laney Cecilia Olbina, 17 years of age, an employee of a bank in North Hollywood, from an automobile driven by John K. Bonnell, of 6832 Lankershim Boulevard, at Inspiration Point, in the hills adjoining Burbank, one of whom later attacked the girl, resulted last night in the arrest of Leroy Jackson, 25, and Ralph O. Pangborn, 22, both of Glendale, on charges of highway robbery and assault, filed by Chief of Police R. L. Bergh.

The two men are held in Burbank jail on $30,000 bond each, for preliminary hearing. Jackson, who is said to be a half-cast Indian and French, and Pangborn, are said to have admitted to Chief Bergh that they had stolen a sedan in Glendale on the night of December 18, last, and to have gone then to the house of a friend, where they obtained a .38-caliber revolver and a box of shells. Driving to Inspiration Point they drew up alongside a car and ordered the couple occupying it, at the point of the gun, to enter the car driven by the two men. A mile distant from the hold-up they forced the youth to leave the car and drove on with the girl, whom Jackson is said to have admitted assaulting while Pangborn, armed with the revolver, stood guard a short distance away.

Chief Bergh had arrested Jackson several days ago on suspicion of grand theft in connection with the stolen automobile, and under constant grilling Jackson last night broke down and confessed the robbery and the attack on the girl. Pangborn was arrested later in the night with the assistance of Glendale officers and lodged in Burbank jail, where he also is said to have confessed his share in the robbery and assault.

POMONA COLLEGE GIRLS' GLEE CLUB TO SING

Annual Concert of Organization to be Given Next Friday Evening

College Women's Musical Organization and Prof. Arthur Babcock

CLAREMONT, March 2. — The Pomona College Women's Glee Club presents its annual home concert in Bridges hall of music, Pomona College next Friday evening, at 8 o'clock. The club recently returned from a nine-day trip north to San Francisco and vicinity, where it presented many concerts there as well as along the route of travel. The glee club has attempted to maintain the high quality of music for which Pomona stands and has won first place in competition with other women's glee clubs of Southern California.

In the year 1913 the Pomona College Women's Glee Club was organized, and, since then, there has been a steady building up of the organization as well as the presentation of concerts. When it was first organized, the club gave only a few concerts in the near-by vicinity, but this has been extended and trips of increasing length and distance have been made. At present it is customary for the women to make long tours during the college year, one to San Diego and vicinity and the other north to San Francisco. The club plans to make a trip south during the first part of the spring recess in April.

When the Pomona College Women's Glee Club was first organized, it consisted of nineteen members, and since then it has varied from seventeen to its present membership of thirty-one.

In the history of the glee club there have been four different directors who have guided it in its musical endeavors. Prof. Arthur Babcock, the present director, has been with the club since 1923, succeeding Prof. Walter E. Hartley, who directed the glee club during the years 1917-1923. Miss Eustis was director in 1915 and Prof. Bacon in 1916.

At the annual home concert on the 7th inst., the women will present a secular program of club numbers with the addition of various types of solos ranging from voice to instrumental.

Included on the program will be selections by Marjorie Lee Young, soprano; Ruth Clark, 'cellist; Mildred Ketcherside, violinist; Phyllis Lorbeer, whistler; and Marjorie Browne, reader. In addition a trio composed of Mildred Ketcherside and Mary Cochrane, violins, and Ruth Clark, 'cello, will play. Part of the program will carry out a chosen motif, and this will be presented through songs by the glee club, as well as solo numbers.

DINNER TO HONOR PRISK

Publisher to Be Complimented by 300 Pasadena Citizens at Vista del Arroyo Hotel

PASADENA, March 2.—The Arthur Noble medal, awarded annually to the local resident adjudged the most valuable citizen, will be presented to the 1929 winner, Charles H. Prisk, publisher of the Pasadena Star-News, at a dinner to be held at the Vista del Arroyo Hotel on the 18th inst.

Plans have been made for the attendance of more than 300 representative citizens at the affair which is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

The members of the arrangement committee are F. P. Runyon, editor of the Pasadena Evening Post; C. W. Norris, Robert L. Daugherty, chairman of the Board of City Directors; James T. Jenkins and Glenn Green.

In honoring the publisher and editor of the Star-News, the award committee announced that Mr. Prisk was selected "because of his publication of the Pasadena Star-News, and further explanation of the choice would seem to be unnecessary."

PHINNEY BEQUESTS PROBATED

Redlands Man Remembers Many Local Institutions Generously in His Will

REDLANDS, March 2.—Bequests of the late Mellen M. Phinney who died here on February 7 include the following for local institutions: University of Redlands, $5000; music fund of First Congregational Church, $500; Contemporary Club, $500; Y.M.C.A., $500; Y.W.C.A., $500; Associated Charities, $500, and endowment fund of Smiley Library, $1000.

The will was filed for probate yesterday in the Superior Court, upon petition of the coexecutors, Mellen M. and Wakefield Phinney, sons of the deceased.

The will directs that interment shall be made at the side of his wife in Hillside Cemetery.

Other bequests than those for local organizations include $1000 to Bates College of Lewiston, Me. He also provided bountifully for the children of his two sons and one daughter, Marion Mist of Honolulu. Each family receives in trust $5000 for each of the children, to be received as each reaches the age of 21 years.

All residue of the estate goes to the sons, Mellen D. Phinney of Arcadia, Wakefield Phinney of Hollywood, and daughters, Marion Mist of Honolulu and Bertha Louise Phinney of Los Angeles, share and share alike.

Change Made in Election Date on School Bonds

SANTA ANA, March 2.—The election at which Santa Anans will be called upon to vote on the question of issuing $490,000 in bonds for school purposes will be held April 3, and not the 27th inst., as originally planned, according to a decision which the Board of Education has received.

Change of date followed reports received from County Clerk J. M. Backs that at the recent recent recall election held here considerable confusion resulted from consolidation of the city's precincts into fewer precincts. Backs pointed out that redistricting of the city's precincts would go into effect April 1, next, and that it would be better to hold the bond election after that.

The official call for the election is scheduled to be issued the 10th inst.

The bonds if voted, would provide money with which to build a school to replace the recently condemned Frances E. Willard Junior High School on North Main street and to purchase additional ground for the Julia C. Lathrop Junior High School on South Main street.

Old Price for Shave Returns

UPLAND, March 2.—A dime's a dime, and it kept too many men out of Upland barber shops. Hence the 35-cent price recently adopted by Upland barbers here for a shave, is no more.

The two-bit figure was what the shave-needy public wanted, and they wouldn't part with the extra dime. They preferred to hack away at themselves.

Thus opined the barbers, and consequently the price is now back at 25 cents, and the barbers are singing "Happy Days Are Here Again."

CURTAIN RUNG ON "COMICS"

Craftsman Makes Portiere of Them

Antone Busier and Novel Drapes

Pioneer Santa Monica resident fashions attractive portiere from old "Times" comic strips pulped and made into beads and then strung into drapes shown in picture above.

SANTA MONICA, March 2.—Antone Busier, local pioneer, has long been retired from the active business of curio and toy-making, from which his ingenious craftsmanship and artistry won his success in life. At his home here, 1524 Fourth street, a property now close to the heart of the growing business district, Tony still amuses himself with his genius for making curious ornaments.

Included in his collection is a portiere made from old colored "funnies" saved from The Times, to which he has been a subscriber more than forty years. By making pulp of the paper he manufactured remarkably hard and enduring beads, which are strung artistically to make the portiere. The dyes used in the comic strips and pages have been preserved to give a beautifully toned coloring.

Tony Busier, old local residents will tell you, was a great baseball pitcher in his day. He hurled for the home team back in the days when J. C. (Jack) Steele, who later served several years as Mayor, was the catcher. Historians seeking early day lore of the Southland frequently call on Tony for material.

Prescription, Check Racket Nipped in Bud

ONTARIO, March 2.—A two-man international plot to "work" Southern California merchants, including Ontario and Upland business men, has been nipped in the bud, local police were notified today. Robert S. Welch is the American of the team and Heroshi Nakamura the Japanese.

It is charged the Japanese, handy with pen and ink, wrote fictitous prescriptions for liquor, and then wrote worthless checks with which to pay the druggist.

It was Welch's job to pass the prescriptions and checks, which it is said, he did with success. They are said to be wanted not only in Ontario, but also in Upland, Claremont and other Southland communities. They were apprehended in Orange county.

TWINE USED TO PULL TRIGGER BY SUICIDE

WHITTIER, March 2.—Attaching a .22-caliber rifle to an orange box and rigging a strong piece of twine to the trigger so that it could be pulled by means of a pulley, Roy Knox, 39 years of age, of this city, set off the trap and so ended his life early yesterday. The suicide was discovered by employees of the California Domestic Water Company in the garage of the plant three miles east of here. Knox had worked for the establishment, it was stated, for four years as an engineer. Deputy sheriffs learned that Knox, unmarried, lived with his mother at Route 1, Whittier. They were told, they reported, that Knox had been despondent because of ill health. The body was removed to the White-Emerson undertaking establishment here.

COUNTY'S PLANTINGS SET RECORD

Ventura's Agricultural Development This Spring Greatest in Its History

VENTURA, March 2.—Ventura county's agricultural development is going ahead this spring at the fastest rate in its history.

Horticultural Commissioner A. H. Call today announced that approximately 200,000 fruit trees will be fumigated by his men this season for planting.

This compares with about 100,000 trees that were planted last year, which was the previous high-water mark in the county's records.

The 200,000 trees will be sufficient to fill about 2000 acres, Call estimates.

Of this planting, says the horticultural commissioner, about 25 per cent are lemons and nearly all the remainder Valencia oranges.

The Somis district is the heaviest single district in the way of new plantations, nearly 30,000 trees being destined for that section alone.

Two Candidates Enter Field for School Trustee

COMPTON, March 2.—Candidacies of W. W. Moreland and I. P. Petterson for trustees of the Compton Union High School and Junior College district have just been announced. The election will take place the 28th inst. While Petterson is a candidate for re-election, Moreland, if chosen by the people, will succeed Mrs. Hattie Hellmers, who has decided not to run again. Both the candidates are ranchers and have been residents of the district many years.

As the union district is made up of five grammar-school districts it has been customary to elect a trustee for the high school and junior college from each. Following this custom Petterson would represent the Clearwater district and Moreland the Enterprise district. Terms of H. J. Mayo of the Compton city school district and Andrew Hershind of the Willowbrook district do not expire until next year. Claude Reber of Lynwood has two years yet to serve.

Petterson is a graduate from the high school he now serves. He came to the district in 1892 when but a small boy and graduated from the school in 1904. His two sons are now enrolled in the institution. Both Petterson and Moreland have had previous experience in serving on the grammar-school boards of their respective districts.

Compton has one of the oldest public high schools in the county outside the city of Los Angeles. It was established in 1896. The local junior college is two years old. Formation of a junior college district identical with the high-school district was authorized by the State Board of Education a year ago.

Ben Read Gets Important Post With Publishers

BEVERLY HILLS, March 2.—Ben H. Read, former business manager of the Beverly Hills Citizen, has been appointed manager of the bureau of service and exploitation of the California Newspaper Publishers' Association, according to an announcement by John B. Long, general manager of the association.

The California Newspaper Publishers' Association is the trade organization of more than 300 of the leading daily and weekly newspapers of the State.

Read will have the business management of the association's publications and render specialized services to the individual members throughout California. Offices are maintained in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

PUBLIC SENTIMENT ON SCHOOL SOUGHT

ORANGE, March 2.—A mass meeting of Orange school district voters to ascertain public sentiment on the grand jury's recommendation that a new school be built to replace the old Lemon-street school has been called by the Board of Trustees for the 10th inst. at 7:30 p.m. in the intermediate school auditorium. The meeting was called it was reported, by the Orange Community Chamber of Commerce members of which are said to have gone on record as unanimously favoring a new building.

CHICAGO, March 2. (AP)—"Big ll the Builder" has dropped his ning pail.

It was not so two years ago, when a militant cowboy Mayor in his Stetson hat strode up and down Chicago's Valley stumping for ntrol and swung around the ed States for "America first," ing threats at an ocean's dis- to punch the nose of the g of England.

HE'S SILENT NOW

ough, then, to meet the with volcanic retort, Thompson now steps aside ersies. Rarely does he interviews to newspaper men. City Hall reporters have the Mayoral office from ads to call on Samuel A. corporation counsel and for the Mayor, to gather 's woes.

Thompson broke his rule ence momentarily, but only . A newspaper man to learn from the Mayor, his attitude toward the of crime and civic fin- pass topics of the man in ment, problems the leading may have stepped in to for themselves.

The Mayor waved the objec- aside: "I've said my say in ew campaign," he said of the successful exchequer. The himself, once subservient, had down two vetoes of its "eco- budget, in which the Mayor ented the dilemma to the ax Commission, demanded from the Legislature and as- ance. "The reformers are respon- for it all. They are trying to out my administration."

MAYOR LACKING

In reference to King George failed to call forth the ch of two years ago. With a shadow of the former Mayor Thompson dismissed his Majesty simply:

"I read something about King George, I saw pictures on George Wash- ington, Washington, the Father of the Country—and agree with all that we ought to keep out of foreign entanglements and mind our own business."

The million-first foundation, his "Big Bill" sighed—a phenomenon in his career. It was suggested that enterprise to

"Queen First went along and it's all good," he said. "The rest of it can be found in the United States Senate."

Queen first was conceived, along with the "Punch King George" slogan, at the time Mayor Thompson was ousting William Mc- Kinley as superintendent of schools, to satisfy a campaign pledge, one charge that McAndrew dis- played pro-British propaganda in the schools and was insubordi- nate. The former superintendent was vindicated in court.

MONEY COLLECTED

Mayor Thompson and his asso- ciates inaugurated the patriotic drive, solicited memberships throughout the country by mail and public address, made appeals to Congressmen, and the public generally took up an organization repre- sented by him estimated generally at $100,000 and $50,000. Many contributions are understood to have come at the suggestion of foreign agencies. The foundation of a further Americanism, in the love of the flag and especially to the foreign-

Late midway of his third year, looking three-score years and ten, has mellowed a bit. The eyes twinkle less often, the swinging fist not so lustily on the ta- ble, the cigar droops from his mouth at less jaunty angle.

Whatever his whim, he has retired voluntarily from the center of the picture and, deny- ing access to the newspapers, has become an enigma to the public. Ceremonies, public addresses and the like are, for the moment at least, suspended.

Mayor Thompson has long since left the expensive downtown offices he formerly maintained. Now, in his City Hall offices on the fifth floor—twice when the City Council is in session—and for sev- eral hours in the afternoon and eve- ning, he busies himself with his cabi- net, attempting to dispose of the execu- tive business.

Chicagoans see him on an after- noon driving up and down the new South Shore Drive in his red touring car, wearing the ten-gallon hat reminis- cent of ranching days in Nebras- ka and Montana. There is no pomp in his wake, no stopping of corners to flourish the hand out a greeting to

GRAFT ROW BONDS MADE IN ATLANTA

Suits to Recover Money Spent in Manipulations May Follow Indictments

ATLANTA (Ga.) March 2. (AP)—Threats of suits to recover asserted "grafted" money, denials of accusa- tions made in indictments and the posting of bonds by five of the twenty indicted were today's de- velopment in Atlanta's sensational city "graft" investigation.

Six members of the City Council, three other city officials, three for- mer city department heads, two real-estate men, two women and four other citizens, were indicted by the Fulton county grand jury yesterday.

W. P. Price, city purchasing agent, was among those who made bond today, calling at the County Jail and posting $5000. The others who made bond were Fred Wilson, clothier, $1000; R. D. Warren, for- mer member of the city Board of Education, $500; Councilman Jack Hardy, $500, and Bruce Baxter, su- perintendent of city garages, $500.

Threats of suits to recover money asserted to have been accepted as graft were made in a statement made public today by Walter McEl- reath, chairman of the citizens' committee, which has been working with the Solicitor-General during the investigation. He announced the suits will not be filed, however, unless convictions are obtained.

ZEPPELIN'S FLIGHT TO START SOON

Dirigible Expected to Take Off for America in Two Weeks

MADRID, March 2. (AP)—Private dispatches received here today said Dr. Hugo Eckener intended to start the Graf Zeppelin's flight to Amer- ica within the next two weeks.

The dispatches said the Zeppelin would fly to Rio Janeiro, thence to North America, and from there back to Europe, adding that twelve passengers would be taken aboard at Seville, the first stop of the trip. Preparations to supply the Zeppe- lin with gas have been started in Guadalajara.

It was reported here that Dr. Eck- ener would take Col. Emilio Herr- ara as second in command, and use two other Spanish aviation offi- cers as pilots.

NEW FRUIT FLY WARNING GIVEN

Secretary Hyde Tells How Pest Danger Lurks

Letter to Senator Fletcher Urges Continued Fight

Efforts Made to Counteract Appropriation Foes

BY LAWRENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 2. (Exclu- sive)—Secretary of Agriculture Hyde has given sharp warning in a let- ter to Senator Fletcher of Florida that because no fresh evidence of fruit fly infestation has been found recently in Florida that does not mean that the pest has been en- tirely eradicated and all danger of its spread to other sections of the country removed.

On the contrary, he declared this is the time for extreme precaution as the fly may have hibernated for the winter. He stated that the Federal government will continue its campaign with unabated vigor both in the laboratory and in the field. Entomologists most familiar with the fly situation are unanimous in the belief that infestation still exists in Florida and that there will be "ample evidence of this as the season progresses," the Secre- tary said.

WOOD'S INQUIRY

While not ostensibly so, Secretary Hyde quite apparently wrote the letter with the purpose of counter- acting the activities of Chairman Wood of the House Appropriations Committee, who is a vigorous foe of further eradication appropriations, and who now is in Florida with a subcommittee digging up testimony tending to show the fruit fly has been largely a false alarm and that there is no need for a further outlay of funds on the part of the Federal government.

The manner in which Mr. Wood is conducting the investigation and the nature of the testimony he has invited, has stirred up a flood of protests from prominent citizens in Florida and some of them, coming to Hyde, undoubtedly caused him to restate the dangers of the situation as viewed by his department ex- perts.

Senator Fletcher seized the letter as a signal for a blast of his own against the Wood inquiry and the political group responsible for opposition to the Agricultural De- partment program. This program contemplates the appropriation of $15,000,000 to carry on the eradica- tion fight this year.

POLITICS VS. EXPERTS

"Most of the opposition to the policies of the department," Fletcher declared, "originated in the minds of a group of designing poli- ticians who were unable last year to prostitute the work to their personal ends. Inasmuch as politi- cal control of future inspection and eradication work would inevitably spell ruin and destruction for the citrus industry of Florida, and also for certain vegetable industries, the question might as well be settled now whether it is to be carried on by men whose training qualifies them for the job, or shall be bungled by men whose sole object is to build up a political machine for selfish motives.

"The citrus and vegetable grow- ers of Florida might as well be committed now to financial ruin through failure of Congress to ap- propriate all funds necessary to forever stamp out this pest, as to have their future welfare placed in the hands of discredited politi- cians."

Secretary Hyde in his letter said that due to the rapidity with which inspections were made last year and the large area that had to be covered his department was not at all certain that incipient infesta- tion does not exist in some other Southern States. Moreover, he de- clared the fly may be dormant in warehouses over the country only to emerge in warmer weather and infect the crops of southern and western States where the climate is favorable to it.

Mexican States Study Reduction

MEXICO CITY, March 2. (AP)—The examples set by the Federal government in reducing the mem- bership of Congress as a means of economy has been followed by sev- eral States and others are studying similar action.

In the July Congressional elec- tions one member of the Federal Chamber of Deputies will be chosen for each 100,000 inhabitants instead of for each 60,000 as heretofore. Vera Cruz and Durango are among the States considering a similar re- duction in the local Congresses, while Sinaloa and several other States already have decided for such reduction.

CARDINAL'S WILL OPENED

Merry del Val Bequeaths Estate to Poor Missions and Asks Burial Near Pius X

VATICAN CITY, March 2. (AP)—The will of Cardinal Merry Del Val, former Secretary of State to the papacy who died last week, was opened this afternoon in the presence of his brother, Marcus Alfonso Merry Del Val, Spanish Ambassador to London, and of many ecclesiastics, it leaves all his estate to the congregation for the propagation of the faith with the express desire that everything be devoted to poor missions.

The cardinal expressed a wish for the humblest burial possible, but asked that he should be buried close "to my beloved father and Pontiff, Pius X." If this were impossible on account of his unworthiness, he wished to be buried in his titular church of St. Prassede.

When the Pope was informed of the contents of the will, he immedi- ately ordered that the late car- dinal's desire should be fulfilled and that his body be buried as near as possible to the tomb of Pius X in the Grotto of St. Peter's.

The funeral services will be con- ducted in St. Peter's tomorrow at 10:30 a.m.

The cardinal's will ended with the request that anyone whom he might have unwittingly offended during his life should forgive him and believe he had no intention at any time of injuring anyone.

COAST GOAL OF WEALTHY EX-CONVICT

Former Brooklyn Man on Way Here From Prison With $1,250,000 in Pocket

NEW YORK, March 2. (AP)—With approximately $1,250,000 in travel- ers' checks in his pockets, Charles T. Davis of Brooklyn, one of the world's richest ex-convicts, is en route in a private car from Clinton prison, Dannemora, N. Y., to a Cali- fornia ranch.

Davis has just completed eight years of a ten-to-twenty years' sen- tence for shooting to death a detec- tive in Davis's offices in Brooklyn. During his stay in prison, his wife, Mrs. Henrietta Davis, built up his surgical-appliance business from a $25,000 concern until it brought $2,496,020 on the open market last year.

Disagreement between the hus- band and wife as to the disposal of the business resulted last February in a court settlement. Mrs. Davis and her two children were awarded part of the assets and the husband received his share.

Mrs. Davis plans to remain for the present in Brooklyn.

Michigan Takes Steps to Stop Marathon Dance

DETROIT, March 2. (AP)—Eugene L. Brock, Michigan State Commis- sioner of Labor and Industry, indi- cated tonight he will seek warrants tomorrow for the arrest of persons conducting a marathon dance which has been going on at East Detroit since November 18, last.

At 8:30 o'clock tonight the dance had lasted 2543 hours, one hour less than 106 days, with five couples still dancing.

Brock will base his request for warrants on a section of the State labor laws which states that no woman shall be employed more than fifty-four hours a week or more than ten hours in any one day. He said that, in his opinion, the five young women engaged in the dance are being employed, since they re- ceive a share of the profits from admission charges.

FORD GIFT AIDS GIRLS' SCHOOL

Georgia Institution First to Receive Help

MOUNT BERRY (Ga.) March 2. (AP)—Henry Ford, who plans to de- vote his life and $100,000,000 to edu- cation, has made a million-dollar start in the Georgia mountains.

His first gift to education recently announced came to a school for mountain boys and girls, founded, developed and directed by a wom- an.

With Mrs. Ford, he gave $1,000,- 000 in buildings to the Berry schools, founded twenty-eight years ago by Miss Martha Berry in a lit- tle log cabin schoolhouse.

Expedition Establishes Radio Station On Most Northerly Point of La

ON THE most northerly point of land in the Arctic, the Isle Huker in Franz Joself Land, a radio station was erected last year by the Julius Schmidt expedition, as an aid to future polar flyers and expeditions. The expedition, returned to Germany only a short time ago, encountered severe hardships during its stay of many months in the Arctic and overcame innumerable obstacles in the construction of the station on the bleak shore. The members of the party supplied much of the meat and before their return none was averse to eating seal and polar bear. The photos below depicting phases of the activities of the expedition are the first to be released in this c (P. & A. p

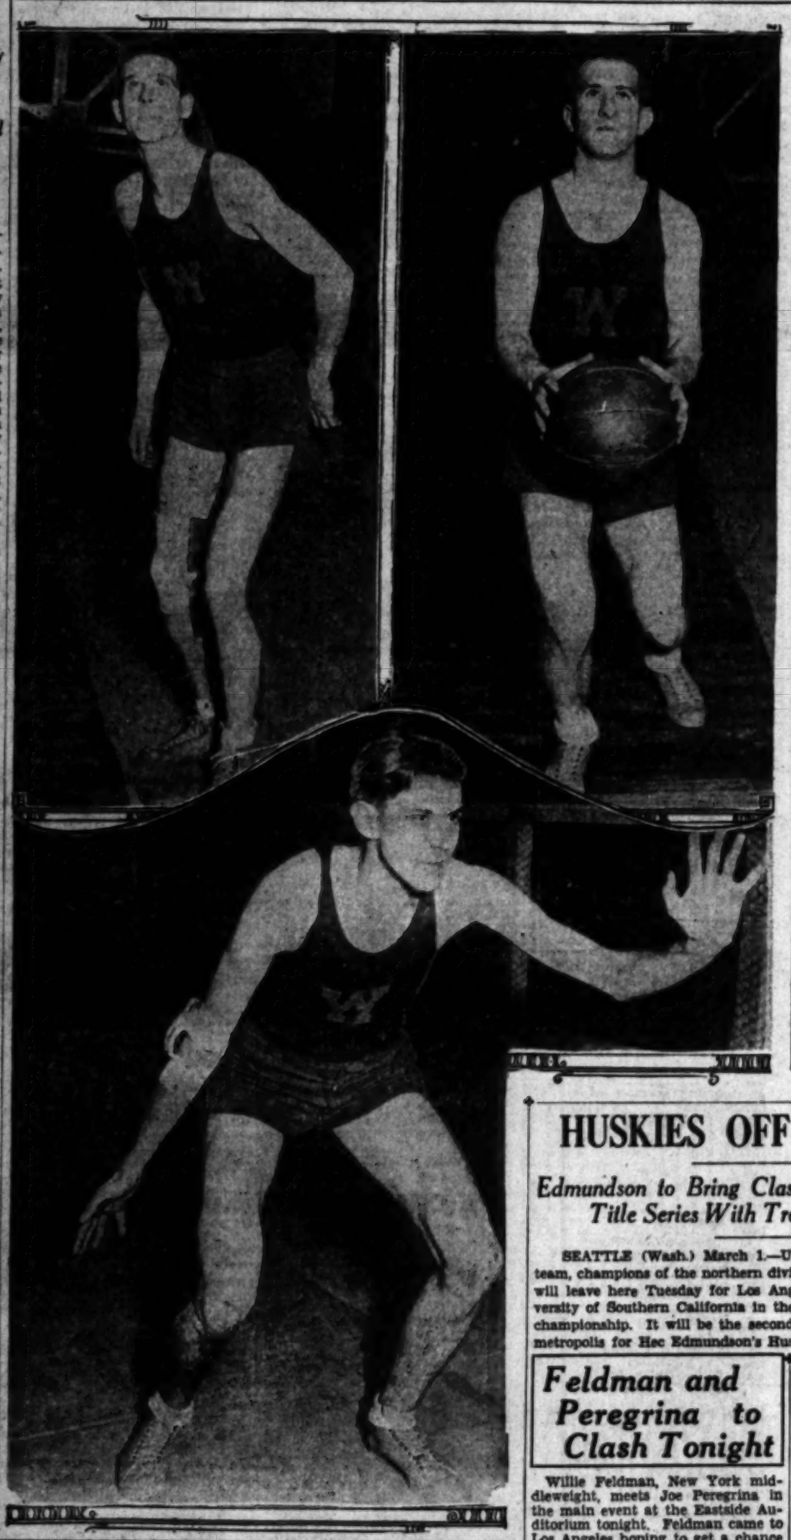
THE HUSKY SCORING THREAT

Here are the three leading basket shooters of the University of Washington cage team which will play the Trojans here Friday, Saturday and Monday, if necessary, for the conference championship. Jaloff, right, is the midget forward, who was second high scorer in the conference last year. McClary, center for three seasons, stands 6 feet 6 inches, and is the key man in the Husky attack. Swanson (below) has been made over from a guard to a forward, where his 6 feet 4 inches make him a conspicuous figure.



WARNER TO TRY OUT NEW PLAYS

Card Coach to Experiment With Grid Formations

"C" Type Will be Given Test by Stanford Mentor

"A" and "B" Systems May be Augmented at Palo Alto

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, March 2.—An experiment will be conducted next spring in the gridiron laboratories of Dr. Glen Scobey Warner, Stanford's erudite grid scholar.

Such was the admission made today by Dr. Warner himself, when questioned as to the authenticity of certain rumors afoot on the farm that Stanford is to have a "C" formation next fall as well as formations of the already well-known "A" and "B" types. While admitting that he intends to experiment, the veteran gridiron pedagogue denied that his research might bring about this third formation.

"We expect to work with a set of new plays during spring practice," he declared, "and they will call for a more or less revised formation, but one which is not new. If these plays turn out successfully, we shall use them in conjunction with our regular system and not as a substitute for it."

According to Warner, the new plays will be featured by a balanced line, in place of the traditional unbalanced forward wall of Stanford teams. The ends are to be stationed two yards out from the tackles instead of close in, and the wing halfbacks will stop up the holes between the tackles and the ends, one yard behind the scrimmage line.

Such an arrangement will aid in boxing the opposing tackles and clear the way for a more successful use of the reverse plays.

In this system the fullback and the quarter will occupy the same places as in the "B" formation, according to Warner. The former will be stationed some six yards behind the center, and the latter to be three yards back of the right guard. The quarter is the king pin of the Warner reverses, handling the ball on most plays, and the left half is to be used as a triple threat.

A formation almost identical to this was used against Southern Cali-

SERAPHS READY TO BEGIN WORK

Hollywood Champions Train at San Diego Camp

BY BOB RAY

The great army of unemployed loses several of its winter generals today when Jack Lelivelt's Angel regulars report at Wrigley Field and Skipper Vitt's champion Hollywood Stars check in at their San Diego camp for the common purpose of beginning spring training for the 1930 campaign.

Inasmuch as the Seraphs do their conditioning right in our own ball yard, they naturally will have most of the limelight. Skipper Lelivelt, who has been putting his pitchers and catchers through their paces for the past week, is highly satisfied with the way his batterymen have been coming along and believes that they will be able to serve up the regulars with some high-class batting practice.

Most of the Angel regulars arrived here during the past week to be on hand for the training start and it is expected that all of the Cherubs with the exception of George Harper and Bill Skiff, the holdout twins, will check in at Wrigley Field today.

Fred Haney, the league's champion base-stealer, who is going to captain the Cherubs from his third-base position this season, spent the winter in Los Angeles selling real estate and playing with Pirrone's All-Stars most of the week-ends. Haney expects to have a much better year than he did in 1929, which ought to be pleasant news for Angel fans. Carl Dittmar drove in from Baltimore last week, while Wes Schulmerich and Art Parker arrived from the wilds of Oregon recently. Infielder Frank Sigafoos and Outfielder Leo Burns also checked in over the week-end. Jigger Statz and Ray Jacobs, who will fill a couple of other regular positions for the Leliveltians, have been here all winter.

Johnny Moore, the fleet-footed flychaser from the Cubs, who will hold down left field for the Angels, is expected to be on hand for today's opening workout, but hasn't reported yet as far as we could learn last night from Oscar Cornelius Reichow, the broadcasting business manager of the Cherubs.

Aside from the above - mentioned athletes, Lelivelt will have a flock of rookies report today for tryouts with the Angels. In order to keep the field from being too cluttered up with ambitious spring trainers, Lelivelt has arranged to split the squad up in two sections, the rookies doing their work in the morning and the regulars com-

Edmundson to Bring Classy Cage Team South for Title Series With Trojans This Week-end

SEATTLE (Wash.) March 1.—University of Washington's basketball team, champions of the northern division of the Pacific Coast Conference, will leave here Tuesday for Los Angeles, where they will play the University of Southern California in the annual series for the Pacific Coast championship. It will be the second trip in three years to the southern metropolis for Hec Edmundson's Huskies.

The Huskies have won the northern title three straight years, but in 1928 lost to the Trojans in Los Angeles and last season succumbed to California in the play-off series, which was staged at Seattle.

The Husky attack centers around Hal McClary, elongated veteran, who has been playing first string for three years. Standing six feet six inches, he has been outstanding factor in the Husky success for the past three years. In the game against Oregon, which Washington won, 32 to 25, to take the northern crown, McClary scored 9 points in the last seven minutes of play to cinch the victory.

He has received considerable assistance from Jiggs Jaloff, who is exactly a foot shorter than McClary, and who plays considerable forward despite his lack of altitude. He is considered one of the best shots in the entire league and was second high scorer in the conference last season.

Hank Swanson, the other forward, is playing his second varsity year, although at a new position. He earned a letter at guard last season and started there this year, but was shifted to forward after the Gonzaga games and has been there ever since. He stands six feet four inches and has developed a sensational one-handed shot that is

Feldman and Peregrina to Clash Tonight

Willie Feldman, New York middleweight, meets Joe Peregrina in the main event at the Eastside Auditorium tonight. Feldman came to Los Angeles hoping to get a chance at Bert Colima. Peregrina's great showing against Colima made him a big card and Feldman jumped at the chance to take on the youngster. If he gets over the Colima match is as good as made.

Feldman boxed three bouts in the north before coming to Los Angeles, defeating Vincent Forgione, Homer Sheridan and Wilson Yarbo. He is a cagey boxer and a slashing hitter. Before coming west he lost a close decision to Maxie Rosenbloom, who recently decisioned Ace Hudkins.

Peregrina is taking a big chance in meeting the Jewish middleweight. By his great bout with Bert Colima the young Mexican became a big card and is in line for plenty of work if he can dodge reverses.

Feldman is a very fair boxer and a slashing hitter. With his greater

Jewish Heavyweight Back Following Ten Months' Tour; Seeks Campbell

Armand Emanuel, the boxing barrister is back in town. The San Francisco boxer who led the heavyweight parade on the Coast for many months during 1928 is ready to push his way back into the front ranks of the current crop, he announced yesterday upon his arrival on the Dollar Line steamship President Van Buren. Emanuel left the local field following a defeat by Ace Hudkins at Wrigley Field.

Since that time he has toured Europe and the eastern and midwestern cities of the United States. Emanuel met with two reversals during his eastern campaign. Jimmy Maloney, the Boston Fat Boy, won from him on a technical knockout in a go in which Emanuel insists he was fouled, and Dick Daniels took a ten-round decision from him in Minneapolis.

HINKLEY INJURED IN CRASH

EL CENTRO, March 2.—Speed Hinkley, driving his Paramount special, shot off the track on the eleventh lap of the forty-mile feature race in the imperial midwinter fair program here this afternoon, overturned and was taken to a hospital badly injured. Physicians stated that he probably would recover.

Kenny Stoddard was forced out in the twenty-first lap of the same race, when his car caught fire. The winner of the event was Ted Simpson in a Simpson special. His time for the forty laps was 33m. 16.4s. Francis Quinn in his Dayton thoroughbred took second place.

Al Gordon in his Morris special was the winner of the ten-mile event in 8m. with Kenny Stoddard second. Shorty Cantion won the first of two five-mile events with Herman Schurch second, and Ted Simpson won the other with Speed Hinkley second.

Hinkley's accident happened when he failed to make the turn at the south end of the track. Several spectators narrowly escaped injury.

Santa Monica Canyon Golfers Win Title by Single Point; Play-off Scheduled to Start Soon

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Although losing to San Diego, 6 to 3, in a final match played over the San Diego Country Club course at Chula Vista yesterday, while Fox Hills was winning from Virginia, 8 to 1, golfers of the Riviera Country Club won the championship in group No. 3, and will enter the play-off for the Peter Cooper Bryce trophy with the champions of the seven remaining divisions.

Final standings gave Riviera 30 points, Fox Hills, 29; San Diego, 27, and Virginia, 22.

BILL CONNOR

Riviera entered the final match with a six-point lead, but Fox Hills' smashing victory over the Long Beach club almost nipped the Santa Monica Canyon golfers at the tape.

The Riviera team played heads-up golf to win even three matches from the strong San Diego team, which is doubly hard to beat in its own backyard.

Results of individual matches were as follows:

G. W. Feciskow and N. F. Barker, Jr., (SD) defeated Jim Scott and Bill Derwin (R.) 3 and 1.

C. Keller and H. D. Stalnaker (SD) defeated F. Merritt and W. O. Merritt (R.) 1 up.

R. Pickford and P. V. Morgan (SD) defeated G. Arseneau and R. Tuck (R.) 6 and 4.

R. Fenstine and M. Barnes (SD) defeated William Conner and H. King (R.) 3 and 1.

K. Curtis and D. C. Burnham (SD) defeated Dave Rose and W. Davidson (R.) 7 and 5.

W. R. Whitcomb and A. Cosgrove (SD) lost to J. Saunders and D. Fairbanks (R.) 3 and 2.

R. Hegg and L. E. Russell (SD) lost to R. Young and W. Huber (R.) 2 and 1.

A. Reynolds, Jr., and C. W. Hall (SD) defeated W. Peniston and Pat Lay (R.) 6 and 4.

F. M. Hinkle and F. Johnson (SD) lost to T. Endicott and Dr. Hanna (R.) 3 and 2.

Riviera is the first to complete its schedule of matches.

Final matches are scheduled to be played in Groups 2, 6 and 7, while the remaining four divisions wind-up their season on Sunday.

George T. Cline, chairman of the team matches committee, will arrange a series of play-off matches between the eight divisional winners later in the month.

Team standings, as far as they have been reported, are as follows:

Group No. 1—Girard, 30; La Cumbre, 5; Oakmont, 1.

Group No. 2—San Gabriel, 28; Midwick, 25; Lakeside, 22; Bel-Air, 15.

Group No. 4—Returns incomplete.

Group No. 5—Mountain Meadows, 40; Victoria, 32; Red Hill, 28; Redlands, 19.

Group No. 6—Rancho, 46; California, 21; Brentwood, 17; Hollywood, 12.

Group No. 7—Los Angeles, 36; Flintridge, 29; Wilshire, 15; Annandale, 10.

Group No. 8—Returns incomplete.

In feature matches on Wednesday Midwick plays at Lakeside, while Bel-Air entertains San Gabriel in important contests; Group No. 7, will be featured by a return match between Los Angeles and Flintridge to be played over the latter's course.

FOX HILLS SECOND IN INTERCLUB RACE

By defeating Virginia, 8 to 1, Fox Hills yesterday finished in second place in Group No. 3 of the interclub team matches. The Culver City team finished only a point back of Riviera, which won the championship.

PENDERGRASS MAKES 300-YARD "ACE"

Lee Pendergram, a member of the strong Rancho Golf Club team, yesterday made a hole-in-one on the 300-yard fifteenth hole on his home course. Pendergram hit a terrific drive, the ball landing on the green. It took two hops and rolled into the cup.

Public Links Tourney Plans Only Thin Air

H. N. Woodcock, representative of the United States Golf Association on the public links section for Southern California, has been informed of a movement to bring the national public links championship to Los Angeles in 1932, but stated last night that no official action had been taken, and the matter is too far in the future to be given serious consideration.

Woodcock received a copy of a letter directed to Griffith Bonner of Los Angeles from Ganson Depew, chairman of the public links section of the U.S.G.A., agreeing that it would be nice to have the public championship in Southern California during the 1932 Olympic Games, but pointed out that the letter has no bearing whatsoever on awarding the championship.

"Anyone can write to the U.S.G.A. suggesting that a tournament be held in a certain place, just as one can write to the Olympic Games Committee suggesting a city for the Games ten years hence, but it doesn't mean anything," stated Woodcock.

So far public-course officials have taken little stock in bringing the national public links tournament to Los Angeles.

MISS GUIBERSON, RILEY, JR. WIN MIXED FOURSOMES

Miss Harriet Guiberson and O. W. Riley, Jr., won the mixed foursome at the Los Angeles Country Club yesterday, 88-13-75. Three were tied for second prize, Mr. and Mrs. John McNab, 95-19-76; Dr. and Mrs. Paul E. Holubek, 91-15-76; and Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Sanford, 92-16-76.

F. A. Hawkins, Jr., won the sweepstakes played over the north course on Saturday, 6 down-5 handicap-1 down. Dr. Paul F. Holubek won over the south course, 5 down-6 handicap-1 up.

35—Mrs. M. C. Levee.

36—Mrs. L. Schwab.

Miss Lucille De Long of the Coronado Country Club, played the course in 28, but was not playing in the tournament.

Jack Dempsey Seeks Mastro and La Barba

CHICAGO, March 2. (AP)—Promoter Jack Dempsey today opened negotiations for a ten-round bout between Earl Mastro, Chicago's ranking featherweight, and Fidel La Barba of Los Angeles, at the Coliseum the 21st inst., his next date.

WOMEN GOLFERS TEE OFF TODAY

DEL MONTE, March 2. (AP)—The qualifying round of the annual Pebble Beach women's golf championship will be played tomorrow with forty-three entrants, representing every section of California and several noted easterners and Canadians participating.

The qualifiers will struggle for places in the championship flight of sixteen, who will compete in match play ending in the finals Friday morning.

Miss Marion Hollins, former national champion and six times Pebble Beach winner, will tee off at 9:30 a.m., with Mrs. Gregg Lifur, former Southern California titlist, who also plays at scratch.

Mrs. Brent Potter of San Jose, leading Northern California entrant, and Mrs. Vera Hutchings of Vancouver, B. C., present Pacific Northwest champion, will be the second twosome off the tee.

Tennis Stars Invited Here

Invitations to participate in the approaching Huntington Hotel tennis championships at Pasadena have been mailed to many of Southern California's most prominent racket wielders by Stanley Welsh, hotel pro, who is in charge of the annual tournament.

Welsh has invited Edith Cross, Mrs. Anna McCune Harper, Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, Neil Brown and Gerald Stratford of the northern bay region to make the trip south and perform in the tourney. Helen Wills, Brown and Stratford have already answered in the affirmative.

Against this invasion will be pitted the elite of the Southland courts including Midge Gladman, Mary Greef, Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, Helen Marlowe and Gladys Pats in the women's singles, Ellsworth Vines, Jack De Lara, Ben Gorchakoff, Art Kussman, Lester Stoefen, Sidney Wood and Jack Tidball in the men's field.

The Huntington tournament is scheduled for a three-day run the 14th, 15th and 16th inst. Men's and women's singles and doubles are included on the program of events, and a probable exhibition mixed doubles featuring the renowned Berkeley star, Helen Wills. An exact list of entries will be published later. The singles are limited to sixteen in the male division and eight in the fair sex, the doubles events also limited to eight teams.

FILIPINOS TO ROOT FOR DADO THURSDAY

Morrie Cohan, the Crown City's youthful promoter, is planning a rooting section for the Filipinos next Thursday night at the Pasadena arena where Speedy Dado, the sensational Filipino flyweight, will take on Young Sport in the ten-round main event.

Sport is a big card in Pasadena, and many of the Crown City fans are stringing for an upset, with Sport getting his hand raised over Dado. Three weeks ago at the arena Sport upset the dope when he soundly trounced Jose Routis, after Routis had won over Ernie Hood by a technical kayo in seven rounds.

HOLLYWOOD PUCKS WIN

Defeat Richfield Oilers, 4 to 0, in Play-off Game at Winter Garden Ice Palace

Completely demoralizing their opponents in the final period after forty minutes of hard-fought play, the Hollywood Sheiks defeated the Richfield Oilers on the Winter Garden Palace ice last night, 4 goals to 0.

Peaches Headley put Hollywood in the lead shortly after the opening of the third period when he carried the puck down the ice single-handed to score.

At the ten-minute mark, Wolf Peltier tallied again for Hollywood, being unassisted in the attempt. Maher cinched the game for the Sheiks by following with a third goal in less than a minute after Peltier's shot found the net.

Peltier scored the final goal to make the score 4 to 0.

The Richfield team was handicapped by the absence of Irving, star defense man, who did not play.

TEAMS CONTINUE FEUD TONIGHT

An argument of considerable proportions started last night in the first Sunday hockey game ever played in this vicinity will be carried on with renewed vim and vigor when the bitterly hostile Los Angeles Richfields and Hollywood Millionaires come together tonight in the second game of a three-game series.

Sufficient interest is involved in this series to send the teams flying at each other's throats. Eyes of all teams in the California Hockey League at present are on second place and a position in the championship play-off, which is why this week's series looms so important.

As had been anticipated, last night's first game was one of those bitterly fought affairs in which both teams were dead in earnest. Because of a better point total the Richfields naturally are conceded more chance than the Millionaires of getting into the play-off, but there is plenty of confidence evident in the Millionaire stronghold.

JUNIOR OLYMPIC GAMES Training Tips

SECOND WEEK

Monday—Loosen up by jogging up and down track for 100 yards. Take three or four easy starts. Run two fifties with rest between. First one easy, second one fast. Five broad jumps. Toss a dozen long flies. Shoot twenty-five baskets. Chin for score.

Tuesday—Loosen up by shooting baskets from different angles on floor. Shoot twenty baskets twice for score. Run an easy 220 yards. High jump five or six times for spring action. Play catch for ten minutes. Chin five times for form. Light massage of arms and legs.

Wednesday — Toss long easy flies for ten minutes for form. Bounding exercises on straightaway for fifty yards. Run an easy 100 yards. Practice five or six starts. Three with gun and regulation start. Run fast fifty yards for time. Chin for score.

Thursday — Easy workout. Play catch and toss baskets for relaxation. Chin six times for form.

Friday—Warm up thoroughly and run through five events for score. Student executives should check each event for accuracy and figure up final score for future reference. Use same order of events used first Friday.

Events run off every second week should be run off in the same order and time as if competing in regular meet. Student executives should handle these preliminary meets and outstanding performers' records should be sent into the Junior Olympic Games committee, Times Building, Los Angeles. Highlights on past two weeks' performance should be given, together with the names of the various contestants.

Scores from week to week should be carefully preserved both by the contestant and a copy for the athletic director or organization head.

As each event should average 20 per cent of the total score, the score for each event should be checked and events that are under average should be perfected during the following week.

Each contestant should familiarize himself with the method used in securing coefficient as well as the manner of securing score for each event from scoring table. This information should be made available for contestants by posting the Junior Olympic Games manual on the bulletin board.

Final organization meets should not be held before April in order to allow contestants full opportunity to develop before the final elimination meet.

FILLY WINS BY A GOOD LENGTH

in the derby. Friday night Walsh offered $15,000 for outright ownership, was accepted, and today he cashed in $29,300 as first prize. Incidentally, Walsh is reported to have won a handsome side bet with Baron Long, who was considerably enthused over the prospects of his good colt Hatrick.

The time for the mile and one-eighth was 1:51 4-5, about a second slower than the track record.

SMASHING RACE

Mighty Victorian, favorite in the $140,000 Agua Caliente Handicap, which will be run the 23rd inst., made his initial appearance in a six-furlong dash, and was made favorite, despite the fact that it was his first out. He ran a smashing race, finishing fourth to My Dandy, Poppyfield and Shasta Bullet, and then worked slightly more than a mile.

He was in close quarters several times, but the winner was clearly best, in a great stretch drive.

Andromeda, a real good filly, set a new track record for the mile and sixteenth, when she won the Adolph Zukor Handicap in 1:44, breaking her own mark by two-fifths of a second. Alexander Pantages was five lengths back at the finish, with Scimitar getting the show. Golden Prince, last year's Coffroth winner, and favorite, was a very bad last.

First race, six furlongs, 2-year-olds and up, claiming, purse $600—Partiebon (Luther), 112, won; Lovelace (Hurlburt), 110, second; Pat K. (Schuits), 102, third. Time, 1:13 4-5.

Second race, mile, 3-year-olds and up, claiming, purse $600—Chief Caughey (Mesmer), 103, won; Vered (Richardson), 111, second; Melodora (Ellis), 114, third. Time, 1:41.

Third race, six and sixteenth, 4-year-olds and up, claiming, purse $600—Shasta Rose (Cleverley), 107, won; Female Lover (Ivers), 113, second; Fair Albert (Trivett), 108, third. Time, 1:46.

Fourth race, mile, 3-year-olds and up, claiming, purse $600—Baritone (Luther), 107, won; Smiling Princess (Cleverley), 102, second; Prospect (Muirooney), 109, third. Time, 1:39.

Fidel La Barba Favored to Whip Santiago Zorilla Tomorrow

X-FLYWEIGHT CHAMPION FIGHTS PANAMA INDIAN

Fidel Seeks Recognition in Front Ranks of Featherweights if He Wins at Olympic Tomorrow

BY KAY OWE

Fidel La Barba intends to step into the center of the feather-weight picture tomorrow night at the Olympic. La Barba will do it at the expense of Santiago Zorilla, according to the tentative card made by Fidel. Whether Zorilla will enter into the spirit of the thing remains to be seen. La Barba, who has three straight wins to his credit this year will rule a slight favorite to outthump the Panama Indian fighter.

But if Fidel should bow to the San Blas Indian, Zorilla would undoubtedly get the shot.

La Barba knows it as well as Zorilla and he intends to erase the Panamanian right out of the picture.

Both La Barba and Zorilla will jaw up about the same. They are the same height and their shoulders measure about alike. Zorilla is the flashiest boxer of the two, but La Barba always has something new on the ball when it is needed most.

Matchmaker Wad Wadhams has lined up some new faces for the preliminaries. In the semi-wind-up Red Humphries tackles Bobby Pacho. Humphries is making a comeback after a long layoff. Pacho recently made a big hit at El Centro in a fight with Johnny Torres.

Missou Pyle and Tony Moreno collide in the special over the six-round route. They are 129-pounders. The other two bouts, four-round affairs, feature Henry Rollins vs. Henry Moravec and Leo Reed vs. Howard Fritz.

A boxer and a gorilla named Charles II will clash in a novelty bout arranged by Si Masters. The gorilla will be brought into the ring under heavy guard.

fistic manager, did not buy his contract as reported some time ago. "Armand will fight Frankie Campbell if suitable terms can be arranged," Papa Emanuel declared. "We intend to give the field the once over in Los Angeles within the next few days before announcing our definite plans," he stated. The Emanuels are stopping at the Barbara.

MARSHALL IS DEFI TARGET

Sarpolis, La Doux Hurling Mat Challenges

Both Out to Face Winner of Main Battle

Monaghan Expected to Prove Colorful Star

Promoter Lou Daro has received challenges from both "Gorilla" Gene La Doux and Dr. Karl Sarpolis to meet the winner of Wednesday night's finish wrestling battle in the Olympic between Mick Lutze and Everett Marshall.

EVERETT MARSHALL

La Doux, who will clash with Jerry Monaghan, a rough 210-pound Phoenix grappler, declares Lutze's victory over him two weeks ago was a fluke, and he would like nothing better at this time than to get another match with the Venice life guard or with Marshall, if the airplane spin exponent defeats him.

The wild French-Canadian believes he can beat both Marshall and Lutze, while mat critics who have been watching Monaghan in training are of the opinion that La Doux will have all the trouble he is looking for to keep from suffering his second defeat here when he steps into the ring with the Irishman. Monaghan, it is reported, is as rough as La Doux and just as colorful a wrestler. He recently defeated both "Wild Bill" Shaw and Jack O'Malley.

Dr. Sarpolis, who is scheduled to meet Martin Zikovich in the opener of Wednesday night's mat card, declares he is entitled to a match with Lutze if the latter wins Wednesday night. He has held Lutze to two hour draws in the two matches he has had with him.

The wrestling physician also is after a return battle with Marshall. He believes he has learned enough about Marshall's style of wrestling to beat him should they ever meet again. Dr. Sarpolis has been wrestling steadily in the Northwest for the past few weeks, and returns to Los Angeles in much better condition than he was for his first meeting with the airplane spin expert.

Bruins Meet Bronco Nine

Intercollegiate baseball will make its initial 1930 appearance in Southern California this week when the University of California at Los Angeles baseball team entertains the Santa Clara College Broncos in a two-game series Friday and Saturday on the Westwood diamond.

The Bruin-Bronco series will mark the opening in local circles of the 1930 season of the California Intercollegiate Baseball League, to which both U.C.L.A. and the University of Southern California belong. The visitors will play the Trojan nine on the following Monday and Tuesday at Bovard Field.

Troeh Wins Trap Crown

Frank Troeh won the trapshooting crown yesterday afternoon in the finals of the annual president's and vice-president's three-day shoot held at the Los Angeles Gun Club. Troeh won the president's trophy, the vice-president's trophy, the 24-yard diamond and the all-around championship. The entrants in the tournament this year numbered 129.

More Pirates at Paso Robles

PASO ROBLES (Cal.) March 2. (AP)—The second squad of the Pittsburgh Pirates, including Pie Traynor, Paul and Lloyd Waner, George Grantham, and Adam Comoroskey, arrived in camp today. Gus Suhr, former Pacific Coast star, who is expected to get the call at first base, also was in the party.

Vice-President Sam Dreyfuss today announced the release of Floyd Young of Jamestown, N. C., infielder and outfielder, to the Columbia (S. C.) club. Young played last season with Greensboro of the Piedmont League.

AMATEUR ICE LOOP NEARS LAST GAME

Ice hockey fans will get what will probably be their last peek this year at Hector Proulx and his Van Fleet-Durkee ice hockey team when the Service pucksters encounter Dave Patrick's youthful Arrowhead Valley Club sextet tonight on the ice at the Palais De Glace rink. There is only one game remaining in the schedule after tonight and then the play-off for the senior league championship will start. The Van Fleets have a team which is admitted to be one of the strongest amateur aggregations in the south, and they will be anxious to prove to their backers that they can step lively, by trouncing the Arrowheads.

The line-ups:

Arrowhead Club		Van Fleet-Durkee
W. Castillon	Goal	Urland
Patrick	Defense	Howard
Cooper	Defense	W. Richards
Durran	Center	H. Proulx
McGrath	Wing	O. Proulx
Hebert	Wing	N. Proulx
Neal	Wing	Robertson

BURKE SELECTED ON POLO COMMITTEE

NEW YORK, March 2. (AP)—Tommy Hitchcock, Jr., captain of the American polo team which will defend the International Cup against Great Britain this year, has selected a committee of five to take charge of all arrangements for the matches. Hitchcock was elected chairman of the defense committee sometime ago.

Serving with him on the committee will be Carleton F. Burke of Los Angeles; D. Stewart Iglehart, Westbury, N. Y.; George H. Mead, Aiken, S. C.; A. Charles Schwartz, New York, and John Hay Whitney of Manhasset, N. Y.

DE MAR DEFEATED IN HOUSTON MARATHON

HOUSTON (Tex.) March 2. (AP)—Breasting a stiff north wind all the way, Fred Ward, Jr., of Dover, N. J., running under the colors of the Millrose A.C., New York, won the first annual national A.A.U. twenty-mile marathon today in 2h. 12s. He won in a fast sprinting finish with Clarence De Mar, veteran long-distance ace from the Melrose A.A., Boston.

DOUBLE DUTCH WINS

AUTEUIL (France) March 2. (AP) Double Dutch, 4-year-old by Sansouci, youngest thoroughbred in the field, won the Beugnot stakes at two miles and three furlongs here today and paid 5 to 1 in the betting. Prince Du Sang was second and Himar third.

SARAZEN WINS FLORIDA PLAY

Gene Shoots Final Round of 69 to Cop With 282

Joe Turnesa Annexes Second Place; Scores 285

Harry Cooper Falters After Leading Field

BELLEAIR (Fla.) March 2. (AP)—Gene Sarazen, stocky professional from New York, today won the fifteenth annual Florida west coast open golf tournament with a 72-hole score of 282.

He started the final round three strokes behind Joe Turnesa of Elmsford, N. Y., but uncorked a brilliant 69, one stroke under par, and when the final scores were posted he held a three-stroke lead over Turnesa, who finished second with 285.

The victory was worth $1000 to Sarazen. He also received a gold medal and will have his name inscribed on the Morton plant trophy.

In third place, two strokes behind Turnesa, came Johnny Farrell, New York and St. Augustine, former national open champion. He in turn led Bobby Cruickshank, another New Yorker, by a single stroke. Cruickshank, considered out of the running this morning, turned in rounds of 70 and 71 to capture fourth money.

Harry Cooper, Los Angeles, who scored a fine 65 yesterday morning, finished fifth with a total of 290.

Of the first four to finish, three were members of the Ryder Cup team. The training they received on the wind-swept dunes of Scotland and England in their European invasion stood them in good stead today, for the players awakened this morning to a wind of gale proportions. It was the low, screaming "windcheater" shouting manufactured by Sarazen's irons that carried him to victory.

Turnesa, after a ragged start this morning, made a gallant finish to assume a three-stroke advantage over Farrell and Sarazen, but as Turnesa embarked upon this afternoon's jaunt he found the gale and the tortuously trapped number one course more of an assignment than he could cope with.

The largest gallery followed the Turnesa, Farrell, Cooper trio, but the news of Sarazen's spurt sent them flocking to Gene. Sarazen carded a 68 for his first round over the short No. 3 course, added a 72 over the long course yesterday afternoon, made a fine finish to card a 73 this morning and then lowered par with by far the best round of the tournament over the wind-swept No. 1 this afternoon.

The brilliance of Sarazen's golf today is best understood when such players as Al Espinosa, Chicago, and Whiffy Cox, New York, scored 80 and 81, respectively, this afternoon. Both players were up among the leading ten at the end of three rounds.

Johnny Farrell received an additional $100 prize for making the most threes on today's round.

Sarazen's card—Morning round:
Out 454 544 442—37
In 453 534 434—36—72

Afternoon round:
Out 444 343 434—33

Moore, Doyle Leave Today for Big Race

Lou Moore, Hollywood racing pilot, and Dick Doyle, well-known mechanic who will head his pit crew, will leave Los Angeles today for Indianapolis where they will begin making preparations for the 500-mile classic Memorial Day.

While in the East, Moore and Doyle will represent the American Legion Speedway here and will endeavor to induce foreign drivers and car owners to come to Los Angeles for appearances following the event at Indianapolis.

Moore led a goodly portion of the Indianapolis race last year but went out of the going when his car contracted engine trouble with only a few laps remaining. Doyle is the holder of the world's quick time changing record. The hefty mechanic turned the trick for George Souders at Indianapolis in 1927 when he took off a wheel and put one on in the phenomenal time of 8 4-5s.

Bruin Netters Annex Twice

The tennis team of the University of California at Los Angeles scored a double victory Saturday over the netters of Pomona College and Caltech. Coach Bill Ackerman of the Westwood university split the team, sending the first squad to Claremont to oppose the Sagehens and the second squad to Pasadena against the Engineers.

The first team defeated the Sagehen racketeers in easy fashion by a 7-to-0 score, while the second outfit drubbed Caltech, 5 to 2. The summary:

U.C.L.A. 7; Pomona, 0.—Leonard Dworkin (U.C.) defeated Bent (P.), 6-1, 6-1; Cliff Robbins (U.C.) defeated Baker (P.) 6-3, 6-1; Lewis (U.C.) defeated Ford (P.) 6-0, 6-2; Schultz (U.C.) defeated Covington (P.) 6-4, 6-0; Struble (U.C.) defeated Brickley (P.) 6-0, 6-0. Doubles—Struble and Schultz (U.C.) defeated Baker and Covington (P.) 6-3, 6-3; Dworkin and Robbins (U.C.) defeated Bent and Ford (P.) 6-1, 7-5.

U.C.L.A. 5; Caltech, 2.—Kelch (U.C.) defeated Carr (T.) 6-2, 6-3; Whitaker (U.C.) defeated Hamilton (T.) 6-4, 6-3; Carey (T.) defeated Graves (U.C.) 1-6, 6-3, 6-4; Bolley (U.C.) defeated Bethlow (T.) 10-8, 6-3, 6-1; Poser (U.C.) defeated Coleman (T.) 6-2, 6-0. Doubles—Kelch and Graves (U.C.) defeated Scott and Carr (T.), 6-2, 7-5; Bethlow and Carey (T.) defeated Bolley and Whitaker (U.C.), 6-3, 1-6, 7-5.

DELIVERY NINE COPS

The Advance Delivery baseball team defeated the Norwalk State Hospital baseball nine yesterday afternoon by the score of 6 to 2. The game was played at Norwalk.

Baron Beaten by Bill Tilden

MONTE CARLO, March 2. (AP)—Big Bill Tilden eliminated the Italian ace, Baron H. L. de Morpurgo in the semifinals of singles in the Butler trophy tennis tournament here today. The scores were 6-2, 7-5, 6-1. Earlier in the day, Tilden paired with Wilbur F. Coen of Kansas City, had defeated Henry W. Austin and Charles Kingsley of England in the doubles finals, 6-2, 1-6, 9-7, 6-3.

In the semifinals of the open men's doubles, Morpurgo and Coen defeated Tilden and Kingsley, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2.

Whatever you go

Spit is a horrid word,
but it is worse on the end of your cigar

...the war against Spitting is a crusade of decency...join it. Smoke CERTIFIED CREMO!

"It serves him right," we say when the fancy spitter is caught in the act. For spitting is an outrage against public decency. And yet, thousands continue to smoke cigars rolled by dirty, yellowed fingers that tip the ends in spit! For more than half of all cigars made in this country are still made by hand, and therefore subject to the risk of spit!

Certified Cremo protects you against this abomination! Every tobacco leaf entering the clean, sunny Certified Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods developed by the United States Government during the war. And its purity is safeguarded along every step of the way by amazing inventions that foil, wrap and tip the cigars without the possibility of spit!

Try a Certified Cremo—see how wonderfully good it is! Made of the choicest, tenderest leaves that the crop affords, we claim Certified Cremo's quality is tastier than that of any other cigar. Don't let its 5c price stand in your way. Your physician has in mind a cigar like Certified Cremo when he recommends a mild smoke in place of heavy brands.

Crush-proof...immaculate...foil-wrapped ... Certified Cremo is the kind of cigar the late Vice-President Marshall undoubtedly was thinking of when he said: "What this country needs is a good 5c cigar!"

THE SON OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

The old half-caste had just dragged Meriem into the rear chamber as Korak's knife slit a six-foot opening in the tent wall. The lithe figure of a jungle Adonis sprang through upon the astonished visions of the inmates. Meriem saw and knew him the instant he appeared and her heart sang with pride and joy. "Korak!" she cried. "Save me!" "Meriem!" Korak fairly shouted the word in his amazement at finding she was the captive.

The Killer's fingers closed upon the throat of the hideous Ali. His knife plunged deep and the Arab was put out of harm's way. Korak turned toward Meriem and at the same instant a blood-stained, dishevelled apparition leaped into the tent. "Morison!" cried the girl. Korak turned, to see the man he had left in the tree-shelter. About to take Meriem in his arms, Korak hesitated. What was this fellow to her, and she to him?

A wave of misery swept over the ape-man. Already from without came alarming sounds. Men were running toward the tent. There was no time to be lost. "Quick!" cried Korak to Baynes, who scarce yet realized whether he was facing a friend or foe. "Take her to the palisades. Here is my rope; with it you can scale the wall and make your escape." "But you, Korak?" cried Meriem. "I will remain," replied the ape-man, grimly, "I have business with the Sheik!"

Meriem would have demurred, but the Killer, seizing them both, hustled them through the slit wall and out into the shadows beyond. "Now run for it!" he commanded, and turned to meet his foes. The ape-man fought well—fought as he never had before; but the odds were too great for victory, though he won what he most desired—time for the Englishman to escape with Meriem. Then he was overwhelmed by numbers, bound, and carried to the Sheik's tent.

SAN DIEGO AREA LEASED FOR OIL

Olympic Refining Gets Tract Near City Limits

Rumor Says Wildcat Project to Start Shortly

Concern Asserted Subsidiary of Dollar Steamship

Unofficial reports from San Diego yesterday were to the effect that the Olympic Refining Company, which has about 1500 barrels of production per day in Los Angeles basin fields, has leased 4000 acres in Otay Mesa, near that city, and will start a wildcat oil well there within a month. The Olympic outfit is assertedly a subsidiary of the dollar steamship interests. A Long Beach drilling organization is said to have taken a lease on 2500 acres adjoining the Olympic lease.

The property taken over by Olympic is owned by R. E. Harrison, a San Diego real estate subdivider, who is said to be assured of $1000 a month rental until the company starts drilling. H. G. Fenton is associated in the deal. Olympic is understood to be planning to move its own derrick and drilling equipment from Santa Barbara county, and expects to get the drill at work within a month or six weeks.

This activity has stimulated considerable interest in and around San Diego, owing to the fact that there already is a wildcat well drilling in the Point Loma area, with substantial gas showings. Another wildcat has been drilling near Escondido.

NEW MEXICO OIL PROJECT STIRS HOPES

Magnolia's Lindley No. 1 in Eunice District in Promising Showings

ARTESIA (N. M.) March 2. (Exclusive)—The Lindley No. 1 of the Magnolia Petroleum Company on Sec. 28, 25-36, in the Eunice district may prove to be an important well for this area if carried deeper. Recently two showings were found in the well at 3236 to 3240 feet and from 3261 to 3277 feet. At 3325 feet the well made 220 barrels in twenty-four hours.

More than 2000 feet of oil is standing in the Henderson-Dexter & Arnold No. 1 in Eastern Eddy county on Sec. 23, 17-30, after encountering a third lime break at 3260 feet. Drillers believe that a good well will be obtained before 3300 feet is reached. West of the Pecos River, R. D. Compton has encountered a third shallow oil showing in his State No. 1 on Sec. 33-25, at a depth of 775 feet.

After a shutdown of several months, the Jennie Hughes No. 1 of Hodges et al. on Sec. 27, 19-38, south of the Hobbs area, is reported to be preparing to start drilling operations again at 4012 feet.

Promising Gas Strike Made in M'Kittrick Area

McKITTRICK, March 2. (Exclusive)—Gas formation of seemingly great possibilities has been encountered by H. L. Whiston in the drilling of his Midway-McKittrick well No. 1 on Sec. 30, 30-22, in the McKittrick field.

A few days ago the well blew in from a depth of 4650 feet and scattered mud all over the adjacent landscape. The gas was subdued with difficulty and drilling has been resumed with the bit down more than 4800 feet. It is reported that Whiston plans to drill to at least 5000 feet before making a production test.

Magnolia's Lindley No. 1 in Eunice District in Promising Showings

EUNICE (N. M.) March 2. (Exclusive)—The Lindley No. 1 of the Lindley Petroleum Company on lot 2, 2-36, in the Eunice district may prove to be an important well for this area if carried deeper. Heavy oil showings were found from the oil at 3236 to 3240 feet and from 3262 to 3277 feet. At 3325 feet the well made 220 barrels in twenty-four hours.

More than 2000 feet of oil is standing in the Henderson-Dexter & Arnold No. 1 in Eastern Eddy county in Sec. 23, 17-30, after encountering a third lime break at 2300 feet. Drillers believe that a good well will be obtained before 2400 feet is reached. West of the Pecos River, R. D. WILDCAT AT SHALE HILLS SPURS HUNT

Project of Gerard Oil Company Seeking to Tap High-Gravity Zone

TAFT, March 2. (Exclusive)—Wildcat drilling in the Shale Hills near Taft has been given fresh impetus by the drilling activity of the Gerard Oil Company on the southwest quarter of Sec. 8, 26-18, where the company is making good footage in its Watken No. 1.

Nicholas P. Gerard of Los Angeles is at the head of the company which expects to find a high-gravity oil-bearing formation at comparative shallow depth, while deeper prospects are expected between 1800 and 2300 feet.

The well is located on the structure located for the United States government by Walter English. Umberto Young, geologist, completed the details of the geological study, which indicates that the oil found in the district probably will be of high gravity.

The property being drilled is said to be the only piece of land in the area held in fee, the balance being held by the government. Several wells have been drilled in that area, but none of them was carried to completion, although excellent showings were encountered.

Gerard's Watkens No. 1 is thought to be located over a structure folded and pushed up from both sides, north and south. The structure itself runs northwest by southeast, which is characteristic of nearly all the large pools in California. Cable tools are being used in the well.

MINE CREW OF CANANEA ABOUT FULL

Copper Property Said to be Operating With Nearly Normal Force

NOGALES (Ariz.) March 2. (Exclusive)—From Cananea comes report that the Cananea Consolidated Copper Company is operating about the usual number of men, full time. There had been a statement that many men had been laid off and that there was destitution in large degree. The company is building a large power plant at Ajo de Agua and is constructing a number of expensive apartment-houses for its workmen.

The Boleo Copper Company, with property and smelter at Santa Rosalia, Lower California, is reported to be successful in suppression of disorder following a strike against a decrease of wages. The mines are stated to be in operation at about the usual production. The camp is almost a closed one, owned by a French corporation that has its own steamship line direct to France.

American prospectors cannot dispense with formalities when they cross the international line, even in hot search for bonanzas just discovered. This fact has been made known to a half-dozen Yuma residents arrested and fined at the Mexican customs office at Sonoita. They had heard of wonderful gold diggings in the hills south of Ajo, but were apprehended before they had reached their goal.

ARGONAUT MINE TO SINK DEEPER

SACRAMENTO, March 2. (Exclusive)—With a four-foot ledge of rich gold ore showing sixty feet below the 5600-foot level, the Argonaut Mining Company is preparing to sink to greater depth. The main ledge between the 5400 and 5600 levels is officially stated to sample around $40 per ton, with the four-foot vein at the bottom of the sixty-foot sump assaying $220 per ton. The ore shoot is said to be among the richest opened in the famous old producer in many years. The mill is treating a substantial tonnage of ore said to average $22 per ton.

The Divide Extension Consolidated Mines Company has been formed to take over all assets of the Divide Extension Company including an option held on the noted Young America mine, near Sierra City. The purchase price of the Young America is $200,000, payable in four and one-half years, with royalties on marketed ore and bullion to apply on the purchase.

The property is stated to contain a large reserve of commercial gold ore. Other assets of the corporation include the original property at Divide, Nev., and 500,000 shares of the capital stock of Tybo Dominion Company, working silver-lead properties near Tybo, Nev. The company is composed largely of Southern California, San Francisco and Nevada people.

The Canyon Creek Placers, Ltd., has acquired the Dannenbrink-Clarke placers in the Junction City area of Trinity county. The holdings embrace twenty claims located on Canyon Creek, and have produced considerable gold. The new owners are installing equipment and preparing for comprehensive operations.

The Taber Development Company reports the rim of the old channel on its drift-gravel mine near La Porte, Plumas county, has been tapped by the 1300-foot tunnel, and that an incline is going down in gravel sampling $10 to $15 in gold per cubic yard. Gravel extracted in development work is washed, and the incline being driven about 100 feet to tap the main pay streak. Pumps, sluices and other equipment have been installed. The company is also developing the noted old Gibraltar gravel property, recently purchased. This property lies about ten miles from the Taber.

TEXAS DRILLERS ASK LAW

Overproduction Regulation Put Up to Legislature by Governor at Independents' Request

AUSTIN (Tex.) March 2. (Exclusive)—Gov. Moody has informed the special committee of the Texas Independent Petroleum Association, headed by Charles L. Morgan of Fort Worth, that he will submit to the Legislature "subjects designed to relieve distressing conditions in reference to crude oil, but that in doing so it is distinctly understood that he does not commit himself to the details of any proposed bill."

All of the propositions recommended by the independent oil operators have been included in one bill which attorneys for the association have drafted and which will be introduced in the Legislature Monday. The several provisions are as follows:

MADE PUBLIC UTILITY

That storage facilities connected with pipe lines or otherwise shall be public utilities; that no utility shall discriminate between patrons in rates, storage or service; that bonds shall be required of these utilities to obey the law and regulations of the Railroad Commission and to exercise ordinary care in the storage, preservation, handling and delivery of all petroleum and its products, and shall guarantee the classification, measurement and grades made by such public utility; that the Railroad Commission shall make and enforce rules covering facilities to be furnished, rates and regulations for storage and handling, grading and delivery of petroleum and its products; that the utility shall have prior lien for its charges; that the Railroad Commission may require extending or enlarging of pipe line facilities and pipe lines. That those engaged in purchasing petroleum affiliated with common carriers shall be common purchasers, and buy without discrimination; that it shall be unlawful to discriminate against any kind or quality of oil or in favor of its own production; that the taking of oil shall be in proportion of production; that the Railroad Commission shall be the judge of reasonableness as to discrimination, and may, after hearing, relieve the utility of buying inferior petroleum.

WILBUR ASKED TO AID

Gov. Moody has addressed a letter to Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, suggesting that the Federal Oil Conservation Board ask importers of crude petroleum to reduce the amount of that product imported to this country for refining purposes.

"Crude oil produced in this country is now being sold on a distressed market," Gov. Moody wrote, "and in some instances crude oil produced in the United States is selling below the cost of production. To shut down the refineries for any period of time would mean to reduce the market for crude petroleum and thereby increase the asserted surplus of crude."

NEW TEXAS DEEP WELL ANNOUNCED

Project of Big Lake Oil Company Producing at 8540-Foot Level

BIG LAKE (Tex.) March 2. (Exclusive)—Another producing well in the Big Lake field has taken from the 8525-foot well of the Texon Oil and Land Company the distinction of being the deepest producing oil well in the world. This record-breaking well is that of the Big Lake Oil Company. From a formation at 8540 feet it is producing 168 barrels daily. This well is still drilling.

The well was originally drilled to a depth of 8379 feet on October 11, 1929. Its depth on February 22 was 103 feet below the original world's deepest producer. The oil tests 56.3 degrees gravity,—the same as that of the Texon Oil and Land Company's well. The Big Lake Oil Company has another well in the field which is producing more than 600 barrels of this high grade oil daily from a depth of 8233 feet, and has another which is 8221 feet deep and is producing 175 barrels daily.

The 8525-foot well of the Texon Oil and Land Company had produced up to February 22 approximately 1,077,224 barrels. Its gas flow on that date was 27,500,000 cubic feet a day. This oil is selling under contract at $1.40 a barrel. All of the wells are on land owned by the University of Texas, which institution receives one-eighth of the proceeds from the sale of the oil.

ARIZONA WILDCAT SHOWS PROGRESS

TUCSON (Ariz.) March 2. (Exclusive)—The wildcat well near Benson, east of Tucson, has reached about 1500 feet of depth, after passing through several hundred feet of blue shale. By means of ten-inch casing, it is hoped to shut off heavy water flows struck at 330 and 500 feet. Exploration is by an Oklahoma syndicate, represented by Carl Hanson. New machinery is on hand, with expectation of drilling to 3500 feet.

SAN JOAQUIN PRODUCTION IN INCREASE

January Figures Show 222,846 Barrels Gain Over December

BAKERSFIELD, March 2. (Exclusive)—Oil production in the San Joaquin Valley increased 222,846 barrels in January over the previous month. Total production from the valley fields in January was 4,990,267, compared with 4,767,421 barrels for December, 1929. The daily average for January was 160,977 barrels, as compared with 153,787 for December, a daily increase for January of 7190 barrels.

During January there were 4806 producing wells in the eleven oil fields. Production by fields was as follows:

Midway-Sunset, 2,256,593 barrels; Kern River, 628,619; Elk Hills, 519,720; Kettleman Hills, 403,842; Mt. Poso, 389,638; Coalinga, 285,941; Lost Hills-Belridge, 155,212; McKittrick, 147,969; Fruitvale, 97,193; Round Mountain, 87,193; Wheeler Ridge, 19,116 barrels.

During January there were twenty-one wells completed with a total initial daily output of 12,339 barrels. Thirteen of these were in the Midway-Sunset field, having an initial flow of 8259 barrels a day.

Sixty wells were actively drilling, and there were twelve new holes started.

PASADENA MINE GROUP EXPANDS

RENO (Nev.) March 2. (Exclusive)—Homer L. Gibson of Pasadena and associates have expanded their holdings on the Silver City area of the Comstock Lode by bonding of the Silver City group and millsite. The new deal gives the Gibson interests control of many of the best sections of the district, including the Cliff House, Murphy-Byers and South Comstock groups.

Sinking of a 100-foot shaft has commenced, with a cross-cut to be driven to the main vein of the Murphy-Byers from the 100-foot level. Several strong veins of gold ore are said to be indicated. Product will be treated at the McTigue mill, controlled by the syndicate.

The new cross-cut tunnel of the American Development Company has encountered the main barium deposit near Eagleville, and arrangements are being completed to raise the daily output to fifty tons. The deposit near the surface is eight feet wide and is said to exceed ten feet in the new tunnel workings. The product is shipped to California markets.

The Majestic Mining Corporation, controlled by Miss Belle McCord Roberts and G. A. Smith of Long Beach, has started work with a small crew on its gold-silver properties in the Cortez district, south of Beowawe. Supt. M. J. Hough states operations will be conducted along broad lines with arrival of spring. Particular attention will be devoted to a series of promising gold-bearing deposits.

Discovery of an eight-foot ledge of tungsten ore in its Silver Dyke mine, near Sodaville, is reported by the Nevada-Massachusetts Company. The ore was struck by the new cross-cut tunnel approximately 200 feet below the old workings, and occurs in a belt of scheelite said to be sixty feet wide. The new seventy-five-ton concentration plant is scheduled to go into commission this week. The new ledge is said to run around 1½ per cent tungsten, with a large tonnage indicated.

MINE TO HAVE POWER PLANT

MIAMI (Ariz.) March 2. (Exclusive)—Nearing completion is a $1,000,000 electrical reconstruction program of the Miami Copper Company. There has been installation of a 2800-horsepower automatic hoist, that may be controlled by push buttons or be set so as to operate automatically. At the concentrator are new separately operated 600-horsepower motors, with new generating equipment in the power house, as well as new boilers. Transmission of power is by duplicate lines, to avoid a possible shutdown in case of accident.

Some remarkable ore is reported developed on the twenty-third and twenty-fourth levels of the Old Dominion, at Globe, the supply declared ample to insure operation for two years at least. The mine is notable as one of the few lode copper properties of the Southwest, mined still in pioneer fashion. Values are good and the ore carries considerable gold. Much of the extraordinary water flow is picked up at midlevels and is sold to the Miami concentrators.

Workings are being retimbered of the old Bobtail property, new hoisting and pumping equipment is being installed and provision has been made of new buildings, shops and offices. The shaft is to be continued to 300 feet, where drifting is to be pushed. Mark Bradley is in charge.

Ten per cent copper ore, carrying also gold, silver and lead values, is being shipped to Douglas from the American mine, west of Miami. L. Quinn is at the head of the operating syndicate.

OIL INDUSTRY PLANS BANQUET

Annual Gathering Arranged for Thursday Night

E. B. Reeser Slated to Make Address of Evening

President Macmillan to Tell of Year's Activities

E. B. REESER

Under the chairmanship of William H. Geis, the wildcat committee of the California Oil and Gas Association is making final arrangements for its annual banquet to take place in the Biltmore Thursday at 7 p.m.

Definite arrangements have been made for E. B. Reeser, president of the American Petroleum Institute and head of the Barnsdall Corporation, to deliver the principal address. His subject will be "The Oil Industry as I See It."

The opening address of the evening will be delivered by Herbert R. MacMillan, president of the California Oil and Gas Association, who will discuss the year's work, and give some sidelights on the necessity for concerted action in production curtailment.

The program committee has arranged for a snappy series of orchestra numbers, and an hour of Panchon and Marco variety features under the direction of E. A. Keate. The talks will be brief and to the point, Chairman Geis declares, and the music and dancing will be given an unusual allotment of time.

H. R. MACMILLAN

Edwin Higgins, managing director of the association, reported yesterday that upward of 1000 reservations for the banquet already have been made, and that between 1200 and 1400 persons are expected.

NEW GROUP IN CONTROL OF PLACER

Harmony Ridge Deposit Near Nevada City Taken by Western Merger

GRASS VALLEY, March 2. (Exclusive)—Western Merger Mines Company announces its acquisition of the Harmony Ridge placer deposits near Nevada City, and plans for intensive development of a wide belt of promising gravel. Most of the territory is virgin, and it is planned to seek the old channel through an incline shaft. Arrangements are being made to install equipment and connect machinery with the transmission lines of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company. Work on the Randolph quartz mine has been discontinued.

Both the Genii and Aladdin companies have opened profitable gold-bearing gravel on the Mammoth channel and branches in the Magalia district, near Chico, according to officials. One cross-cut from the Genii tunnel is said to show a gravel deposit nine feet wide by nine feet thick, with an extensive acreage ahead of the lateral. A second cross-cut is stated to show coarse gold and small nuggets. The Aladdin company recently resumed work on the promising deposits uncovered last fall. Both companies expect to start gold production shortly.

WEEK EVENTFUL IN OIL CIRCLES

Adoption of Plan for Output Slash Important

Cut in Flush Areas Expected to be Gradual

Outside States Reported as Watching Test

Acceptance of the oil-curtailment program by a majority of the operators throughout the State was the outstanding accomplishment in oil circles during the past week, and its progress will be watched with interest by producers in other oil-producing States.

After many days of anxiety the fact-finding committee presented its report to the general committee, calling for a daily flow of 809,000 barrels of oil instead of 703,000 barrels, which is the State's potential. To reach that figure, nine flush producing fields must curtail 43 per cent, while the thirty fields listed under Group No. 2 will have an average curtailment of 40 per cent and Kettleman Hills will suffer a cut of 79.23 per cent.

The Santa Fe Springs field's operators were the last to officially accept the plan. Their delay was based on the curtailment required. They asked for a 43 per cent cut instead of 50 per cent, and in order to gain that, 45,000 barrels a day had to be allocated to the fields in the second group. This move was accepted by both groups as the only way to reach an agreement.

There is little likelihood that all of the flush fields will be prepared to cut their flow to the desired quota during the early portion of the new agreement, as they are still beaming down slowly from the recent six-day flow test. Among these fields are Santa Fe Springs Signal Hill, Seal Beach, Elwood, Ventura-avenue and perhaps one or two others where gas pressure is heavy.

Several other fields have been added to the list under the control of Umpires Paul Grimm and Nell H Anderson. Grimm now has Santa Fe Springs, Ventura-avenue, Elwood, Kern Front, Poso Creek Round Mountain, Maricopa Flats Inglewood and Lost Hills. Anderson watches over Signal Hill, Seal Beach, Huntington Beach and Richfield.

The Huntington Beach operators meet today to enable strugglers to sign the agreement.

Gould Options Tungsten Mine

An option has been taken by H. W. Gould & Co. on the McGee tungsten and gold property, twenty-eight miles south of Auburn in Placer county.

This property has been quietly producing and shipping high-grade scheelite and will now be opened up on a large scale and operated by Gould.

MOHAWK ON FRUITVALE HOLE NO. 7

Coring of Project at Around 2100 Feet Said to be in Sticky Shale

FRUITVALE, March 2. (Exclusive)—The Mohawk Oil Company has resumed coring on its seventh hole in this district, on Sec. 27, 29-27. Down more than 2100 feet and drilling through sticky shale, the well has made good time since work was started, February 19.

According to V. K. Douglas, Mohawk superintendent, drilling of this well does not necessarily mean that his organization intends to conduct an intensive drilling campaign. The No. 7 site had been staked and was rigged up for drilling more than six months. Operations were suspended on the project a few hours before spudding in was to have taken place.

Mohawk has six producing wells in the district, bringing in more than 1000 barrels daily. Their total potential flow is much in excess of this barrelage, but they are beaned down in compliance with the unwritten conservation policy now in general effect throughout Kern county.

The Fruitvale field is one of the more active of Kern county drilling areas. Mohawk, Shell, Standard, Western Gulf and Superior Oil Company all are active there. These five operators are drilling in nine projects.

Shell has two drilling, one deepening job and one ready to be spudded in. Standard is drilling on one. Western Gulf has one well practically completed and has staked site for another drilling job, while Superior company has signified intention to drill its first in the field by staking location.

American Units Wildcatting in Mexican States

MONTERREY (Mex.) March 2. (Exclusive)—Wildcat wells are being drilled in a number of localities of Northern Mexico by American companies. In the San Lorenzo district of the State of Coahuila the Ohio-Mexico Oil Company has a test well which has reached a depth of approximately 3000 feet.

This company has spudded in a well at Los Aldamas Penalva, State of Tamaulipas. The Mexican Gulf Oil Company, the Empire Gas and Fuel Company, the Huasteca Petroleum Company and the Transcontinental Oil Company are drilling wells in the Los Aldamas Penalva district, within approximately sixty miles of the Rio Grande and about seventy miles south of the nearest production in the Laredo district of Texas.

The Administracion de Control del Petroleo Nacional, which is owned by the Mexican government, is drilling wildcat wells in the Guerrero and Los Aldamas Penalva districts and in the district of Camaron, State of Nuevo Leon.

KETTLEMAN OIL EVENT PENDING

Standard's Recompletion on North Dome Due Soon

Project Now Drilling Below 7040-Foot Horizon

News of Other Ventures in District Reported

The next possible development at Kettleman Hills is expected to be the recompletion of the Standard Oil Company's No. 81 on Sec. 11, 22-17, on the north dome. It is drilling below 7040 feet in quest of the same producing formation discovered by the Milham Exploration Company's Elliott No. 1 producer.

Standard's No. 81, formerly a producer at 6773 feet, was killed to deepen four months ago. It had been yielding 1000 barrels of oil a day and the company's absorption plant treated 60,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily for casinghead gasoline. This project is a direct offset to Milham's producer and to the Continental Oil Company's Elliott No. 12-8, flowing 5000 barrels a day, along with 130,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

Milham's discovery well is producing from a depth of 7236 feet, although it was drilled somewhat deeper and was compelled to plug back for production.

Standard has another well which could be completed at almost any time, It's No. 38 on Sec. 35, 21-17, and is a direct offset to the Petroleum Securities Company's Felix No. 1, yielding 1400 barrels a day. A new absorption plant is nearing completion for this prospective producer. The Associated Oil Company's Whepley No. 1, offsetting Felix No. 1, is drilling below 8061 feet.

The Ohio Oil Company has succeeded in running two and one-half-inch liner in Smith No. 1 on the south dome. It went to 8064 feet in search of production, and failing at that depth was plugged back, and has been swabbing oil showings and water at about 7000 feet.

The Bolsa Chica Oil Corporation has resumed drilling in Ferguson No. 1 on Sec. 34, 22-17, below 7300 feet. The Chandler-Canfield Midway Oil Company's Sahlein No. 1 on Sec. 28, 24-19, is drilling below 6131 feet.

Building of Gas Booster Station to Start Shortly

TEXLINE (Tex.) March 2. (Exclusive)—Construction of a gas booster station to cost $750,000 will be started immediately at Clayton, N. M., near here, by the Colorado Interstate Gas Company of Colorado Springs, Colo.

The station will be used to push the flow of gas through the twenty-two-inch pipe line which the company is constructing from the fields in the Texas Panhandle to Denver. It will also serve Texline, Clayton, Trinidad, Pueblo, Colorado Springs, Manitou and a number of smaller towns.

News From Near-by Oil Fields and Mining Camps

DEVELOPMENTS DUE AT VENICE

Area Around Gun Club Well of Chief Interest

Ohio Project No. 2 Held Up by Recementing Job

Other Operators Waiting for Final Completion

Some interesting developments may be expected within the next thirty days, southeast of Venice, where the Ohio Oil Company's Recreation Gun Club No. 1 discovered oil at a depth of 6199 feet, several weeks ago.

Ohio's project opened up an entirely new field, being a complete surprise to operators who had been shooting for extensions of the Lawndale and Torrance fields for two or three years. By going in on a lease subject to no restrictions southeast of Venice and almost within a stone's throw of the ocean, Ohio demonstrated what sometimes can be done on a long shot. Its discovery well is in the extreme northwest corner of the Recreation Gun Club lease of 250 acres. Although now shut in to conform to the State-wide curtailment order, the well is capable of yielding approximately 1900 barrels of oil a day.

Since bringing in this well Ohio has started drilling two other wells. Recreation Gun Club No. 2 and Howland No. 1. The former failed to get a complete water shutoff last week and will be recemented at about 3846 feet, with bottom slightly below 3900 feet. The Howland No. 1 is drilling below 3900 feet.

Ohio's Recreation Gun Club No. 2 went into shallow showings of oil sand and the company plans to give that formation a thorough production test before drilling deeper. Just now, the companies interested in development work southeast of Venice are awaiting the outcome of Ohio's No. 2 test before starting work on their several locations. It is thought that property owners at Venice may yet object to the establishment of an oil field within the city limits.

One of the latest moves for the further development of the Venice field was the acquisition of twelve acres by the Barnsdall Oil Company due south of Ohio's discovery well. The tract is a direct offset and is considered favorable for a row of wells. Barnsdall plans no less than eight wells and is preparing to make a location for its first hole, although actual operations may not start for at least thirty days.

Barnsdall's new acreage is split up into two parcels, both being divided by an eight-acre lease held by Rohde & McAdams, who also plans four wells. Like Barnsdall, Rohde & McAdams has a favorable location and their program depends somewhat on the outcome of Ohio's production test in Recreation Gun Club No. 2.

To get into the property, Barnsdall and Rohde & McAdams first must build some roads. During high tide the sea washes over the lease and as a result piles must be driven for derrick foundations.

About 150 feet southeast of Ohio's discovery well, the Union Oil Company is preparing foundation for Del Rey No. 1. The company recently leased the 650-acre Del Rey lease which extends from the foot of the Del Rey hills approximately one mile northwest to the southern boundary of Ohio's Recreation Gun Club lease. Union also acquired the Vidor Syndicate's 170-acre lease.

Although there are nineteen lots still unleased just west of the Barnsdall and Rohde & McAdams lease, there are to be no takers at present. Field reports state that property owners are asking from $1000 to $2000 cash bonus in addition to the regular royalty.

The Pacific Western Oil Company got 110 lots during the early leasing campaign, following Ohio's completion, while George F. Getty, the Shell Oil Company and several independent operators succeeded in getting in on the ground floor before all of the choice parcels were leased.

The Ohio Oil Company is reported to have lease requirements calling for a well every 300 feet on its lease. Since Union has gone in on the Del Rey property Ohio is preparing to offset it. Within the next sixty days it is expected that no less than fifteen wells will be drilling at Venice, with a number perhaps producing in the event they go into the same formation as that discovered by Ohio.

LUCKY STRIKE IN NEW HANDS

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) March 2. (Exclusive)—Declaration is made that about $1,000,000 will be spent by the Arizona-Oregon Development Company on the Lucky Strike group in Hassayampa district, south of Prescott. The organization, headed by Floyd R. Marsh of McGrath, Alaska, has taken a five-year lease and option. Workings consist of fifteen shafts and eight tunnels, with much surface and camp equipment. A large force is to be started on development at once and plans have been made for an experimental milling plant.

A large sum also is to be spent on the Cash mine, twelve miles south of this city, a property recently acquired by the Betty O'Neal Mines Company of Nevada. Electric power will be installed and the mill is to be changed from cyanide amalgamation to selective flotation, this considered necessary to save the zinc and other base values in the ore. In general charge is Noble H. Getchell of Battle Mountain, Nev.

Heavy snows have caused stoppage of work on the Davis-Dunkirk mine, in the mountains near Senator, a force of forty men being marooned for awhile. Electric power is being brought by a five-mile line from Walker and a road is being constructed to the site of a a 100-ton flotation mill that is to be built soon. The corporation is a Washington one, headed by H. L. Williams of Seattle.

A mill is being built on the old Midnight Test property, on the Senator road, under charge of W. W. Linesba. An ample ore supply is said to have been developed.

Ore sampling 30 per cent copper and $60 in gold is being taken from the Gold Rock mine in the Walnut Grove section by John and William Blount.

DEPOSIT OF SODIUM IN NEW HANDS

Eastern Paper Concern Reported as Reopening Arizona Property

CAMP VERDE (Ariz.) March 2. (Exclusive)—An eastern paper company has taken a lease on the sodium phosphate deposit, near this point, from the Western Chemical Company of California. The mill, not used for the past two years, is being worked over and new machinery will be installed. Twenty men are employed.

The material is mined by power shovel, crushed, washed and dried, foreign matter and common salt removed by the process. The balance in the past has been sacked and shipped to Los Angeles Harbor, where was water carriage to coastwise paper and glass manufacture, mainly in Norway and Sweden.

Shovel work has uncovered some remarkable conditions in the deposit, showing that it was worked by Indians at least 1000 years ago. Well preserved by the salt, have been found skeletons of human beings, together with many artifacts.

Shallow Waters of Mexico Gulf Leased for Oil

PORT ARTHUR (Tex.) March 2. (Exclusive)—Ever since the discovery of oil at Spindle Top, near Beaumont, there has been much discussion by men interested in the industry of the possibilities of developing an oil field in the shallow water of the Gulf of Mexico, about six miles southwest of Sabine and three miles from the shore line.

The interest in this project has been due to the fact that from the time of the first navigation of this part of the Gulf there has existed what is known as an oil scum which covers a considerable area of the water.

YAQUI VALLEY RICE ACREAGE SMALLER

MEXICO CITY, March 2. (Exclusive)—The 1929-30 rice acreage in the rich Yaqui Valley of Northwestern Mexico totaled only 6100 hectares, as compared with 14,400 hectares the previous year, state dispatches from Guaymas, Son.

Present high prices of rice in Mexico are attributed to the small acreage. The grain is especially scarce since about 85 per cent of the Yaqui Valley crop has already been exported, the dispatch adds.

COSDEN TO ENLARGE REFINERY IN TEXAS

BIG SPRING (Tex.) March 2. (Exclusive)—An addition to the refinery here of the Cosden Refining Company will be constructed and completed within the next ten months, according to Stanley Cosden. He says that the present capacity of 10,000 barrels of crude oil daily will be doubled.

SUMMARY

The following is subject to a more complete description of the issue as contained in the Standard Offering Circular:

DEPOSITED STOCKS—The assets of the above companies average over $800,000,000 each and their average age is 76 years. The total assets of these 28 companies exceed $22,000,000,000, with surplus and reserves of $7,700,000,000. They own or control over 1,400 subsidiaries.

DIVIDENDS—These corporations have paid cash or stock dividends for an average of 33 years without interruption.

RETURN LAST YEAR—Distributions in 1929 totaled $1.139 per share, or more than 11% on the original offering price of North American Trust Shares.

PRICE STABILITY—Purchasers of North American Trust Shares in February, 1929 at approximately $10 per share, have received a return in excess of 11% on their original investment and today have their principal intact despite the October-November, 1929, market break. The shares reached a low point for 1929 of $8.10 on November 13.

AVERAGE RETURN—Return for the last 18 years on deposited stocks including cash dividends, rights, stock dividends, and split-ups averaged $1.32 as expressed per North American Trust Share—over 13% annually.

BALANCE MAINTAINED—The balanced diversification of deposited stocks is constantly held through (1) sale of extra shares derived from split-ups, etc., and (2) semi-annual reinvestment program which diversifies appreciation evenly.

RIGHTS TO REINVEST—Rights are issued semi-annually to shareholders permitting the return from stock dividends, rights and split-ups to be reinvested at a discount of 10¢ per share below the prevailing asked price. Investors who exercised full reinvestment privilege today hold 2160 North American Trust Shares for each unit of 2000 shares purchased a year ago.

MARKETABILITY—All deposited stocks are listed on the New York Stock Exchange. North American Trust Shares are listed on the Chicago Board of Trade. They are quoted daily in leading newspapers throughout the United States under the heading "Investment Trusts." Sponsors and 100 banks and dealers have consistently maintained bid ½ point below current asked price.

CONVERSION—1. Holders of ½ unit, or any multiple thereof, may convert into the deposited property directly through Trustee without penalty.

2. Holders of less than ½ unit may convert through Trustee into cash without penalty.

NO PENALTY—No conversion penalty or additional service fee is charged to investors for conversion of shares into underlying stocks or into cash.

RATING—More than 96% of the underlying stocks are rated "A" or "AA" by Moody's Investors Service and North American Trust Shares are given a composite rating of "A."

NO SUBSTITUTION—No substitution may be made in deposited stocks except in case of merger, consolidation, reorganization, or sale of property of any company.

ELIMINATION—If a company should break its long dividend record by passing a dividend for a period of 100 days the deposited stock would be automatically eliminated from the trust and proceeds returned to shareholders by the Trustee.

COUPONS—North American Trust Share certificates carry coupons which call for 60¢ per share annually, although all return from deposited stocks is paid to shareholders. This return as expressed per North American Trust Share has averaged $1.32 annually for the past 18 years.

EXTRA RETURN—In addition to the regular coupon rate, extra distributions on June 30th and December 31st, 1929 were $1.7¢ per share and 21.4¢ per share respectively.

RESERVE FUND—A cash reserve fund of 60¢ per share is deposited with the Trustee and may be used to maintain a uniform distribution rate if annual return should fall below coupon requirements as above.

LOAN VALUE—North American Trust Shares have a high collateral loan value at banks because of the character and marketability of the underlying stocks and because of the fact that no substitution may be made in the deposited stocks.

TAXATION—Cash dividends from domestic corporations in the portfolio are exempt from present normal Federal Income Tax.

OFFERING PRICE—The offering price of North American Trust Shares is based upon New York Stock Exchange quotations of the deposited stocks at odd-lot prices and brokerage commissions plus an arbitrary charge for issue and deposit of 18¢ per share and the value of the proportionate aggregate amount of accumulated cash and other property held by the Trustee. 7% is added for cost of distribution and profit. Amortized, this amounts to less than 3/10 of 1% annually. Price make-up sheet is available at all times.

TERMINATION—The trust terminates December 31, 1973, but any shareholder may liquidate his interest in the trust at any time. The trust may be terminated at will by shareholders but not by the sponsors.

Legal matters incident to the creation of the trust have been approved by Messrs. Hughes, Schurman & Dwight, Attorneys of New York City. The statistics upon which computations of return are based have been prepared by Moody's Investors Service. Price, Waterhouse & Company—Accountants.

North American Trust Shares are being continuously issued and offered at the market.

Mr. Ross McIntyre, President of MacMarr Stores, Inc., summarizes the salient points of his letter dated February 21, 1930, as follows:

HISTORY AND BUSINESS: MacMarr Stores, Inc., a Maryland Corporation operates, directly or through subsidiaries, a chain of 1,400 grocery stores, 345 of which include meat markets. The chain includes 23 warhouses, five bakeries, two creameries, six wholesale grocery houses and one coffee and spice wholesale house. The operations are conducted in California, Arizona, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Colorado, New Mexico, Wyoming and Nebraska. On the basis of total volume of business in 1929, the Company ranks second among the grocery chains west of the Mississippi River. There are negotiations pending for further acquisitions.

SALES AND EARNINGS: The combined net sales and netearnings of the predecessor concerns for the three years ended December 31, 1928, applicable to properties acquired by MacMarr Stores, Inc., and subsidiaries, after giving effect to (1) the elimination of interest charges on indebtedness either retired or not assumed (such eliminations amounting to $9 146.56, in 1926, $39,986.70 in 1927 and $105,279.69 in 1928,) (2) the reduction of executives' salaries to the basis of contracts (such reductions amounting to $86 403.58 in 1926, $150,938.53 in 1927 and $177,319 99 in 1928), and (3) the adjustment of Federal Income Tax to the present rate of 12%, as certified by Messrs. Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., are tabulated below, together with the Company's preliminary figures on the same basis for 1929.

1926	818	$46,557,510	$1,085,980	1.82
1927	1,037	58,007,056	1,493,548	2.51
1928	1,274	75,918,747	2,047,880	3.44
1929	1,394	87,174,791	2,075,000	3.48

Note: Figures for Self Service Grocery and Bay Cities Mercantile Co. included for 1928 and 1929 only; and for Figuly Wiggly Arizona Company, Inc., only from date of acquisition in 1929. The earnings of these concerns omitted for the earlier periods were not material.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: The proceeds of this offering of $685,400 par value 7% Preferred Stock with Warrants will be used in part to reimburse the Company for Capital expenditures in 1929 and in part for other corporate purposes.

The statements contained above are obtained from sources which we believe reliable, but in no event are such statements to be regarded as representations by us or as guaranteed by us. This advertisement is subject to a more complete circular, copies of which may be had on application to the undersigned.

We are offering a limited amount of the above Preferred Stock with Warrants subject to issue and acceptance by us with approval of our counsel, Messrs. Chadbourne, Hunt, Jackel & Brown, and subject to allotment or prior sale. Temporary Certificates will be delivered in the first instance.

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY, CHEMISTRY

Qualitative analysis will be given in this department of The Times to correspondents on specimens free of charge. Make each sample as a minerals free or as weight. Be sure to write a letter stating what tests are desired and give the definite locality from which samples were taken. Do not pulverize the specimens. Give your name and address on paper wrapped with samples.

A Good Showing

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Feb. 14.—Question: I am sending by today's mail some samples of rock containing bismuth and maybe something else. I would like to know if it would be rich enough to be of commercial value. I am also sending you sample of Iceland spar. Is it too badly shattered, in the ledge, to be of any good? X.

Answer: The somewhat transparent sample of calcite lacks the property of double refraction, and seems to be rather badly shattered for use as Iceland spar in optical instruments. It would make good specimens for mineral collections, however. One of the rock specimens of quartz carries iron oxides, brucite, (lead carbonate) bismuth and free gold is present. The remaining quartz specimens react slightly for bismuth. Galenite (lead sulphide) found, and Tetrahedrite is present. Looks promising!

High Grade

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14.—Q.: Samples found in San Bernardino county. Please state through In the Earth column the value in gold-silver per ton ore, and also are other minerals present? Thank you. A.

A.: The samples run high in cerussite (lead carbonate,) and contain much native gold. For other gold and silver values you are politely referred to assayers.

Gray Scapolite

CHLORIDE (Ariz.) Feb. 15.—Q.: Will you kindly analyze the inclosed sample? I believe it to contain oxidized gold. The ledge is located near Kingman, Ariz. M.

A.: The scapolite species are tetragonal in crystallization and often occur of white color or of some light shade. A typical analysis will show some 48 per cent silica, alumina over 28 per cent, with lime (or soda) and from 1 to 2 per cent chlorine. Commercial values problematical.

Four Samples

KINGMAN (Ariz.) Feb. 15.—Q.: I am sending four specimens. Kindly classify them and let me know through In the Earth if any are of commercial value. One of the samples is red and scaly. Another one is brown. One is black, and the remaining sample is a crystal. All come from the Blythe (Cal.) locality. Thanking you for past favors. N.

A.: The red and scaly specimen is low grade lime carbonate. The brown one is of altered rock and a mixture of limonite and lime carbonate, the blackish one is a variety of porphyritic obsidian known as vitrophyre, and the crystallised specimen is partly transparent calcite—lime carbonate. Commercial values doubtful.

Asphaltum

VENICE, Feb. 14.—Q.: The hydrocarbon or mineral wax I am sending you was found in Mojave County, Arizona. The samples are the natural material as it comes from the earth. I would like to know if it contains ozocerite, gilsonite, elaterite, or other high-grade hydrocarbons. I have reported some of it and it contains over 35 per cent oil. It has a very low boiling point and I am also inclosing a sample bottle of the oil extracted. T.

A.: The sample is far removed from ozocerite (mineral wax) and carries no gilsonite, nor elaterite. The massive samples are amorphous; resemble pitch, and are mostly soluble in turpentine. The distorted sample was not tested fully, but it is probably not a variety of phthroi—bearing hydrocarbon.

Tellurium Absent

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—Q.: I am very anxious to know if the ore I am sending you for assay has any commercial value; also if it contains any other matter that carries values. I am in hopes that gold and silver are present. This ore came from Colorado, and about twenty miles from Boulder. Awaiting anxiously you reply, and thanking you in advance.

A SUBSCRIBER.

A.: The sample consists of small white crystals (iron disulphide,) mixed with quartz. It is probably from the sulphide belt near Eldora, from a locality not far from the narrow gauge railroad above Wall street. It might assay a little gold or silver, and if you have a quantity of it you might run it into lead manufacture.

Altered Rock

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—Q.: Please assay the samples for gold and silver. Locality near San Bernardino, Cal. P.

A.: The samples carry no free gold, and for other gold and silver values please consult assayers.

Transparent Quartz

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 18.—Q.: The two pieces of quartz I herewith submit for your analyses were found in the mountains about twenty miles northwest of Red Rock Canyon, California. What are the dark specks in the quartz—platinum? If not platinum, what mineral is it, and has it any commercial value?

H.

A.: Platinum absent. The dark colored matter in the sample is a mixture of limonite and hematite, and probably a residue of iron-bearing mineral that has weathered out.

Two Samples

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 19.—Q.: Enclosed find two samples of ore from the Mojave Desert. One specimen has been burnt with a blow-torch, and is black and looks like lead before being burnt. After burning and cooling it in a gold pan there is a little metal in the string which flows up well in the pan. Is this little metal gold, platinum, antimony, or stibnite and has it a commercial value? V.

A.: Sample No. 1 resembles concentrate from hornblendic rock. It has flake titaniferous iron, traces of pyrite, quartz, hornblende, and a few flake platinum. No. 2 consists of finely divided sulphides in granular quartz distributed in microscopic forms that no blowpipe reaction could be obtained. Wet analysis shows some lead present, and assays might return low values in silver.

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY, CHEMISTRY

Questions will be given in this department of The Times by competent authority, free of charge. Make each sample as large as a walnut. Be sure to write a full name and address and state whether reply is desired by mail or through the columns of this paper. Do not put more than one question in a letter. Address all letters to Questions and Answers, Rare Minerals, Metallurgy, Chemistry, Los Angeles Times. Do not put anything else in the letter and address on paper wrapped with samples.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14.—Q.: Samples found in San Bernardino county. Please state through In the north column the value in gold-silver per ton ore, and, also are other minerals present? Thank you.

A.

A.: The samples run high in cerussite (lead carbonate,) and contain much native gold. For other gold and silver values you are politely referred to assayers.

Gray Soapolite

CHLORIDE (Ariz.) Feb. 15.—Q.: Will you kindly analyze the inclosed sample? I believe it to contain oxidized gold. The ledge is located near Kingman, Ariz. M.

A.: The soapolite species are textural in crystallization and often occur of white color or of some pale shade. A typical analysis will show some 43 per cent silica, aluminum over 26 per cent, with lime (or soda) and from 1 to 2 per cent alkalies. Commercial values problematical.

Tellurium Absent

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—Q.: I am very anxious to know if the ore I am sending you for assay has any commercial value; also if it contains any other matter that has values. I am in hopes that gold and silver are present. This came from Colorado, and about forty miles from Boulder. Awaiting seriously you reply, and thanking you in advance.

A SUBSCRIBER.

A: The sample consists of small gold crystals (iron disulphide,) filled with quartz. It is probably from the sulphide belt near Eldora, but in a locality not far from the main gauge railroad above Wall Street. It might assay a little gold content, and if you have a quantity of it you might run it into a concentrator.

Altered Rock

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—Q.: Will you assay the samples for gold and silver. Locality near San Jacinto, Cal. P.

MINE OUTPUT IN NEW MEXICO UP

LORDSBURG (N. M.) March 2. (Exclusive)—New Mexico during the past year has had an increase of 33 per cent in its metal production, according to official figures, though the output still is very far short of that of its neighboring State. Copper production amounted to $17,-900,000, zinc $4,522,000, lead $1,397,-000, gold $707,000 and silver $582,-000. The full total is $25,108,000, compared with $18,815,863 last year.

The most important copper mines of New Mexico are in this vicinity and are

Avoid Ugly Pimples

Does a pimply face embarrass you? Get a package of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights, if you are like thousands of others.

Help cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

Thousands who take Olive Tablets are never cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition, pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound, known by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.—[Advertisement.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Boulevard, Wash. at Vern't.—"Woman Racket." A timid discipline of night life evils. Not the setting Blanche Sweet deserved for her first talkie.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center.—"Happy Days." Fox Grandeur film amazes the public and shows the great possibilities of the future. The subject matter is a minstrel show by the stars.

Criterion, 642 South Grand.—"Anna Christie." Greta Garbo speaks the lines of Eugene O'Neill's heroine in fine style. Clarence Brown has done some of his best directing.

Figueroa, Fig. at Santa Barbara.—"Navy Blues." William Haines finds funny things in port and does his best to show them all.

Filmarte, 1228 Vine.—"The Yellow Pass." Sacrifice and sorrow go hand in hand with some Russian scenery which is very beautiful.

Grauman's Chinese, 6925 Hollywood Blvd.—"Rogue Song." Lawrence Tibbett and Catherine Dale Owen are immense as fans in a vagabond romance of nearly great quality.

Grauman's Egyptian, 6708 Hollywood Blvd.—"Seven Days' Leave." Barrie war whimsy makes rather a nice movie. Interpreted by Gary Cooper and Beryl Mercer.

Loew's State, Bdwy. at 7th.—"The Lone Star Ranger." The old "horse-opera" in new trappings. Good for its kind, with some beautiful photography and George O'Brien.

Million Dollar, Broadway at 3rd.—"Party Girl," an alleged expose of a phase of New York life, weak as a mockery.

Palace, Bdwy. bet. 6th & 7th.—"Taming of the Shrew." Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks bring Shakespeare down to the moment and a good laugh is had by both parties.

Paramount, Hill at 6th.—"Road House Nights." Cabaret confessions again, but Helen Morgan sings and Clifton Jackson and Durante are very funny.

Rita, 5200 Wilshire.—"South Sea Rose." Lenore Ulric does native and Charles Bickford goes straight, but it's no use.

R.K.O., Hill at 8th.—"The Grand Parade." Back stage opens wide its doors, but rather better than usual. Helen Twelvetrees is featured.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Broadway at 9th.—"Seven Keys to Baldpate." An old time stage success revived as a talkie with Richard Dix suffering no ill effects in the transition.

Uptown, Western at 10th.—"They Had to See Paris." Will Rogers finds Fifi Dorsay the most amusing thing in Paris. One of the most popular comedies of the year.

United Artists, Bdwy. at 9th.—"Condemned." Ronald Colman somehow finds romance on Devil's Island; but when you see Ann Harding you won't wonder.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at 7th.—"She Couldn't Say No." The title, not the play, is transposed to the screen. Gangsters mix with music which is rendered loud and lustily by Winnie Lightner.

Warner's Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox.—"The Green Goddess." Intelligent as might be expected from George Arliss, who adds to his laurels in this.

Westlake, 638 Alvarado.—"They Had to See Paris." See above.

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th.—"Journey's End." R. C. Sherriff's fine war play is produced splendidly by an English company.

Biltmore, 5th. at Grand.—"Gone Hollywood." Bert Kelton is an eccentric at this fairly entertaining revue.

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. at Highland. "Let us Be Gay." Reviewed in today's Times.

Hollywood Playhouse, 1733 Vine.—"Salt Water." A well staged and nicely enacted comedy of the sea, starring Frank Craven.

Majestic, Bdwy. at 9th.—"New Moon." The popular operetta is well put on, featuring the song hit, "Lover Come Back to Me." Perry Askam and Josephine Houston.

Mission Play, San Gabriel.—The beautiful annual pageant of the pastimes of California, up to its usual standard. With R. D. MacLean.

Music Box, 6126 Hollywood Blvd.—"Bill of Divorcement." This is Clemence Dane's dramatization of one of England's problems. Ian Maclaren is featured.

President, Bdwy. at 9th.—"Give and Take." Big business in a canning factory, with Kolb and Dill arguing a lot and the audience laughing just as much.

Vine-street, 1615 Vine.—"The Nut Farm." Hollywood is pictured as something R. Bardly is, which in this case can't matter at all. With-Emerson Treacy.

VARIETIES

Burbank, 6th and Main.—Burlesque.
Follies, 4th and Main.—Burlesque.

Forest Survey Will be Made

NEW YORK, March 2. (AP)—Guesswork will be taken out of the lumber industry in a survey conducted by the Federal Forest Service to determine timber resources of the nation.

The National Lumber Manufacturers' Association, which is co-operating, points out that all talk in the past about the country's timber supply has been based on estimates.

The survey will not be completed for several years.

WINDOW SHADES

Cheerful homes make cheerful people. Maybe that's why everyone who has their Shades Reconditioned by ELKELES are so enthusiastic about them. Let us show you the new shade styles — the cost is very reasonable.

Red Cross Gets Historic Banner

WASHINGTON, March 2. (AP)—An American Red Cross flag, believed the first ever made, has been presented to John Barton Payne, chairman of the Red Cross.

It is the handiwork of Clara Barton, founder of the society, and Mrs. Julia Babcock Hibbard, formerly of Washington. It was given to the Red Cross by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

WAR HUT INVENTOR DIES

LONDON, March 2. (AP)—Col. Peter Norman Nissen, engineer and inventor of the Nissen steel huts used in the World War, died at Westerham, Kent, last night.

says: "When Johannes Gutenberg invented movable type, 'way back in the Middle Ages, there was no need for gymnasiums. Salesmen walked too much. Nowadays printing supplants walking."

JURY CONVICTS MRS. BLACKBURN

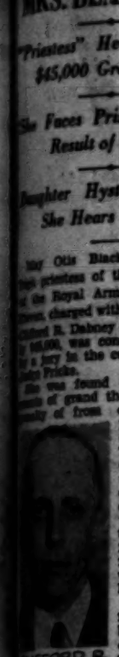
"Priestess" Held Guilty of $45,000 Grand Theft

She Faces Prison Term as Result of Verdict

Daughter Hysterical When She Hears Decision

Mrs. Otis Blackburn, so-called high priestess of the Divine Order of the Royal Arms of the Great [illegible], charged with having mulcted Clifford R. Dabney of approximately $45,000, was convicted yesterday by a jury in the court of Superior Judge Fricke.

She was found guilty on eight counts of grand theft and faces a penalty of from one to fourteen years in prison on each count. Three of the original thirteen specific charges were dismissed during the trial, although the original complaint filed by Dabney was amended by his counsel.



CLIFFORD R. DABNEY

As the jury filed into the box only a dozen or so spectators were in the courtroom, most of whom were relatives or close friends of the defendant. Mrs. Blackburn sat at the counsel table with her attorney, Thomas W. Nelson, and stoically awaited the reading of the verdict. Her daughter, Miss Angeline Wieland, and her aged father appeared to be far more concerned as to the outcome than the accused woman.

At the finding on each count was read by the court clerk she sat with eyes focused on his lips but displayed no emotion. At the conclusion, after Judge Fricke had warned the spectators against any demonstration, the daughter rose and ran to her mother's side, throwing her arms about her and sobbing hysterically. Mrs. Blackburn, however, still remained calm, patting her daughter on the shoulder and attempting to console her. Finally, as the mother was led away to return to her cell, was extremely dramatic.

Subject to his complaint to the District Attorney's office, said the money was given to Mrs. Blackburn to finance a book to be called the Great Sixth Seal which was to reveal some mystery of life and death and incidentally to disclose undiscovered mineral deposits of fabulous value. As a climax, Dabney said, the divine order was to assume control of the world's hitherto undiscovered wealth. The book was to be dictated by the Angel Michael to Mrs. Blackburn's daughter. However, the book was never completed and the promised profits were not revealed, Dabney testified.

Judge Fricke announced that he would pronounce sentence and sentence will be pronounced on Mrs. Blackburn at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday, and informed her attorney that any contemplated appeal or other motion in her behalf must be filed at once. Her attorney gave no hint of his plans. The trial consumed six weeks.

AIR FLEET STILL HUNTS LOST PLANE

Sixteen Machines Survey Cajon Pass Area for Flyers Missing for Week

Sixteen airplanes continued a search yesterday for the lost Western Air Express trimotored plane and its crew of three which have been missing since they left Kingman, Ariz., a week ago. Aboard the missing plane were Pilot James Doles, Co-Pilot Albert W. Bieber and John W. Slayton, steward.

The search was confined to Cajon Pass yesterday. Assisting the air squadron were three ground squads which penetrated many miles into the undergrowth of the mountains.

The plane left Kingman at 11 a.m. on February 23. It was sighted at 2 p.m. above the Deep Creek region of Cajon Pass by Norman Marsh, a rancher. Marsh's report was corroborated by a mountain ranger at the Los Angeles County Playground, who said he heard the motors of a plane late that afternoon.

While the squadron of planes are searching for the lost Fokker, ground squads and a half-dozen pilots are continuing the hunt for Maurice Graham in the mountainous section of Caliente, Nev. Graham has been lost for more than a month in a mail plane and hope for his life has been abandoned by his friends. Officials of the company, however, said they will continue the search until the mystery of his disappearance has been solved.

ARGUMENT IN BERMAN CASE TODAY

Appellate Court Will Hear Jail Sentence Appeal in Contempt Matter

Arguments in connection with contempt proceedings against Jacob Berman which resulted from his refusal to answer questions put to him in Superior Judge Tappaan's court during the taking of a deposition in the $15,000,000 Julian stockholders' recovery suit against the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and a group of local brokers are scheduled for hearing in the Appellate Court today. Berman is at liberty under bail.

Berman was ordered to the County Jail a number of weeks ago by Judge Tappaan and served two days on the first count of the contempt proceedings. On the second count he was jailed until willing to answer the questions which were propounded to him by Guy R. Crump, counsel for the Julian stockholders, but was released under a writ of habeas corpus. The hearing today will determine whether or not Berman will have to return to his cell in the County Jail unless he changes his mind and gives his deposition.

COOLIDGE WILL DEDICATE DAM

Ex-President and Party to Stop Over Here Today

Ceremony at Structure Near Globe to be Tomorrow

Large Group Will Represent California at Affair

With less than a two-hour stopover scheduled, Calvin Coolidge and Mrs. Coolidge will arrive in Los Angeles this morning from the north and will leave at 10 o'clock for their home in Northampton, Mass., stopping off on the way tomorrow to dedicate the Coolidge Dam on the Gila River, near Globe, Ariz.

The dam dedication is to be a gala event for Arizona, with a large party of Californians participating. The California delegation will be headed by Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan, who will represent Gov. Young, in accepting an invitation from Gov. Phillips of Arizona to attend. Carnahan, in the name of California, will extend falicitations to Arizona on the completion of the dam.

Gov. Phillips wil lmeet the Coolidge train at Yuma and conduct the party to the dam site. According to despatches from Arizona, people from distant parts of the State will be on hand to witness the ceremonies.

TRAVEL ON SPECIAL CAR

Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge will arrive in a special car on the Sunset Limited, arriving at 8:15 a.m. and leaving on the same train. Their car will be detached from the train at Bowie and taken to Globe. From there the party will motor to the dam site for the dedication tomorrow afternoon.

Luncheon for Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge and the State and dam officials, who will participate in the dedication program will be served on the parapet of the dam, with the formal ceremonies starting at 2:30 p.m.

In addition to the principal address by Mr. Coolidge, other speakers on the program as announced include Gov. Phillips, who will introduce the former President; Edgar B. Merritt, personal representative of Secretary of the Interior Wilbur at the dedication; Rev. Dirk Lay, Hugh Patten, a full-blooded Pima Indian, and P. D. Overfield of Casa Grande, Ariz., in charge of the program.

TO BE MADE CHIEF

Mr. Coolidge will be made a chief of both the Pima and Apache Indian tribes, when members of the two races smoke the pipe of peace for the first time in history and with tribal ceremony dedicate the dam. The former President is expected to take a puff of the Indian pipe as it passes around the circle of chieftains.

The Coolidge Dam is one of the latest to be constructed by the government in the Southwest and as an engineering accomplishment it is unique in that it is said to be the first of its type built in this country. It is what is known as the multiple-dome type. Described crudely, the dam is something in the nature of three great concrete shells or domes set across the stream bed, with webs, arches and walls to finish it off as one structural unit. These domes are so large that two downtown office buildings could stand on top of one another within one dome.

HUGE CAPACITY

The height of the dam is 250 feet above bedrock. It is about 1400 feet long across the top, including two great spillways that are set one at each end of the dam and sweeping down into the streambed like giant toboggan slides. The reservoir capacity is 1,200,000 acre feet of water. There is a power plant built at the base of the dam, which has a capacity of 13,000 horsepower. Revenue from this power, which is to be sold to nearby mining communities, and from water, is expected to pay for the project. The dam itself, including powerplant, cost $4,500,000. Los Angeles has an interest in the structure because the local construction firm of Atkinson, Kier Brothers, Spicer Company built it. Lynn Atkinson, president of the company and a graduate of Polytechnical High School, will be toastmaster at the dedication luncheon.

The Southern Pacific and the Santa Fe railroads are running excursions from Los Angeles to Phoenix and Globe at a rate of about one and one-third of the regular one-way fare.

PLEA TO BE CONSIDERED

A petition from property owners, asking for the installation of an ornamental lighting system on Verdugo Road from York Boulevard to the Glendale city limits, has been referred by the City Council to the Traffic and Street Lighting Committee and the Board of Public Works.

SCHOOL TO TEACH ONLY PRODIGIES

Laguna Beach Institute Planned for Supernormal Children's Instruction

A school for the educational adjustment of children endowed with superior intellects is in contemplation by a group of Southern California educators, it was learned yesterday. Plans are under way, it was announced, for the purchase of a large tract near Laguna Beach on which the institution will be erected. It will be the first of its kind in the country.

The move is the outgrowth of an experiment conducted last summer by Miss Elba Julie Johnson of 4620 Finley avenue, a teacher of English in Hollywood High School. In the belief that supernormal children require special attention to their talents, just as subnormal pupils in the public schools receive expert training, Miss Johnson established a summer course at Laguna and her innovation aroused the interest of other educators. The ultimate aim now is to make the institution permanent, under the name of La Escuela de Mar, "the School by the Sea."

Although the child prodigy's school years will be lessened this is not the prime object in mind. The purpose is to find each child's natural rate of progress under normal conditions. No child will be forced ahead but will be permitted to proceed at his natural rate on reaching the level at which he can work most efficiently. Health and social adjustment as well will be considered.

"The problem of children with superior minds has not been recognized as of great urgency," says Miss Johnson. "Consequently they have been neglected. These children constitute the most valuable asset of a nation. They represent the potential leaders of tomorrow."

Orange Show Cup on Display

The grand sweepstakes award won by Los Angeles county's exhibit at the Twentieth National Orange Show at San Bernardino, has been placed on display at the offices of the Board of Supervisors in the Hall of Records.

The trophy is a silver loving cup, twenty inches in height. The winning exhibit was arranged and placed by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

HARNESS HORSES SHOW OFF

Chief of Longview Carries Away Highest Prize at Matinee of Second Day's Events

Chief of Longview, champion five-gaited stallion and reputed to be the world's highest-priced show horse, yesterday justified all the lavish praise with which his appearance has been heralded when he was adjudged the winner of the $1000 championship stake for fine harness horses at the second day's matinee performance of the ninth annual Los Angeles National Horse Show in the Sports Auditorium, Wilshire Boulevard and Fairfax avenue. The event, in which Chief of Longview carried off the major prize of $350, was the feature of the afternoon's judging.

Seven other thoroughbreds competed with Chief of Longview for the coveted honor, but all were forced to acknowledge the superiority that has brought international fame to this chestnut owned and entered by Mrs. W. P. Roth of San Francisco. The entries were judged for their suitability for fine harness work and appeared in light harness to appropriate four-wheeled vehicles.

OTHER PRIZES

Second prize went to Dark Laughter, black mare, entered by Mrs. Harold Helvenston, third to Marymine, chestnut mare entered by Irving H. Hellman, fourth to Magna McDonald, black mare owned by Marcorette Hellman, and fifth to Majestic Charm, black stallion owned by Mrs. A. C. Thompson.

A colorful crowd of between 3000 and 3500 persons applauded Chief of Longview's victory, little dissent being noted in the opinions of the horse-lovers present.

The heavy winner of the day among the owners was Alma Spreckels Rosekrans, whose middleweight hunter, Golden Stirrups, chestnut gelding, took first prize in Class 97 for hunters carrying between 165 and 200 pounds, and also first prize in Class 103 for registered thoroughbred hunters, and whose Beryline, chestnut mare, finished third in the same competition.

TONIGHT'S EVENTS

The variety of events scheduled for this evening at 8 o'clock ranges from a display of harness ponies in pairs to the open jumping event. The program also includes two $500 stakes, both for gaited saddle horses. The junior class for five-gaited saddle horses will be open only to animals foaled since January 1, 1926.

The opening display for this evening will be a competition between stallion colts foaled in 1929 and will have nine entries, including Follow Thru, the son of Chief of Longview, who carried everything before him at yesterday's trials. Two entries from the Carnation Farm stable will be shown in the single heavy harness class and this same stable also will show a pair in the heavy harness horse doubles.

PERIOD FOR TAX FILINGS NEARS END

Only Twelve Days Left for Those Who Must Make Income Returns

Twelve days remain for the filing of Federal income-tax returns, it was announced yesterday by Collector of Internal Revenue Welch. It was stated that individuals required to make such filings and corporations and partnerships must do so on or before the 15th inst. for the year of 1929. Because of complications that arise in connection with the returns, it has been urged that they be filed several days before the 15th.

Returns must be filed by every single person with a net income of $1500 per year, or, if married and not living with husband or wife; each person with a net income of $3500 a year, if married and living with husband or wife, and each person with a gross income of $5000, regardless of the net income.

Credit of $400 is allowed for each person dependent on the taxpayer. A single person, exempt as head of a family, is entitled to a personal exemption of $3500, but must file a return if the net income is $1500 or more. Corporations and partnerships must file returns regardless of net income.

Promise of Rain Given for Today

The promise contained in the periodic cloudiness of the past few days will be fulfilled today, the Weather Bureau predicted last night. The official forecast is rain this afternoon or tonight. Furthermore, the indications were yesterday that the rain will continue at least through tomorrow. Moderate temperature was forecast. The rainfall to date this season measures 6.34 inches against 8.01 to the same period last season, and 11.07, normally.

Yesterday's highest temperature was 72 deg., and the lowest was 54.

TRAFFIC CAUSES DEATHS OF FIVE

Two Killed in Glendale as Auto Turns Over

Young Woman Loses Life When Hit by Train

Man Dies of Injuries Week After Wife's Passing

Four persons were killed outright in traffic accidents yesterday and one died as the result of injuries received a week ago. Two somersaulted to their deaths at Glendale when a speeding machine turned over nine times. At Huntington Beach a pedestrian was struck down and at Burbank a young woman's body was found lying near the Southern Pacific tracks, where she met death when hit by a train.

The crash in which two persons were killed yesterday afternoon was spectacular. Mrs. Dollie Carson, 25 years of age, 1715 West Glenoaks Boulevard, and V. M. Green, 30, 915 East Garfield avenue, both of Glendale, were the victims. A heavy roadster, driven by John Carson, on La Canada Road near the Oakmont Country Club, apparently got out of control. It turned over nine times, police declare, throwing Carson's wife and Green from the machine and crushing their skulls. Carson was uninjured.

HUSBAND HELD

Glendale police gave him a test for drunkenness. According to the physician's report, he had been drinking but was sober at the time he was examined. He is being detained on suspicion of manslaughter. The bodies were taken to Scovern's Mortuary.

At Huntington Beach, Alton Flagg, 65, a retired merchant of Midway City, was killed at Huntington Beach Boulevard and Fifth street when an auto driven by Leo Kopel, 412 Eighth street, that city, struck him as he was crossing the street. His skull was fractured. Kopel was not held.

The body of a young woman was found 150 feet south of the Lincoln-street crossing on the Southern Pacific tracks by the engineer of Southern Pacific train No. 55, who reported it to the Burbank police. It was thought at first to have been a result of foul play.

Chief of Police Bergh, Capt. Hampton and Officer Adams went to the scene and were joined by Capt. Bright of the Sheriff's homicide squad. A cursory examination disclosed only a gash in the young woman's head and no outward indications that she was struck by a train. However, when her body was taken to the Powell undertaking parlor in Burbank and examined there, her right hip and thugh were found to have been mangled and her clothing was found to bear marks of what is believed to be engine grease.

LIVED IN ROSCOE

The young woman was identified as Lois Hiatt, 21, and she lived with her aunt, Mrs. Agnes Warden, at 7835 San Cola street, Roscoe. Mrs. Warden told the police her niece worked for an interior decorator in Los Angeles. The girl, she said, usually returned home by the bus which runs up San Fernando Road and got off at the Dundee-street crossing.

On Saturday night apparently she missed her stop and alighted from the bus at the Lincoln-street crossing. It is believed that when she reached the railroad tracks she realized her mistake and started to walk south along the tracks to the Dundee-street crossing when a train came along and struck her.

Just a week after his wife, Mary Anna, was killed in a collision between two automobiles, W. L. Weitz, 52, of 1515 South Ardmore avenue, died yesterday in the Santa Monica Hospital. The body was removed by order of the Coroner to the Mendenhall undertaking establishment.

The accident, according to police records, occurred on the Roosevelt Highway one mile north of Trancas Beach a week ago yesterday.

FOUR ARRESTED

Two motorists were arrested on suspicion of drunk driving and two passengers for being intoxicated in an automobile yesterday morning.

Glenwood Burke, 22, an actor of 3959 Franklin avenue, was taken into custody at Pico street and Vermont avenue after he is said to have driven his automobile in an endeavor to sideswipe another car in which Ernest and Helene Stone were riding. Burke is booked on suspicion of driving while intoxicated. His companion was held for being intoxicated in an automobile.

Driving at a high rate of speed and from one side of the street to the other, according to police, Fred T. Elliot, 30, an electrician, of 1253 West Fortieth Place, was arrested for driving while intoxicated at Ninety-seventh and Figueroa streets.

Eugene M. Neilson, 28, of 2353 Cove street, found sitting in a parked automobile at 1835 West Twenty-fifth street, was taken into

by Harry Carr

NO SINGLE incident has signalized the passing of the old days of California like the plan to raise 100,000 sheep in pens and sheds near Los Angeles.

When I was a little boy the sheep era of California was just coming to an end. The flocks wandered all over the Southwest like gypsies—almost constantly on the move. Nine-tenths of the herders were Basques. They lived a lonely and curious life. At night, most of them slept in a sort of home-made box berth—a box bed lifted up off the ground on posts—this for protection against rattlesnakes.

The sheep passed on when the ranges were taken up and fenced.

THE NAVAJO SHEEP

The only place in the West where I know of great flocks is in Northern Arizona and New Mexico.

The Navajo Indians are perhaps the greatest sheep people who now remain. They herd in the same way that their ancestors—the Tartar tribes of the high plateaus of mid-Asia—tended their flocks in the long ago. Every Navajo child begins to herd the flocks as soon as he is big enough to sit on a cow pony.

MARRIED STARS

The movie-struck young wife who complained that she couldn't become a screen star wearing a wedding ring hasn't looked around the movies much.

Norma Talmadge, Mary Pickford, Colleen Moore, Florence Vidor, Joan Crawford, Billie Dove, Norma Shearer, and most of the other real ones attained their greatest successes after they were wearing wedding rings. After all, a picture show isn't an exhibit for harems.

SAVE THE BEACHES

If the plan for a new State park between Newport and Huntington Beach goes through, the public will be assured for all time to come of a free beach more than nine miles long. Having taken it in time, the cost will be comparatively reasonable—about $1,400,000. It will save a good many million dollars worth of trouble in the future.

KIDDING CONGRESSMEN

William Jennings Bryan's daughter—herself a Congresswoman—pleads with folks to stop kidding Congress. She says they are working hard and doing the best they can.

There is a good deal of philosophy in what she says. There is a certain type of Congressman who spends all his time in the House or Senate, expelling his breath in one form of language or another. They are the ones who get into the papers. Nothing is ever heard of the heavy routine work of the committees.

ITALIAN BABIES

A speaker before the birth control conference warns the world that Mussolini's policy of encouraging large families will cause the Italians to swarm all over North Africa. This doesn't seem like a very alarming prospect. Somebody other than the Arabs ought to swarm there.

DOLL DAY FETE PLANNED

The Japanese annual festival called doll day will be celebrated at the Public Library by a story hour and entertainment in the lecture room on Tuesday at 4 p.m. Many children will come in costume from the downtown schools. Miss Charlotte Munson, children's librarian, will tell stories and conduct a book game. Children from the third to the sixth grades of schools in the central district are invited.

COTTON ACREAGE TO BE CUT

Price Drop Alters Southwest Planting Program; Chamber Publication Explains Situation

Cotton acreage will be materially reduced in all sections of the Southwest this spring, due to the lowering price levels since the first of the year, according to Southern California Crops, a monthly market and field report of the Chamber of Commerce, released today.

Two months ago it seemed probable that the 1930 cotton acreage in California would exceed even the record crop of 309,000 acres, planted in 1929, the report states. However, the drop in price level since the first of the year has changed planting program materially and it is now expected that acreage this year will be below that of 1929.

"Reports from San Joaquin Valley indicate that finance companies are selecting only the best areas for cotton financing this year, and that marginal lands and those with costly water lifts will not be used," says a synopsis of the report. "It is expected that acreage in this section will be reduced as much as 20 per cent.

REDUCTIONS ELSEWHERE

"Other cotton-producing sections will also plant less cotton this year. Arizona, where pink boll worm infestation occurred last fall, will see a severe reduction in cotton acreage; Imperial Valley expects a cut of 40 per cent over last year; Palo Verde, 20 per cent, and Lower

CENSUS TAKER DEMANDS SENSE

Decennial Count of Uncle Sam's Family Starts April 2; City Dwellers' Inquisition Light, But Farmers' Questionnaire Covers Whole Biography

You may be as irresponsible as you please on April 1—that being a day dedicated to foolishness—but make up your mind right now to get down to business and cut out the monkeyshines on April 2.

CLARENCE L. KINCAID

April 2 is the day that your Uncle Sam begins his ten-year count of members of his family. In other words, compilation of the fifteenth national census of the United States starts on that day.

MRS. CLARENCE L. KINCAID

And because some persons may take the situation too lightly, be it remembered that approximately $50,000,000 worth of questions are going to be asked by census takers all over the country in the two weeks immediately preceding April 17, when the census taking is scheduled to be finished.

It has been figured out that the cost per person of obtaining census data will approximate 50 cents. So be on hand when the census taker calls and get your money's worth. He will not take much of your time. About

ASSESSORS START TODAY

Personal Property in County to Be Listed for Taxation by Force of 400 Deputies

Compilation of the county assessment roll for the current year will begin at noon today when approximately 400 special deputy assessors begin a systematic canvass of the county, according to an announcement made by Assessor Hopkins.

Duties of the deputies will be to contact all business houses, office buildings and residences in the county, valuing personal property for assessment purposes and obtaining from taxpayers a complete list of all property owned by them in the county. Their work does not include the valuation of land or buildings, which has practically been completed by a permanent force of deputies.

Assessor Hopkins directs particular attention to the law, which requires that churches, educational institutions, orphan asylums and veterans claiming exemptions shall file their claims with the necessary affidavits annually. The assessor has no authority to grant the exemptions if they fail to comply with this regulation, he points out.

It is estimated that 800,000 automobiles will be subject to assessment in the county. The suggestion is made that owners of automobiles who are away during the day leave their automobile numbers at the house in order that the deputy assessor may obtain them

BANDITS ACTIVE OVER WEEK-END

Three Pharmacies Robbed by Pair in Quick Time

Pedestrian Stabbed, But He Routs Assailants

Two Couples in Autos Lose Money in Hold Up

Robberies of three pharmacies, two pedestrians and one motorist by the same pair of bandits, two couples in automobiles by lone bandits, and a fight in which the victim, though stabbed, was victorious, were among nearly a dozen hold-ups which netted bandits more than $2000 over the week end.

The drug-store bandits made their first robbery at Lafayette Park Place and Beverly Boulevard where they held up Fred Brown of 2731 Beverly Boulevard and obtained $16, a watch, and the auto which they used in the hold-ups of the pharmacies.

ONE TIED UP

Within the next two hours the pair had held up D. W. Signer in the Western Pharmacy at 748 South Western avenue, obtaining $100, I. W. Cooke and Mrs. A. Goldberg in the Arcady Pharmacy at 2627 Wilshire Boulevard, getting $16, and C. P. Headington in the Eddingh Pharmacy at 4751 York Boulevard, where the victim was tied up in the rear of the store after handing over $30.

Between drug stores the pair stopped long enough to hold up Clarence A. Pierce of 969 South Berendo street and Ray W. Adams of 400 West Fifty-third street as they were walking together at Third and Berendo streets. This robbery netted the pair $50.

C. W. Bonner, Jr., bank teller in the Security-First National Bank branch at Vermont and Santa Barbara avenues, reported to police one of the most unusual experiences of the week-end series of robberies.

He said he was walking on Grand avenue between Seventh and Eighth streets late Saturday night when some one struck him a sudden blow from behind. He immediately lost consciousness.

Several hours later he was found lying in the street at College street and Broadway by a street-car conductor. Recovering his senses he found he had been robbed of his watch and $5 in cash. Police believe he was hit with a piece of gas pipe, thrown into an automobile and driven about by bandits. Unable to revive their victim the bandits then, apparently, threw Bonner out of their machine where he was found.

Bonner was treated at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital for a severe contusion of the scalp.

Eugene H. Ekontile of 1517 Santee street, though not injured, reported a similar experience. He stated he was held up by two auto bandits on Sixteenth street, driven about for half an hour, and then kicked out of the car minus a $23 check.

FIGHT OCCURS IN LOT

Edward Gilmore of 344 East Sixty-ninth street, was the citizen who fought a victorious battle with two bandits on a vacant lot at Sixty-seventh street and Avalon Boulevard.

Gilmore told police that as he was walking across the lot the two bandits, one armed with a revolver, and the other with a long knife, stepped from behind a billboard and ordered him to "stick 'em up."

Instead of complying with the gruff demand, Gilmore planted a hefty right fist below one of the bandit's ears and he fell sprawling. The other bandit lunged at Gilmore with a knife. As the latter recovered from his first blow the knife slashed across his right hand inflicting a deep gash. But his left fist, still in good condition, connected with the knife wielder's chin and he followed his companion to the turf.

BANDITS FLEE

Apparently unwilling to continue the battle both bandits scrambled to their feet and fled, leaving Gilmore alone on the field of conflict. He was given treatment at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital for the stab wound.

Driving slowly at Tenth and Bonnie Brae streets with a woman companion George D. Ringer of 739 South Westlake avenue was robbed of $5 and his car by a lone bandit, who stepped into the machine from the curb with a leveled revolver.

A similar robbery occurred in front of 300 South Cochran avenue where H. Beaver of 141 North Rampart Boulevard and a woman companion were held up and robbed of $96. This bandit did not take the victim's car.

Matt Daum lost $14 to a lone bandit who held him up in his grocery at 5640 West Adams street.

TAX ASSESSORS AT WORK TODAY

and thereby eliminate additional expense to the county in making a recheck.

It is hoped, Assessor Hopkins stated, that this will be the last year that the County Assessor will be called upon to assess automobiles as there is an amendment on the ballot of the forthcoming State election which would require the State Motor Vehicle Department to collect the tax on them at the time certificates of registration are issued. The money would then be turned over to the cities and counties in which the automobiles are located and expense of collection reduced to a minimum, he said.

Taxpayers can save themselves much money if they will grant the deputy assessor an interview at the first call, Hopkins said. Costs to the county mount with each return call and in the end if the deputy is unable to see the taxpayer the law requires that an arbitrary assessment be made from the knowledge in the possession of the deputy, Assessor Hopkins stated. Arbitrary assessments usually are unsatisfactory and result in inconvenience when payment of taxes is made, he said.

In cases where it is inconvenient to see a deputy at the home or place of business the taxpayer may appear at the office of the County Assessor on the fourth floor of the Hall of Justice and file a statement. This statement will be referred to the deputy in the field, who will place the valuations on the personal property. Failure to see the deputy in the field does not relieve the taxpayer of filing a statement as the law requires him to appear in the Assessor's office and declare his property, Assessor Hopkins stated.

Taxes on all personal property where the owner does not own real estate in Los Angeles county are collectible at the time the assessment is made or immediately thereafter. The tax on personal property where the owner also owns real estate becomes a lien against the real estate and is payable in full with the real estate taxes.

STUDENTS DESIGNATE REPRESENTATIVE FILM

A questionnaire among students of Princeton concerning the motion pictures using the modern college as its background finds "The Sophomore," directed by Leo McCarey, the most truly representative of the real college campus. The students found considerable to criticise in the college films, declaring many of them misleading.

HATCH FUNERAL TODAY

Funeral rites for Dr. Melvin A. Hatch, retired physician and founder of the Lonesome Club, who died Friday, will be conducted at 2 p.m. today at the Ruppe Mortuary, 950 West Washington street. Interment will be in Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Dr. Hatch came here ten years ago from Minneapolis. Shortly afterward he organized the Lonesome Club with a charter membership of thirteen. The membership is now around 20,000.

CENSUS TO GET FARMER'S GOAT

three minutes per capita, so to speak. Of course, if you are the father of twelve, that is a different matter, but consider the honor of adding twelve names to the nation's roll call.

To meet all the complicated problems that the 1930 census entails, involving a huge increase in population and almost twice as many questions to ask, five Los Angeles county census supervisors and 1600 enumerators are busy figuring out ways and means of accelerating one of the biggest jobs in the country.

CAMPAIGN MAPS

They are establishing headquarters, along the sides of which were huge maps of their particular territories, arranging census blanks and being sure that everything is proceeding toward that ideal state of perfection of organization that they expect to materialize when April 2 arrives.

"Of course, our biggest problem is to impress the general public that their co-operation is necessary to our success," said Clarence L. Kincaid, supervisor of the Sixteenth District, comprising Hollywood, Santa Monica, Culver City, Playa Del Rey and way points.

"If citizens will give the census takers a prompt audience and answer the questions freely our work will be comparatively easy, but if they don't—well, there is going to be trouble ahead both for us and for the folks that are too busy or too indifferent to aid the government we represent."

JOB FOR WIFE

Kincaid is busy fitting his headquarters at 5427 Santa Monica Boulevard. His wife, Mrs. Bernice Kincaid, who will help with the census taking, is also busy with the preparations, as is August Smith, chief assistant supervisor of the Sixteenth District.

The headquarters building must be in readiness to receive and file reports sent in daily by the enumerators and at the end of the census taking period to release the population figures of the district. All other information gathered will be sent to Washington without being made public.

SOME CAN RIDE

Just as Kincaid is preparing his district so are the other four supervisors of Los Angeles districts. Charles Chenoweth, facing the problems involved in getting the census in the widespread San Fernando Valley, the Fifteenth District, has established headquarters in Glendale. Census takers are paid so much per name that they list on their blanks. In the metropolitan district, where most of the work can be done on foot and the population is dense, the rate is lower than in more sparsely settled communities. The higher rate in the San Fernando Valley will allow some of Chenoweth's enumerators to use automobiles in their work.

The Seventeenth District, under Supervisor Alfred Munson, takes in, generally, the university district and environs. Munson has established headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce Building. The Eighteenth District includes East Los Angeles, Pomona, Glendora and intermediate points. William Ballentine, with headquarters in Monrovia, is supervisor. The Nineteenth District will be bounded, roughly, by Vernon, Montebello, Long Beach, San Pedro, Palos Verdes and El Segundo. T. G. De Coudres, with headquarters in Long Beach, is supervisor.

A universal request by all supervisors is to inform those seeking positions as enumerators that all positions were filled some time ago. Preference was given to war veterans who passed qualifying examinations. Selection also was made so that enumerators reside centrally in the district they will cover.

Only two phases of the 1930 census will be touched by the local enumerators. They will get the population and agricultural data. Federal questionnaires on manufacturing, distribution, irrigation and drainage will be handled by special Federal workers.

Enumerators this year will wear official buttons and carry other credentials establishing their connection with the Federal census. A law passed since the last census penalizes anyone seeking to take advantage of the situation by posing as a census taker while in reality gathering information for selfish purposes.

The agricultural census, the supervisors admit, presents a problem. Uncle Sam in his desire to get at the bottom of the farm situation has prepared a blank for farmers on which 243 questions appear. Just about everything that ever happened on the farm is inquired into. Here are questions Nos. 94 and 95, for example:

GETTING THE GOATS

(94.) Number of Angora goats and kids (all ages) .....

(95.) Number other goats and kids (all ages) .....

Then take questions Nos. 49 to 55, inclusive:

(49.) Has this farm a telephone?

(50.) Is water piped into the farmer's dwelling house?

(51.) Is water also piped into a bathroom?

(52.) Is the farmer's dwelling house lighted by electricity?

(53.) What kind of a road adjoins this farm?

To simplify the farm situation sample ballots are to be supplied farmers so that they may study up before the enumerator returns officially to ask the questions. Of course, many of the 243 questions will not apply in any given case. For instance, if the farmer has no kids or goats to get, questions Nos. 94 and 95 will take none of his time.

Pair Celebrate Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Horowitz of 117 South Boyle avenue, parents of Fred Horowitz, an associated of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, in the practice of law, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary yesterday at Folk's Hall, 420 North Soto street.

All of their seven children were present, together with eight grandchildren. The company included 150 friends of the family. Dancing and entertainment by Russian singers featured the program. Many gifts were presented to the couple.

Mr. Horowitz is 73 years of age and his wife is 71. They were married at Kiev, Russia, and have lived in Los Angeles since 1905.

Alice White's Friends Reveal Wedding Plans

If stories told to friends are true, wedding bells will ring either today or Tuesday at Chicago for Alice White, Titian-haired screen star, and Sidney Bartlett, Los Angeles broker. According to Hollywood friends, Miss White confided to them before her departure Friday that she and Bartlett would be married as soon as they arrived at the Illinois metropolis, where his parents reside.

ALICE WHITE

Miss White and her prospective husband have been engaged for more than a year. She has admitted her engagement at various times and at other times has seen fit to deny it.

The trip to the East will be of short duration, as Miss White is scheduled to start on a picture at the First National studios in the near future.

COTTON AREAS TO BE REDUCED

California; 20 per cent," the report sets forth.

"Reduction of cotton acreage in the Southwest is considered a sound move by cotton men, who believe that the tendency to plant marginal lands should be checked. Prospective labor shortages during the coming harvest season, due to agitation for restriction of Mexican labor, also confront growers. Only the low production of grapes and deciduous fruits in the San Joaquin Valley last fall saved that district from severe losses in cotton from labor shortage."

The report also covers present agricultural conditions in Southern California.

"Early spring work has started in the orchards and fields with land being broken for crops," says the synopsis. "Early fruits are in bloom and generally speaking orchard conditions are satisfactory. Weather conditions have been ideal for most vegetable crops, although rain is needed in some sections.

"During the past week, weather conditions in the eastern consuming centers has improved, creating a better orange market situation. Consumers are showing more interest in the larger sizes of fruit which have been hard to sell in recent months. All oranges are of extremely high quality and are selling for on an average of 80 cents to $1 over Florida fruit. The heaviest consuming season on oranges is at hand and the market situation is expected to improve rapidly.

"California avocados are selling at the highest price in the history of the industry. A volume and price comparison with comparable months last year shows an increase in volume of 58 per cent and in net return of 12 per cent.

"Deciduous fruit orchard conditions are reported as excellent in most districts of Southern California, although in the peach areas around Ontario there is still some possibility of trouble with delayed foliation again this year. The Hemet-San Jacinto Valley orchards are in fine shape, as are the pear orchards in the Antelope Valley and the cherry and other table fruits in the Yucaipa-Beaumont-Banning area. Early fruits are in bloom and in the San Joaquin Valley districts grapes are leafing out normally.

"Declines in dried fruit prices during the past month from the high levels which have ruled since harvest has been checked and the trade has shown response to this move. The canned fruit market showed little change during the past month.

"The alfalfa hay situation remains substantially the same as prevailed since the middle of last month, with prices still lower. Dairymen are not inclined to buy heavily of old stocks, with new hay and green feed becoming available, yet the storage stocks in the producing districts are still quite heavy. The result is that offers to growers in the Antelope Valley are around $18 and $19 a ton. Lower offers are made for hay in other districts. It seems evident that hay prices for the coming year will be somewhat lower than those which have prevailed during the past two seasons.

"The Imperial Valley lettuce deal is the principal activity in the vegetable industry. Prices have been very close to production costs due to the tremendous volume of this commodity ready for shipment. Other vegetable crops are moving at satisfactory prices."

TRAFFIC CAUSES DEATHS OF FIVE

custody for being intoxicated in an automobile. The driver, according to Officers Bland and Reeve, had left.

In a collision with a car driven driven by Mrs. K. A. Hoxie of the Union Oil camp at Huntington Beach, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Turner of Hill and Geneva streets, that city, were injured, the latter seriously. Her chest, right shoulder and thigh were crushed and there are other possible internal injuries. She was removed to the Santa Ana Valley Hospital in Santa Ana.

HOSPITAL FIGURES SHOW ACCIDENT GAIN

Indicating a steady increase in the number of persons injured in traffic accidents, despite police plans for a new system of law enforcement, figures compiled by Chief Nurse Whitehead yesterday showed that 131 more persons were treated in the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital during the twenty-eight days of February than during a similar time in January. The total number of cases of which the majority resulted from traffic crashes, was 2237 treatments.

For the twenty-four hours between Saturday and 8 a.m. yesterday 121 accident victims were given emergency treatment, a record for that period, Chief Nurse Whitehead stated.

Since January 1 to yesterday 256 sobriety tests were given, of which ninety-five patients were diagnosed as intoxicated.

INAUGURATION MONTH

TWENTY-THREE YEARS AGO on March 4, 1907, a new store was opened in Los Angeles on Broadway at Seventh Street.—On March 4, 1908, Bullock's First Inauguration Month voiced appreciation of the encouragement that had highlighted the experience of that first year:

—And on March 4, 1930, Bullock's Twenty-Third Inauguration Month welcomes the opportunity to thank all those (and it is hoped this word will reach you all) who have been so generous, not only with Friendship and support, but also with that criticism, suggestion and advice which will never cease to be valuable assets of this business.

—To interpret your will—To serve you well is The Bullock Way—

—On March 4, 1930, Bullock's Inauguration Month will open Bullock's twenty-fourth year—a New Year's day, a New Year's Month which is always approached through reflection—

—The years that have passed have been filled with contacts and accomplishments—They have been permeated with devotion to and the intensification of ideals—They have been stepping stones to the years that are to come—and have brought us to this new threshold—which is one of Out-look..and Up-look..and Re-dedication.

—March 4, 1930, a New beginning and The Bullock Ideal will continue unalterable in its inspiration!

"To build a business that will never know completion but that will advance continually to meet advancing conditions—

To develop stocks and service to a notable degree—

To create a personality that will be known for its strength and friendliness—

To arrange and co-ordinate activities to the end of winning confidence by meriting it—

To strive always to secure the satisfaction of every customer—"

—Old Rafters hewn from Rugged Oaks of Character and Human Understanding Wrought from the Activities of the business itself—The Bullock Ideal reveals again its determination that this business shall grow through work well done—through Merchandise, Values, and Service, complete, comprehensive and courteous.

—All of which depends not upon words but on people, and so people, loyal people, men and women who know Bullock's and are in accord with Bullock's principles and policy, have pledged themselves to the purpose.

—And the purpose is to make Bullock's a better store than Bullock's has ever been—not on this side or that, not in this way or that, but in every way towards the satisfaction of Every Customer.

—And so Tuesday, March 4—the first day of Bullock's Twenty-third Inauguration Month:

—And it is fitting that it is springtime, and that songs of birds and fragance of flowers fill the air—adding happiness to this spirit of Re-dedication which prevails and is tangibly expressed:

—Dreams have been dreamed and Dreams have come true:

—No matter what your needs may be, remember Inauguration Month, does not begin or end with a sale of this, or that, or the other—but will include many important events in an ensemble of offerings of New Merchandise and of Values, and an intensification of Endeavor throughout the entire store, in every section on every floor:

ANOTHER EXTRA

If there are to be thirteen months in the new calendar we hope they stick in the extra one during the fishing season.

OR SITTING DOWN

"French Stand at Naval Conference" runs a headline. However, our calm judgment is that they ran back home for a new Premier.

THE LOW-DOWN

The price of silver has fallen to the lowest point in history, says a financial note. Now we understand what the boss meant when we asked him for a rise.

WHERE IS OURS?

The per capita wealth in the United States is $3000. Nevada is the richest State per capita with $7338 for every man, woman and child. California is far above the average with a per capita wealth of $3725. Somebody must owe us something.

THE EDITOR'S SANCTUM

The Bible would seem to be a necessary piece of furniture for a sanctum. And so when the Bible Guild of New York sent out a questionnaire to fifty-six pen-pushers concerning the relative merits of quoting Scripture in their columns, a unanimous reply came back.

RADIO RECEPTION

"Good Radio Reception Coming," announces a headline. After shopping among the stations to find a little sandwich of music between the big slabs of advertising, this is good news. The sun spots are guilty of much; but not everything can be charged against the freckles on Old Sol.

TO KEEP WELL

Among some "Don'ts" sent out by a board of health, one reads, "Don't flirt with death by running your automobile engine in a closed garage." Meditating upon the irate husband who shot another from his automobile in Los Angeles recently, it may also be healthy not to flirt with another man's wife.

THE COOLIDGE CONDENSER

Calvin Coolidge is to write a history of the United States in 500 words. This ought to make him popular with the youngsters. Possibly it will run something like the boy's biography of Benjamin Franklin: "B. Franklin was born in Boston—went to Philadelphia with a loaf of bread under his arm—a girl laughed at him—he married her and discovered electricity!"

WORDS

How many words do you use? This is the impertinent question a magazine asks of its readers. And then it proceeds to tell how many the smart people of the race employ.

Some English farmers are said to get along with 300. An American toddler of 17 months is known to have used 232 and when he was a youngster of 6, he successfully navigated with 2688. A German 2-year-old could handle 489 tongue-twisters of his country and another of the same age, 1128. However, they were both girls and this might seem to give them undue advantage.

An American professor is guilty of saying it in 33,456 different ways. Possibly this is one reason why the highbrows are so hard to understand. This learned gentleman went through the dictionary and checked up on himself. The majority of students in college are reported by reliable sources to express themselves in 60,000 words. However, this may seem an exaggeration save to their parents at vacation time. Persons without college culture, but who read the newspapers and magazines, are found to achieve 25,000 words.

Nobody has checked up on Congress. Possibly it may not use many different terms; but there is a suspicion that it does at times try to see how many it can squeeze into a second.

The number of words we personally use depends largely on the subject under discussion. When the subject of Communism bobs up, we have but one word adequately to deal with it.

WANTED: A NEW CROP

The Federal Farm Board is using government money to buy wheat in the hope of stabilizing the price and recovering losses later on. At the same time it is urging farmers' organizations to curtail production of such staples as wheat, corn and cotton. The Department of Agriculture, or at least one portion of the Department of Agriculture, is seconding this latter motion by seeking abandonment of the cultivation of marginal lands. Meanwhile another section of the Department of Agriculture, all the agricultural colleges and all the agricultural machinery manufacturers and inventors are doing their best to improve farm efficiency, which means increased production from the same acreage or fewer men to do the same work or both. Gov. Roosevelt in a recent address declared that the State of New York is trying to make farm life more attractive than city life and keep its people on the farm.

A visitor from Mars would be much puzzled at this set of government and public activities in different directions; and in fact, the average American citizen has a hard time trying to explain them to himself. If he finds an explanation, it is in the fact that men's minds do not agree as to what is wrong with agriculture—which may be due to the further fact that different things are wrong with it in different sections.

President Hoover some time ago pointed out that what the Federal government should try to do is to save the farm rather as a way of life than as an industry. It may well be questioned if this is being accomplished by any of the devices that are being tried.

Artificial price stabilization and artificial limitation of production are obviously only palliatives, apt to produce just such results in the long run as British legislation did in the case of rubber and Brazilian legislation did in the case of coffee. No one recognizes this fact any better, probably, than the members of the Federal Farm Board, which has been forced to adopt such temporary expedients, in spite of their danger, for want of anything better.

What the American farmer really needs is a new crop or new uses for some of the old ones. It is not likely that anything further can be developed out of wheat; but the chemists are doing things with corn—both grain and stalks—which promise a great future. But experimentation should not stop with corn, though the corn experimentation should be pushed and industrialized as rapidly as possible.

There are two fields in which the continental United States is very short of raw material, rubber and paper. Edison professes to be able to make rubber out of goldenrod. If this is commercially practicable, it will furnish occupation for a large amount of land area, since this common roadside flower apparently will grow luxuriantly almost anywhere and the American consumption of rubber, already enormous, is likely to increase rather than decrease. Guayule for rubber is already being grown in California and offers another possibility, though it is not likely that this shrub can be widely cultivated, demanding as it does peculiar climatic conditions.

But literally nobody is now growing raw material for paper that can compete with wood pulp. American forests suitable for paper production are almost exhausted and the bulk of pulp stock comes, and has been coming for some years, from the Canadian forests. With the Canadian government becoming increasingly interested in the restriction of pulp production and tending to make difficulties about exports, there exists the danger that this source of supply may be shut off or seriously curtailed. A crop that can be grown cheaply and harvested by machinery, which could be converted into paper, would be a boon not only to farmers, but also to the multifarious printing industries, which employ thousands and thousands in the production of newspapers, magazines and books.

If the Federal Farm Board can find time and energy, both might be well expended, together with some money, in finding something else that farmers can raise besides the staples with which the market is now glutted.

THE JURY

Our frequently attacked jury system, it is well to remember occasionally, was one of the first liberties wrested from absolute monarchs. Once the king was an itinerant court that circulated in the country and dispensed what was called justice. Sometimes there was sufficient time to adjudicate differences. More frequently the advice of lords, not the evidence, determined the innocence or guilt of prisoners.

Monarchs granted the jury system grudgingly at the point of the sword. Since then life has been more sacred and property more secure.

Under the sluggishness of courts and the stress of business we criticise the beggared material that enters the jury box. Many prospective jurors plead lack of time. Some render themselves ineligible by declared opinions. The ragtag is too often sworn in to do duty. This is one of the weaknesses of the jury system.

Ignorance at times seems to be at a premium in the selection of twelve men; for only those who have not read the papers and have not formed opinions go unchallenged. The dumb are often in greatest demand.

However, when judges do their duty and do not permit shysters to use up their patience and all their challenges whimsically, wisdom frequently sits in the jury box, and conscience holds court. Twelve men and women, both cultured and uncultured, but all of good character, are more likely to bring in just verdicts than one man or a small group of judges trained in technicalities.

Women are proving their worth as jurors. Aside from having more time, not being the wage-earners, they are showing themselves to be as judicial as men. At the present time twenty-one States employ women as jurors and twenty-seven States hold them ineligible.

The pay of the juror seems pitifully small. But if it were larger, it might be exploited by professionals. As a rule, little but patriotism prompts men and women to accept jury duty as a privilege to serve the State.

No system is perfect; there is usually large room for improvement—and the juryroom is no exception. The American people will be slow to trade off the present system for any experiment.

English jurisprudence deals the most effectively and swiftly with criminals. The jury system has cleansed that country of her thugs and emptied the jails. This may account for Chicago.

FITS THE POCKET

In view of the cost of crime in the United States we conclude that the great need of the country is bigger and better arms-reduction conferences in Chicago and other towns.

ALL GUMMED UP

The country spent $90,000,000 for chewing gum the past year. At that Catalina Island and Will Rogers's humor are worth it.

COL. BOGIE TRAVELS
By James J. Montague

The Prince of Wales will dedicate a new golf course near the African jungle.

From Greenland's icy mountains
To India's coral strands,
Beside the purling fountains
Along the shining sands,
Sounds many an angry splutter
As easy shots go wide
And brassie, spoon and putter
Are foozilingly plied.

Where rolls the lazy Niger
Beneath its wooded shore,
Or where the Bengal tiger
Comes forth at night to roar,
Where Lake Nyanza splashes
Her waves upon the strand,
The niblicks, cleeks and mashies
Are clouting on the sand.

And men from County Mayo,
And Birmington and Perth,
In far-off Bulawayo
Dig up the torrid earth;
The tropic grasses sever
And send the clods afar
As bravely they endeavor
To get around in par.

By many a distant river,
By many a mountain pass,
The number six clubs shiver
The unresisting grass.
And make unskilled attacks on
The shaved and verdant lawn;
Where goes the Anglo-Saxon
The game of golf has gone.

LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

THIS is a story of unfaltering faith, unconquerable courage, indomitable perseverance—of one woman's pursuit and final capture of health.

As a young wife, Mrs. Hiram Daley of 1752 Barcelona Drive was bright and gay. She not only kept house and belonged to three clubs, but when anyone at a dance suggested that the hour was growing late she was the first to reply that the evening was a mere pup yet.

After she became a mother, however, all was changed. She still attended club meetings, but only for the purpose of telling her club sisters how careful she had to be with herself. And the morning after every dance she had to stay in bed and let her husband get the breakfast, a privilege which she soon found it necessary to extend to other mornings. And she began to develop nerves.

Unconquerable Spirit

She valiantly determined to get her health back, even if it cost all her husband's income. So she consulted the old family physician.

He showed himself sadly behind the times and inadequate. He could not find anything much the matter with her.

So she went to a society specialist and met the first man she'd ever met who really understood her case. Instead of telling her what was the matter he listened gravely and agreed with everything she told him.

He said: "You are more delicately organized than most women. Little things mean more to you. Although very finely poised, you are deeply sensitive. It really means more to you than to most women how you are dressed, what kind of furniture you have. Some thoughtless action of your husband's, trivial in itself, will set your teeth on edge just because your delicately appreciative nature reacts to its deeper meanings rather than to the action itself."

She went home a happy woman and joyfully told Daley that though Dr. Stickem's rates were high, it was real economy to have him, because he was such a really great scientist.

She Tried, Tried Again

A housemaid and a nurse relieved her of all domestic duties, but her loyalty to her friends was such that she continued to stagger on bravely under her social duties.

But though Dr. Stickem was wonderful, she grew worse instead of better. His perceptions were so much keener than those of ordinary practitioners that he discovered many ills they never would have seen. He also directed her to various heart, dental and tonsil specialists with whom he maintained exchange arrangements.

They were too conscientious to collect their fees without pulling or cutting out something, so soon there wasn't very much left of her.

Inspiration at $5 Per

She next consulted a psychologist, who not only told people how to feel well, but look beautiful and make lots of money. Also, to escape a $50-a-day license fee on "psychics," he mixed in a little religion with it, calling himself the Church of All-'Round Perfection.

She never consulted him that she did not go away greatly lightened in heart and purse.

It was only a step from that to oriental mysticism and she became one of the disciples of Swami Ghethamoni.

Determined to Die Nobly

But despite all those efforts, she was becoming more a thing of the spirit than of the flesh. She was weak, languid, anemic. She often said of herself that she was merely living on nerve and courage.

And then the stock crash flattened Daley like a sour-dough pancake. Nurse and housemaid had to go. Not even for washing clothes or scrubbing floors could anyone be employed.

"If you can stand this a few days, my dear," said the devoted husband, "maybe I can get you into the General Hospital or some other free institution, and make some similar provision for the child. Debt-burdened as I am, I can do nothing more."

But the old, heroic fire flashed in her eyes. "I can die but once," she said. "Let me die doing my duty for my husband and child. I will not go to the General Hospital."

Back to Family Physician

So she began to dress a squirming child, wash clothes, scrub floors, sweep, shake rugs and do all the other innumerable jobs of a housewife.

At the end of a month there was color in her cheeks, muscle in her arms, she was sleeping well, her appetite was good and she had gained six pounds.

No one can explain this mystery, when face to face with Mrs. Daley. But the family physician has a private theory, as follows: Proper and sufficient physical culture—Delsarte exercises (sweeping with a broom, washing windows, scrubbing floors, etc.) and lack of worry over piling up bills beyond one's means have aided Mrs. Daley's muscles, digestion, circulation and appetite, have taken the edge off of nerves and induced sound sleep.

"There is no magnifying glass for ills," he says, "like introspection."

MORNING EXERCISES
[Baltimore Sun]

The year opens with bad news for all and sundry who begin the day with setting-up exercises, though it will be hailed with glee by the large majority who prefer to lie in bed. One hundred and twenty-four members of the Society of Directors of Physical Education in Colleges solemnly aver that such exercises "contribute little of social, psychological or recreational value." It is further stated that they do little or nothing to promote physical development.

This report we welcome on behalf of those who are always being baited to bestir themselves at sun-up and start aggressively at the job of swinging dumb-bells, contorting their bodies, wildly swinging arms and legs and breaking their backs by touching the floor with the tips of their fingers. Many stout fellows have stood firm against this tiring and tiresome cult, but at times the pressure has been terrific, women with "modern" ideas being what they are. Free men may now feel that their deep-seated, full-stomached aversion to these and similar methods of mental and physical torture is based on reasonings as sound and substantial as their own persons. Not mere laziness has prompted them to shun these athletic vagaries but prophetic intelligence.

With experts rating this form of calisthenics twenty-ninth in a list of thirty exercises, the crank on the daily dozen and other forms of morning set-up is given something to think about—assuming he has any use for something to think about.

BORAH PLAN TO DO SOMETHING
[San Francisco Chronicle]

Senator Borah's program for America in Haiti is one that the administration would doubtless be happy to follow. The program is, briefly, that something ought to be done about Haiti. Mr. Borah has no quarrel with the Hoover plan to have a commission find out what it is that needs to be done. But he says it will take too long, so he wants to do what is to be done right away.

Mr. Borah condemns military rule. So does everyone. The idea is repugnant to American ideals. So is it repugnant to think of Haiti without marines, for the total casualty list since they have been there is probably less than a fairly busy afternoon in Haiti without them.

The substitute Mr. Borah offers is the appointment by the President of a high commissioner or governor—and what a howl that would bring from the right-of-small-nations faction in which the Senator is a bellwether—and to give Haiti a "free and untrammeled election."

A free and untrammeled election is something Haiti never has had in its entire history. If there could be one America's concerns would be at an end. Mr. Borah's suggestion is a fine one, like the plan of the mice to bell the cat. The only thing lacking is the method by which it can be done—unless by the marines, which does not seem to be in Senator Borah's mind.

The Trouble Makers

GLENDALE, Feb. 27.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In this morning's edition you carry extended accounts of "Red rioting" of the evening before. In Los Angeles, Seattle, Cleveland and elsewhere. Looks like a concerted move.

But the point I drive home is that in the line-up of names of rioters, two-thirds are unpronounceable. Many endings betray the Russian origin of the owners.

Last year Sacramento compiled a list of 5000 names of law-breakers, mostly bootleggers and hijackers, and over 4000 of those names were of Mid-European origin. From quotations in last night's battles, "Comrades, join us to overthrow American government," it is easy to see that the vast amount of law-defying today is from foreigners who have sought asylum on our shores.

I have absolutely no criticism of the European, or any other, who comes here to become citizens of economic value; to subscribe to our customs and properly constituted authorities, and are inclined to become genuinely Americanized. Let the lawless, the "Reds" and all the other dissatisfied go back to their original Utopias and stay there! And let us see to it that no more such enter our country's gates.

Tired Youth

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I would like to bring to the attention of the Board of Education the necessity of establishing in our public schools and colleges classes in courtesy or chivalry, parents or guardians of boys and young men do not teach it at home.

You can readily see the need of such instruction any day by riding on any of our car lines.

Boys and young men sit stoically still and let the aged and decrepit women stand while they occupy seats.

It is a shame and a disgrace to our young American manhood on these occasions. I am a man well over 65 years of age, but I always tender my seat to a lady, young or old.

What are our boys and young men coming to? Have they no feeling or gratitude in their hearts for the aged and feeble? Shame on them. Wake up, tired young men and boys, and show some Americanism. J. M. W.

Beautiful Pepper Trees

BEVERLY HILLS, Feb. 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Saw a splendid letter in your paper regarding pepper trees. I want to give the people my version of it. Anyone doubting this matter let them come to Beverly Hills and see our beautiful Crescent Drive—blocks of trees, well-kept clean lawns under them. The people that complain are those too lazy to clean up after them when they cannot keep a gardener. Crescent Drive is one of the most beautiful streets in Beverly Hills—and why should its beauty be sacrificed?

Not the Irish Way

LOS ANGELES, March 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I devoutly hope that the boy who was or is a famous actor will come with a million other Hibernians to the rescue of the reputation of his grandmother. This Van Allen person must have been trying to make a scenario. Gnawing a T-bone and drinking steaming coffee out of a saucer . . . coffee, mind you! She would, she would take coffee every time if she had the chance. And her grandson would be sure to exhibit her. Of course, and he would teach her, his grandmother, how to behave. Oh, boy, what a story. He would certainly tell Mabel that his grandmother gnawed bones and that her nails would be black with Erin's soil.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Parliamentary Rules?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

John B. Steven, formerly instructor in the law department of Polytechnic Evening High School, is giving a free course in parliamentary procedure at Polytechnic, 400 West Washington Boulevard, on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7 to 9. There is no kind of charge and people of all ages are welcome. Out-of-town visitors are as welcome as residents of Los Angeles.

The course will include Theory and practice in the organization and procedure of clubs, rights and duties of officers and committees, precedence of motions and their modifications and rules governing debate. Club men and women with individual problems may receive advice by bringing questions to class and submitting them to the teacher. The work will be given in the simplest language, with actual practice in class, so that students may feel perfectly at home when taking part in private club meetings or business organizations.

PAN-AMERICAN COMMERCIAL UNITY

By Hon. Juan Carlos Godoy, Consul-General of Argentina

[The following are extracts from a speech delivered recently by the Consul-General of Argentina at an all-nations' luncheon of the Foreign Trade Club at Oakland.]

No longer is the American continent looking exclusively to Europe as the market where to buy our necessities as well as the only commercial center wherein to sell the products raised in our republics. No longer are here needed the commercial treatics, conventions and agreements which sustained during the last century close relations between the continents of America and Europe.

But it is only of late years that continental trade is turning its eyes to Pan-America for its demands and offers. So dynamic has been this movement, so pregnant of possibilities of greater developments, so promising of peace and understanding in spite of so-called racial and political differences, that there is no doubt that the corner-stone of continental economic understanding is now getting ready to be set in the erection of the structure which, in accordance with the universal aspiration of Latin-American democracies, will Pan-Americanize the Monroe Doctrine.

United States' investment of surplus capital in the sister nations of the American continent is not only readily understood by those persons who translate the waves of your own economic relations, but, to high economists and statesmen all over mankind, it signifies a far-sighted protective measure insuring the continuance of United States' prosperity. Markets in the Americas where to buy raw materials no longer produced in this country and markets where to dispose of the products manufactured with those importations have not only to be built but developed and maintained through a common understanding of continental needs and advantages. To preserve its present industries this country must continue to increase production and, taking advantage of the untold resources of the rest of the continent from where her industries are and must be fed, establish that Pan-American understanding previously referred to.

The future of the continent of America lies in joining together your industrial forces with our natural resources and the geographical advantages common to all American nations, so that without creating antagonistic interests, the United States continues to manufacture goods in whose production imported continental raw materials are used. This will complete an economic circle.

There are a number of new and yet very important reasons for this present development of inter-American trade which points to the great desirability of a development to the greatest extent possible; a development which is aided by the following factors: The ever-increasing transportation and communication facilities between the countries of the Americas; the growing wealth and newly acquired needs of the inhabitants of this continent and, among other not less important factors, the highly complementary nature of the products of the soil grown at different seasons north and south of the American equator.

The present tendencies of trade between American countries are very favorable, indeed. The great war turned them to the United States and turned the United States to them for supplies, and the two races of people inhabiting this new world are getting better acquainted, economically, very rapidly. Here is a field of international trade which is insistently important to us; a field we should endeavor continually to enlarge, through increased reciprocity and interchange.

FILOFISMS

By The Foothill Philosopher

They talk to me of death—those who seem to know nothing of life—and I have to smile. Can they not realize that whatever is real can never be destroyed and that whatever has no reality and, therefore, does not exist, can never die?

In all eternity there never can be anything but the Infinite Presence. Eternity is real while time is a dream. Life is light and death is a shadow—and a shadow has no substance.

That which is here and now, tomorrow will be then and there—and then and there will be here and now. Forever and forever, life will assert itself and those who "die" will smile as they "pass out"—because they know.

Many of us see and declare that others "die" but, while we may pretend to "believe" that we also shall pass, no one can conceive of death for himself. Why is this so? Because, deeply, each soul knows that for him there is no death. The appearance of the "Reaper" is dramatic, but the awakened know that he has no power.

A Marvelously Useful Plant

The country about Natal in British Africa is the home of the carnauba palm, remarkable in that all of its parts are useful. Wax from its leaves is made into candles; fiber from the leaves utilized for making hats, baskets, mats and brooms; its stem is employed for rafters, joists and building material; the palmetto of the carnauba is eaten as a vegetable, fermented to make wine and vinegar; the fruit is fed to cattle, and the nut is used as coffee; in the stem is a pith used as cork and a sap which is drunk as a beverage, and even the roots are used, brewed as a medicinal tea.

LOS ANGELES EASY STREET FOR RELIGIOUS FAKIRS

Pastor Declares "Meanest Devil" Cultist Who Robs Under Cloak of Holiness

Declaring that "the meanest devil on earth is the one who speaks religious words to hypnotize poor dupes that he may rob them," Dr. Bruce Brown of South Park Christian Church yesterday told his respects to those cultists who drag divine things into the mire and who profit from the blind credulity of those who mistake mediumistry and psychic phenomena for sound philosophy and genuine religion.

"In spite of our boasted civilization and education there never was a time in the history of the world when fakirs could get such a large following," said Dr. Brown. "Frauds that have been exposed through all the centuries command a larger army of adherents than ever before. Miracle-mongers, tongue-jabbers, fortune tellers, spiritual diviners, special revelators, star readers and 'mystics' come trooping along in regiments and they all wax fat.

"It is said that every weed in the world will grow in Southern California. Every theological and healing trickster in the world knows that Los Angeles is Easy street for that sort of thing. Crops of dupes are always ripening. Thousands of people are like young birds in the nest who greedily swallow anything that is dropped into their gullets.

"It is not surprising that people of no mentality trail along after mind cultists and new psychologists, but the amazing thing is that people who have had sense enough to accumulate large fortunes will pour their wealth into the maws of these greedy shysters."

PARABLE CITED TO PROVE GOD'S ANGER

"God's Abiding Anger" is the subject of a sermon preached yesterday at Salvation Army Temple by Adjutant Frank Howell, who spoke in part as follows:

"In the story of the vineyard which Jesus tells we have the proof of the anger of God toward those who have misused His heritage, disobeyed His law and held despite toward His Son. The first thing we see in it is the anger toward law's disobedience. God must be angry as He sees the breakers of law today—those who break man's law, which is but the outgrowth of His own. Again, there is His anger toward those who have misused His vineyard. Last of all He has anger toward those who have treated His Son ill. They put His Son to death and said, 'Now the vineyard shall be ours, seeing the Son is no more.' Verily, He shall come and destroy those who have so acted."

"BOOK OF DEAD" HELD TO BE LIVING VOLUME

"The Symbolic Philosophy of the Egyptians" was discussed yesterday by Bramacharee Nerode at Mount Washington Center. Excerpts from the sermon follow:

"The civilization of the Nile is older than the civilization of the Euphrates. Egypt is older than Babylonia. The philosophy of the Egyptians is woven in the warp and woof of symbolism. 'The Book of the Dead' is a living book of the symbolic philosophy of the Nile race. The progressive history of the human soul, playing on the earth plane, pre-earth plane or post-earth plane, has been symbolically represented in the heterogeneity of godheads and their multitudinous activities. For example, Amen, the one God, represents the individual intelligence in man; Ra, the consciousness of man; Mut, love and so forth. The primitive mind tried to unriddle the mystery of life, mind and after life in its crude way and represented its philosophy in crude images."

BOTANICAL PARK URGED

A suggestion that the Board of Supervisors lease the California Botanic Gardens and operate them as a public park until such time as they can be refinanced and made self-sustaining is contained in a letter to the board from the Pacific Palisades Business Council.

While the letter does not request that the gardens be taken over permanently by the county, it points out that unless some provision is made for caring for the property until a refinancing program can be carried out, the gardens may suffer from neglect.

The matter will be considered by the Supervisors at their meeting today.

"GIVE SKY CHANCE" DEMAND OF PASTOR

"When God speaks man can afford to listen," said Dr. J. G. Dorn in his sermon on "Give the Sky a Chance," preached yesterday at Hollywood Lutheran Church.

"Before man knew the sky, he feared it, but now we know that the sky is our best friend," said Dr. Dorn. "Today the sky, through its ultra-violet and X-rays, is healing thousands of human beings. The sky was as ready to do this for Job as it is to do it for us, but Job did not give the sky a chance. It wanted to pour down righteousness but Job covered himself with sackcloth and ashes, instead of violet rays.

"Are you giving the sky a chance to heal your soul's diseases? So far the sunbeams have not been able to cure all our bodily diseases. But the Son of Righteousness can heal our soul's diseases. However, He cannot save us unless we hook up, attune with God's idea of Calvary."

MINISTER ANALYZES UNREST IN CHURCH

"The church has much of unrest because of the spiritual condition of many of its members," said Dr. John M. Baxter in his sermon yesterday at Rosewood M. E. Church.

"Much of this unrest comes from religious doubt," said Dr. Baxter. "To be a true Christian implies more than many professing Christians think. It implies a change of heart, adoption into the divine family, the witness of the spirit, fellowship with God. A marvelous change takes place in a man when he becomes a Christian."

ROGER BABSON HIT BY LOCAL MINISTER

Following his sermon of the previous Sunday in which he criticised the accuracy of Roger Babson's "Reasons why business men do not attend church," Dr. John Snape took another verbal swat at the noted statistician yesterday when he discussed the question "Why Should Babson's Business Men Go to Church?" Dr. Snape said in part:

"Babson's business man is just a normal man. He is genial, honest, neighborly, fundamentally religious and prides himself on his iron morality. He thinks the church is a good thing, is willing that his wife and children should be united with it and will do anything for it—but attend its services.

"Well, why should he attend its services? For one reason, every business man should attend the church merely as a good sport. He will admit, if he is honest, that the church makes the mood in which he makes his money, that the moral forces of any community create the zones in which womanhood walks the streets at night in safety; that civilization would fall of its own rotten weight if moral restraints were removed, and that the church, if it is nothing else, is a policeman upon the beat of civilization."

"Suppose his preacher isn't courageous enough or contagious enough or consistent enough—does that excuse him? The business man owes it to himself, owes it to his boy, to his neighbor, to Christ to go to church. The church offers him life and light and love. It challenges him and it challenges itself with its three-fold message, evangelization, consolation, indoctrination, and dares him to put its efficiency, its democracy, its spirituality to the test."

FAITH OFFERED AS BASIS OF SCIENCE

A sermon on "Faith" was preached by Swami Dhirananda yesterday at Figueroa Playhouse. The speaker said in part:

"Faith is the foundation of science, religion and life. The axioms of science which it assumes rather than proves, the expectation of a certain result when investigations are pursued, demonstrate the working of faith in the domain of science. Where would the modern industrial world be if business discarded its credit system and executives lost all faith? Where would man be if all hopes were plucked out of his breast and the future were dead for him? Religious faith is accepting the unseen as real."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON ON CHRIST

"Whosoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ is born of God and everyone that loveth Him that begat loveth Him also that is begotten of Him." These words from the First Epistle of John constituted the golden text in the lesson-sermon on "Christ Jesus" yesterday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

One of the Scripture selections in the lesson-sermon cited instructions of Christ Jesus in sending forth the seventy disciples, in which the Master said, "And heal the sick that are therein, and say unto them, the kingdom of God is come nigh unto you."

It contained also the report of the seventy when they "returned again with joy, saying, Lord, even the devils are subject unto us through thy name."

PREACHER PROPOSES CURE FOR DIVORCE

Dr. Joseph P. Hicks, head of the School of Evangelism, was the preacher yesterday at Mt. Hollywood Congregational Church. Discussing "World Problems" Dr. Hicks said in part:

"Problems of crime may be solved only by a world won to the teachings of Jesus Christ. Jesus is the happy home builder. The homes in which the teachings of Christ are paramount are the homes in which there is peace and happiness. The divorce courts are not bothered by people who have the love of Christ in their hearts. If this were the only thing the church accomplishes it would be worth while. Jesus Christ is also the Prince of Peace. If peace ever comes among the nations of the world it will be on account of the fact that the nations have accepted His teachings. Committees cannot solve this problem. Peace commissions, unless they are prompted by the teachings of Jesus, might as well not meet at all."

MRS. FISHER RITES TO BE TOMORROW

Faculty Members Will Attend Last Services for Professor at U.S.C.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lena Leonard Fisher, author and lecturer on religious subjects, will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the First Methodist Church when a group of her former colleagues from the faculty of the University of Southern California, will be in attendance. Mrs. Fisher was a professor of religion at the university in the department headed by her husband, Dean John F. Fisher.

MRS. LENA FISHER

Mrs. Fisher died at her home, 1242 Victoria avenue, Saturday following an illness of several months. She was born in Pittsburgh, Pa., and came to California ten years ago with her husband. Eight years ago the couple joined the staff of the University of Southern California, and during her connection there she has become nationally known for her religious writings and lecturing.

She was author of several books and appeared before many of the literary clubs of the country in lectures on religion. Mrs. Fisher was the curator of the Bible department of the Ebell Club, and a member of the Shakespeare Club of Pasadena.

In addition to her husband she leaves one daughter, Mrs. Alan Kemp Laing of Los Angeles. The services at the church will be attended by Rufus Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California; Chaplain Bruce R. Baxter, President Emeritus Henry Bovard, and others of the university staff, including a group of her former students. Mrs. J. G. Early will represent the women's clubs of the city.

Interment will be in the Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

ORDINANCE ADOPTED

The final ordinance for the sewering of the Vermont avenue and One Hundred and Sixty-fifth street district has been adopted by the City Council.

JOBS PROPOSED FOR OLD RADIOS

Back Numbers Should be Mobilized for Poor

Would Revive True Spirit of Industry's Start

Leader Needed to Organize Free Distribution

The Times Forum, KHJ, 1:30 p.m., presents Glenn Hood, "The Songbird of the Yosemite Valley," and Myra Nye, staff writer of The Times. World-wide news, 12:30, 4:20 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

What becomes of the old radios? The development of the receiving set, miraculous in its rapidity, has antiquated equipment faster than was ever known in automobiles, airplanes or any other product. The march from the crystal set and its cat's whisker to the light-socket control has been phenomenal. Where are the old sets going?

Radio in its inception was truly a charitable institution. The first thought of broadcast was, "It will bring the news of the world and music to thousands of people who are either incapacitated or unable to pay the price of real entertainment." In these days thousands of crystal sets, single tube, and even console sets boasting of four tubes were placed in institutions.

ANSWER PROPOSED

Today radio distributors have storerooms piled high with "back number" sets.

The answer would be a clearing-house where expert technicians would take these old sets, rehabilitate them and place them where they belong—in the hands of those who cannot afford to buy any receiver.

With the commercializing of radio the basic spirit of its inception has waned. An appeal is in order for a return to the original principle of "give to those who have not and make them happy." Such a clearinghouse should be subsidized by the manufacturers and distributors of radio and the old sets should be thrown into a pool practically on a gift basis.

LEADER NEEDED

An attempt was made some time ago to muster the old sets for foreign shipment but this did not succeed because of the world urge of the latest and the best, and it was not on a charitable basis. The attempt to ship antiquated sets to foreign countries failed.

Today there is a humanitarian opportunity with a big urge to dispose of these radio receivers on a truly philanthropic basis. All that it needs is a leader.

DIAL LOG TODAY

KHJ at 4:30 p.m. Voices from Filmland will present Vilma Banky, Hungarian screen star, while the director of "Trader Horn" will lend his two cannibal chieftains to the microphone. At 7 tonight selections from the "Broadway Melody," "Rio Rita," "Show Boat" and the "Bohemian Girl" will hold your dial. At 7:30 p.m. Columbia network will bring the first of a new weekly series of nation-wide broadcasts. Veronica Wiggins, contralto; Frederick Vettel, tenor; Audrey Marsh, soprano, and an orchestra will be heard in better popular stuff and light classics. At 8 tonight the Blue Bonday Jamboree will feature an exciting story of the race track, "They're Off," with an all-star cast.

KFI at 7 tonight, the Rochester Civic Orchestra will depict Alsace-Lorraine in the composition of Jules Massenet, "Scenes Alsaciennes," as well as the works of Luigini and Tschaikowsky. At 7:30 p.m. the first steam engine, "William Crooks," to be seen in St. Paul, which made its first run from St. Paul to St. Anthony, will be dramatized when the Empire Builders' program goes on the air over NBC. At 10 tonight Mildred Laughlin, contralto, Duci De Kerekjarto and Wells Hively will entertain with classical and modern compositions.

KNX at 7:30 tonight will present a newspaper playlet entitled "Rewrite." At 8 p.m. the Lubovisky Trio will play the third and fourth movements of the Arensky Trio, while at 9 p.m. the Rio Grande Male Singers and piano twins will feature half an hour of music and song.

Couple Observe Golden Wedding

With six of their ten living children and fifteen of their thirty grandchildren present, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Smith of 3745 Belmas Terrace, Culver City, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding yesterday. The absentees all reside in distant points in the East. The couple had eleven children in all and their youngest son died more than a year ago from illness resulting from gassing on the battlefront in France during the World War.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith were married in East Lynn, Mo., and came to this city in 1918. Since then they have resided with their daughter, Mrs. A. C. Henline, at whose home the golden wedding celebration was held yesterday. The other children present at the celebration were Mrs. W. H. Rogers, Mrs. Foster Hollis, Mrs. H. N. King, Hal Smith and Alva J. Smith, all of this city.

ORDINANCES GET APPROVAL

The City Council has adopted the final ordinances for the improvement of Monroe street at Van Ness avenue, the improvement of the La Mesa avenue and Larkspur avenue district, the Cometa street and Bromont street district, Waterloo street, Martin street and Leoti Terrace.

ONE MAN ENDS LIFE AND ANOTHER TRIES

WHITTIER, March 2.—One man is dead and another in the hospital as the result of suicide attempts here today. Roy M. Knox, 37 years of age, shot himself in the head with a rifle, in a garage at the rear of his home. He had discharged the weapon by pulling a string attached to the trigger. The body was found by G. E. Estabrook, a stepbrother, who says Knox had been despondent. Oscar Nesbitt, 35, tried to end his life with a rifle bullet. He succeeded only in inflicting a scalp wound, and is reported recovering at Murphy Memorial Hospital.

FORESTRY JOBS URGED TO AID IDLE

Chamber Committee Says Planting Burned Areas Would Supply Work Need

Engaging hundreds of men during the winter months in replanting denuded watersheds of Los Angeles county and vicinity, as a means of solving the winter unemployment problem, is suggested by the newly formed committee of the Chamber of Commerce on employment matters, of which Fay Benison, manager of the Southern Glass Company, is chairman.

At a meeting of the committee to discuss the local employment situation, Benison said the proposal to pay the cost of such work by taxation was regarded as more acceptable to business and industry in general than methods tried out elsewhere. Water conservation being so urgently stressed, it is pointed out that planting of burned-over areas would have a compensating value.

The committee believes that announced government projects for this year should be set in operation as soon as possible since this work will provide jobs for nearly all of the available idle labor now in the city. Contact with the various city, State and county departments that have announced these projects is being pursued by a special subcommittee, Benison said, and a report on this work will be made at a coming meeting.

The committee anticipates a marked improvement in employment conditions here early in the summer when a number of private projects will be under way.

The committee, only recently formed and now engaging in a thorough study of employment, will recommend through the chamber's directors, that consideration be given resident labor on all projects. The transient laborer in Los Angeles has really created the unemployment condition here, according to representatives of the various agencies, the influx of this type during the winter months making it difficult for residents temporarily out of work to obtain jobs.

GAIN SHOWN BY VICTIMS OF CANCER

More Than 600 Persons Given New Extract Have Improved in Health

More than 600 persons in Los Angeles and immediately surrounding territory who have been treated with the anticancer extract discovered by Drs. Coffey and Humber are showing marked improvement, it was announced yesterday.

Many of these were in stages so far advanced that the victims had long despaired of relief. A striking case is that of a Los Angeles man whose face was almost covered with a cancerous growth. He has been given five injections of the extract, and declared he suffered no pain after the second treatment. When he visited the clinic at 627 South Los Angeles street yesterday he pointed out to the doctors and attendants that the cancer itself had shrunk noticeably in size within the last week. The change was apparent even to spectators who have followed the progress of the clinics during the last six weeks and watched the reaction of some of the most advanced cases to the treatment.

Plans are under way, it was announced by Dr. Coffey, for the opening of a permanent clinic to be established at the White Memorial Hospital. Financial support has been assured, he said, and only minor details remain to be worked out. It is probable that the clinic will be ready for operation within the next two or three weeks.

Four hundred and twenty-five cases were treated Saturday, more than 100 of which were Long Beach victims. In Los Angeles 389 were given treatment at the weekly clinic and thirty others were treated at White Memorial Hospital.

A record for speed in administering the extract was established at Long Beach when 100 patients were treated in one hour and ten minutes, Dr. Humber said.

WOMEN'S CLUB TO MEET

The Women's Traffic Club will hold its next meeting Wednesday evening at the Alexandria. Mrs. Myda Shattuck, manager of the Hollywood Storage Company, will be the guest-speaker, her subject being "The Modern Furniture Warehouse."

LONG-LOST WITNESS FOUND

Family Whose Disappearance Cost Father Life Term in Kansas Penitentiary Located Here

Discovery here of the long-missing family of Tony Dinello of Kansas City, now serving a life sentence in the Kansas State prison for the murder of two of his small daughters, may result in the release of Dinello, it was asserted by attorneys yesterday. Dinello, who has been in prison for eight years, assertedly was convicted on circumstantial evidence, which was strengthened when his wife and three children disappeared during the trial.

Disappearance of the accused man's family was used as evidence tending to show his guilt, according to Jerome S. Kuchler, Kansas City attorney, who is in Los Angeles in the interest of the imprisoned man. The wife of Dinello, Mrs. Mary Dinello; a 23-year-old daughter, Angelino, and a son, Albert, 20, were discovered in California eight years after the trial through the arrest on minor charge of Ernest Dinello, 15.

TOOK NEW NAME

When taken by the police the boy used the name of Ernest Melle. He eventually revealed that he was Ernest Dinello and upon checking his story the officers learned he was a member of the family which dramatically vanished from Kansas City during the sensational murder trial. Through Ernest his mother, brother and sister were located. An older brother, Albert, a deaf-mute, is attending school in Berkeley.

Albert is asserted to have been in the home in Kansas City when his two smaller sisters disappeared. Later their bodies were found mutilated and sewed in sacks, along the banks of the Kaw River. The father was accused and arrested.

FAMILY VANISHES

Then his family, the only ones who could have aided him, vanished during the trial. Through Attorney Koehler he protested his innocence but the jury found him guilty. The attorney, however, did not close his files on the case and maintained a constant search for the missing family.

The eldest son, Albert, it is asserted, could have given evidence that would have freed his father. The explanation offered for the disappearance of the family was that they were ignorant of the law and believed that the arrest of Dinello meant his guilt. Attorney Koehler stopped in Los Angeles long enough to talk to Mrs. Dinello and then departed for Berkeley, where he will obtain a statement from Albert. The statements will be used by the attorney in a plea for probation for Dinello.

BILL AT WRITERS' CLUB DIVERTING

Light Comedy and Psychological Drama Alternated; Martin Flavin Play Seen

BY KATHERINE T. VON BLON

Smartly seasoned sauce piquante garnished with airily contrived dialogue is "Wives and Others" by Joan Storm and Virginia Farmer, the neatly sophisticated curtain raiser at the monthly Writers' Club Play Nights. Mrs. Wallace Reid as the wife modern has charm and finesse, and Marjorie Bennett as "the other woman" is intriguingly gay.

Psychoanalysis with all its Freudian meanderings receives more than a few satirically conceived thrusts at the hands of Susan Glaspell and George Cram Cook in "Suppressed Desires." While there are many clever lines and the situations amusingly fabricated, somehow psychology has had its day, and the effects of the modernistic trend are perhaps too minutely drawn and stressed. The interest drops disconcertingly at moments, though the opus itself is handled with delightful esprit by the actors. Kenneth Thomson is splendidly human as the revolting husband. Alden Gay as the wife manages to be as capriciously wayward and pretty blond little Nancy Dreyer brings good characterization to her part.

The dramatic "piece de resistance" of the evening, "Brains," from the pen of Martin Flavin, is strangely couched in intent and denouement. Powerfully limned, "Brains" pictures a not unusual situation and circumstances, in which the "lust of gold" and an uninhabited island of the South Seas figure prominently. The dialogue and characterization are well imagined and the actors give fine accounts of themselves. Orville Caldwell as the doughty Scot gives a moving performance and his Scotch colloquialisms are delectable. As the superior sea captain, Philip Strange is casually debonair. Grimp, ignorant cockney, is realised with humor and pathos by William Stack.

Slapstick in method and persiflage, "Getting Albert Ready," by H. J. Weldon, somehow belies the reputation of the Writers for clever sophistication. Moviesque in the manner of its approach, it arrives and amuses by a fast working cast who made the most of the meager bill of fare. However, the audience responded with considerable mirth to the inimmitable May Boley, responsible for a large share of the fun, and to Henry Hall, Phil Tead, Elaine Baker, James Eagles and Byron Sage, other contributing causes of jollity.

HENRY BALY OBSEQUIES ANNOUNCED

Last Rites for Pioneer and Former Banker to Be Conducted Tomorrow

Funeral services for Henry Baly, pioneer of Los Angeles and former San Pedro banker, will be conducted at 10 a.m. tomorrow in the Episcopal Church, San Fernando. Interment will be in Inglewood Cemetery, under Masonic auspices.

Mr. Baly, who was 76 years of age, died Saturday in his San Fernando home after a two weeks' illness. He was a native of London, having come to America in 1873 and to Los Angeles three years later. In 1879 he moved to Kansas, returning to San Pedro in 1886 and entering the employ of the Southern Pacific Company. Several years later he became book-keeper of the Bank of San Pedro, advancing successively to cashier, member of the board and vice-president. He also served as president of the Citizens' Bank of San Pedro, which he helped to organize.

Disposing of his banking interests in 1919, Mr. Baly moved to San Fernando, where he launched the San Fernando Lumber Company, the San Fernando Building and Loan Company and the branch there of the Bank of Italy. He remained active until stricken with his fatal illness.

Mr. Baly leaves his widow, Mrs. Laura Curran Baly, three sons, J. C. Baly, assistant fire chief of Los Angeles, stationed at San Pedro; R. C. Baly, president of the Bank of San Pedro, and Hal Baly, manager of the Consolidated Lumber Company, Eagle Rock, and one daughter, Mrs. C. C. Knight of San Fernando.

TESTS TO OPEN FOR COUNTY POSITIONS

Positions to be filled soon by competitive examinations, it was announced yesterday by the Los Angeles County Civil Service Commission, include resident eye physician, museum docent, museum curator, tax extension assistant, assistant stenographer, shovel operator assistant, powder man, blacksmith, chief ranger, assistant chief ranger, secretary-clerk, typist and telephone operator, occupational therapy aide, real estate appraiser, senior field deputy, embalmer and deputy sheriff. Full details and application blanks can be obtained at Room 1002, Hall of Records.

GAY DRAMA OFFERED AT EL CAPITAN

Violet Heming Portrays Chief Role Expertly in Comedy of Manners

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

Those lexicographers whose definition of "sophisticated" is "not genuine"—and you will find it in most dictionaries—are referred without more ado to the play called "Let Us Be Gay," by Rachel Crothers. For this audacious comedy of manners which came to El Capitan Theater yesterday under the aegis of Henry Duffy manages to be both sophisticated, as we measure the word, and genuine as the drawing-room in the house next door. It is, indeed, as engaging a bit of drama as may be found anywhere on the local boards, even by nonlexicographers.

I did not see "Let Us Be Gay" on the occasion of its earlier presentation here. Now it has in its leading role Miss Violet Heming, a practiced and facile actress whose previous appearances in Los Angeles have been so infrequent as to amount to almost none at all. The loss has been distinctly Los Angeles', but there is tardy compensation in the knowledge that Miss Heming is not only here at last, but being gay into the bargain. It is a little as one of the characters puts it to her during the course of the comedy. "You've done something awfully sporting, I'm sure," he says, "though I don't know just what."

Miss Crothers's piece, like most of her others, is skillfully erected around that old institution, the younger generation, though currently its members are older. Most of them, that is—especially the husband and wife who, with the prologue curtain, reach what to at least one intent and purpose is the parting of the ways. The play proper, dated three years later, depicts the results of an ironical twist of fate, which throws them together again for first, a Westchester week-end at Mrs. Bouciault's, and then, with the benediction of their hostess, permanently.

In her writing, Miss Crothers displays a proficiency that is unsparing in its frank adherence to logic as we live it, unerring in its dialogue and withal superior to the general run. It bears a resemblance in these qualities to "Among the Married," the Vincent Lawrence comedy recently unveiled here, and also in its major premise: the terrific, bubble-burst disillusionment and rebellion of a young wife. While it is not so fine and stinging an indictment as Lawrence's, it is less unpleasant, and its ending, though the same in the last analysis, attains that abstract optimism so dear to the heart of the most audiences.

The cast is good. Niles Welch, who has gained several inches in dramatic stature since last I saw him, is capable as the husband, what seemed like insincerity in the short prologue probably being as much the spectator's difficulty as his. (It is not the easiest thing to plunge into an intimate boudoir battle while one is fumbling under the seat for one of those hat supports, and still get all worked up about it.) Virginia Valli, from the films, is properly petulant as a love-sick miss. She was warmly applauded. And as Mrs. Bouciault, the cigar-smoking hostess, (well, how well do you know the lady next door?) Grayce Hampton contributes an outstanding characterization.

Raymond Lawrence and Bram Nossen fill necessary roles with necessary polish, and others are Anderson Lawler, Elaine Baker, Herbert Fortier and Jane Elton.

War Film Tells Emotional Story

Betty Compson

Plays the chief feminine role in "The Case of Sergt. Grischa," an R.-K.-O. picture, which has its first showing at the Orpheum Theater Wednesday.

BILLIE DOVE STARRED IN FILM DRAMA

'Other Tomorrow' Booked Into Warners' Hollywood Starting Friday

Billie Dove as a southern girl is starred in "The Other Tomorrow," coming to Warner Brothers' Theater in Hollywood Friday. The story, by Octavus Roy Cohen, offers the star in one of her finest roles, it is said.

Miss Dove is seen as a bride returning to her village home with a man she married in haste, after quarreling with her former sweetheart. Her husband is insanely jealous, and at every bit of gossip about his wife and the other man flies into a rage. The wife leaves him and is caught in an extremely compromising situation which involves the lover.

Grant Withers portrays the lover. Kenneth Thomson essays the role of the husband and Frank Sheridan, Otto Hoffman and William Grainger also have parts. Lloyd Bacon directed.

Local Premiere of 'Rope's End' Starts Sunday

The Pacific Coast premiere of "Rope's End" at the Vine Street Theater will begin Sunday. Following the success of this brilliant psychological drama in both New York and London, where critics unanimously acclaimed it the perfect thriller, William E. Smith is bringing the play straight to Hollywood, in accordance with his firm conviction that this city is more than eager to receive the initial showing on the west coast of internationally great dramas.

"Rope's End," by the English playwright, Patrick Hamilton, strikes a fresh note on the American stage after a prolonged and exhausting epidemic of theatrical homicides of every conceivable nature.

Intimate Talk of Men Facing Death Revealed

Men talk about and idealize the fair sex when placed alone in great peril, it is revealed in one of the dramatic highlights of John Ford's saga of the submarine service, "Men Without Women," which starts at the Criterion Theater Thursday.

With grim reality, softened by occasional humor, the love affairs and romances of the men are told as they face the situation of being trapped in a crippled submarine ninety-five feet below the surface, with water slowly entering through an inaccessible leak, and the torpedo tubes, the only avenue of escape, fouled by the collision which has sent the submarine to the bottom.

John Ford, the director, in presenting the story in this manner, is said to have achieved an unusual degree of realism. The leading roles are taken by Kenneth MacKenna and Frank Albertson, with Farrell MacDonald, Walter McGrail, Paul Page, Warren Hymer, Stuart Erwin and George La Guere in the principal supporting parts.

Wallace Smith Writing Novel

At the insistence of his publishers, George Putnam & Sons, Wallace Smith, prominent author now under contract to R.-K.-O., is putting the finishing touches to his latest novel.

Since joining the film colony, Smith is said to have contributed more original stories to the screen than perhaps any other individual engaged in this work.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

THE latest on "All That Glitters," the new play by Zelda Sears and Tay Garnett, is that it probably won't be produced now until fall. At one time it was strongly rumored that it would follow the Lenore Ulric drama, "East of Suez" into the Belasco.

Meantime, L. C. Wiswell, who owns the producing rights and who happens to be Miss Sears's husband, has been hunting about for a suitable lead. Lillian Rich, the motion-picture actress, who came back to Hollywood from London a few months ago, was considered very strongly up until the time of postponement of production.

The Wiswells, it seems, sail for Europe on the 28th of May, and they wouldn't postpone that for anything.

"Uncle Dudley" Cast Named

The Los Angeles cast for "Your Uncle Dudley," the comedy by Howard Lindsay and Bertrand Robinson, in which Taylor Holmes has been guest starring in San Francisco until recently, was announced yesterday.

Mr. Holmes is going to continue in the play here, as is Florence Roberts. Miss Roberts incidentally is featured in the cast at Holmes's request on account of the very excellent work she did in the northern production. Other players will be Leah Winslow, Flora Bramley, Russell Cushing, Charlotte Treadway, Kenneth Gamet and Harry Hollingworth.

"Journey's End" Closes Soon

At the Belasco, "Journey's End," the English war play, starts the last two weeks of its run today. On the 17th inst., Lenore Ulric in "East of Suez," now in San Francisco, arrives.

"Oh Susanna" Folds Up

The musical, "Oh Susanna," which started its way here at the Mayan with Carlotta King, closed in San Francisco Saturday night.

Comedienne Has Hotel

Although a lot of people don't know this, Pert Kelton, the star and comedienne of "Gone Hollywood," at the Biltmore, is the Kelton of the Kelton-Warner Hotel in Hollywood.

The story goes that her earnings from her role in "The Five O'clock Girl" and "Sunny," in New York, in which she played featured comedienne parts work during the show's respective long runs there, enabled her to go into the hotel business.

Orchestra Leader Wings Plum

Leaders of theater orchestras may take hope. Erno Rapee, formerly conductor of the symphony orchestra at Roxy's, New York, who came to the Coast to take charge of musical activities for Warner Brothers and First National, is getting a salary of $135,000 a year. He has a three-year contract. Before he went to the Roxy, Rapee led in turn, the Capitol, the Rialto and the Rivoli theater orchestras in New York.

CAST TO BE CHOSEN

Immediately following the completion of the picture version and dialogue for "Roadhouse," which Bradley King is now writing, Leo McCarey, who is to direct this story for the Fox organization, will start selecting his cast. McCarey recently completed "Let's Go Native," a musical extravaganza produced by Paramount.

Bookings at House Called Outstanding

Two of the outstanding talking pictures in the history of the United Artists Theater are the current attraction and the one which is to follow, it is said.

"Condemned," the newest production starring Ronald Colman, is now in the midst of its first local popular showing and the attendance is attesting anew to the popularity of the star, it is asserted.

"Puttin' On the Ritz," which starts its first western engagement on the 12th inst., presents Harry Richman in his first motion picture, and depicts him as a small-time singing vaudeville performer, tracing his career to the point where he has finally become a favorite of musical comedy and night club, only to have a tragedy wipe away all the fruits of his hard-won success. Both films are United Artists productions.

Eddie Peabody Scheduled for Loew's State

Eddie Peabody, with his banjo and a lot of new tunes, will return to Loew's State Theater for a limited one-week engagement Thursday.

One of the ace stars of Fanchon & Marco, Peabody has recently enjoyed an engagement of several weeks in Portland, after completing a nation-wide tour of the circuit. This will be his first visit to Los Angeles in many months. He will appear in conjunction with the stage presentation, "Coral" Idea.

Current screen attractions are "The Lone Star Ranger" and Laurel and Hardy in "Blotto." Ten of the foremost stars of Fox films will appear on the stage tonight.

"NEW YORK NIGHTS" NEXT AT EGYPTIAN

"New York Nights" will be the next attraction on the screen at Grauman's Egyptian Theater starting Thursday.

The new film is a screen version of the stage play "Tin Pan Alley," and is a Lewis Milestone production. Norma Talmadge is starred. Gilbert Roland is featured in support. Others in the cast include Roscoe Karns, John Wray, Lilyan Tashman and Mary Doran. The stage attraction on the new program will be Fanchon and Marco's "Idea in Marble."

BAKEWELL PRAISED

Lewis Milestone, it is reported, has joined the list of those directors who rank William Bakewell as one of the most capable of the younger

Paramount Will Offer 'Vagabond King' Thursday

"The Vagabond King," the widely heralded adaptation of the noted operetta, which opens at the Paramount Theater Thursday, is made on a lavish scale and is the most elaborate and costly production of any picture yet filmed by Paramount for the audible screen, it is said. It was photographed throughout by a newly perfected form of Technicolor.

This production presents for the first time to motion-picture audiences Dennis King. Introduced to Broadway first as the male lead in "Rose Marie," it was King who later created the original interpretation of the role of Francois Villon in the New York Casino production of "The Vagabond King." He was then starred by Ziegfeld in "The Three Musketeers."

In addition to King, the cast includes Jeanette MacDonald, Lillian Roth, O. P. Heggie, Warner Oland and others. Ludwig Berger directed. Music was written by Rudolph Friml.

Run of Musical Drama Extended by Producers

Despite the fact that Louis O. Macloon's and Lillian Albertson's romantic operetta, "The New Moon," is now in its seventh capacity week at the Majestic Theater, the demand for seats has been such that the producers announce an eighth week of the musical to start on the 10th inst. Seats for the eighth week go on sale today.

The outstanding song hits of the show, "Lover, Come Back to Me," show, "Stout-Hearted Men," are capably sung by Perry Askam, star of the stage production of "The Desert Song," and a male chorus of forty voices.

Josephine Houston, lovely prima donna of the company, is also heard to advantage in several romantic numbers.

FRUITS IMPORTED BY LOS ANGELES

Twenty States and Foreign Areas Contribute

California Producers Have 85 Per Cent Share

Market News Service Gives Survey for 1929

BY DR. GEORGE P. CLEMENTS
Manager Agricultural Department
Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce

Los Angeles still draws the bulk of its fruit and vegetable supply from Southern California although twenty States and several foreign countries contributed to this supply in 1929. These facts were established with the recent release of the annual unload report for Los Angeles, prepared by the Federal-State Market News Service. This report shows that during the past year 86,408 carloads of fruits and vegetables were received in Los Angeles, whihh gives Los Angeles third position in cities of the United States in fruit and vegetable receipts.

UNLOADS CHECKED

Last year the Federal-State Market News Service checked truck receipts on the Los Angeles market for the first time and the total unloads, with the exception of direct haulings to retailers and consumers, is now available. Of the total receipts, 34,347 carloads or 39.8 per cent were brought in by truck. Rail receipts totaled 34.9 per cent of the total while 5.3 per cent were brought in by boat.

Of the truck receipts, 30,867 cars were produced in the territory south of the Tehachapi. The exact volume of fruits and vegetables produced for the Los Angeles market in the ten southern counties of the State which are considered California, agriculturally, is not available because the Federal-State News Service, in its report, does not cover three of these counties individually, nor do they show counties of origin in rail receipts from California. Probably 37,500 cars of the total receipts of 57,408 carloads are produced in Southern California, as the bulk of the truck receipts recorded for San Joaquin Valley and the central coast counties originate in Kern and Santa Barbara counties.

LOCAL PRODUCE DEFINED

Local production is defined by the Federal-State agency as the receipts from Ventura, Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside counties, and parts of San Bernardino county. Unloads from this area account for 51 per cent of the fruit and vegetable supply of Los Angeles.

Near-by States in the West contribute substantially to fruit and vegetable supply of Los Angeles although the heaviest contribution is in live stock and dairy products. Idaho is the heaviest shipper in the Los Angeles market, placing 2405 carloads in this area last year. Washington, Oregon, Nevada and Arizona each shipped several hundred carloads. Receipts of California-grown fruits and vegetables made up 85 per cent of the total unloads received from all types of carriers. Imports of bananas from Central America were 2570 cars, while 777 carloads of vegetables were received from Mexico. Indicative of the cosmopolitan taste in Los Angeles, the report shows that Los Angeles received last year 139 distinct varieties of fruits and vegetables.

IMPROVEMENT PLANNED

The City Council has ordered the City Engineer to proceed with plans for the improvement of Moynier Lane, Genesee street, Spaulding avenue and Thurman avenue with permanent pavement, gutters and curbs, under the title of Smiley Drive and Moynier Lane Improvement District.

SOUND FILM USED IN THIS CONTRACT

Mary Lewis

A business contract was recorded on sound film when Mary Lewis, grand opera prima donna, vocally registered an agreement with E. B. Derr, executive of Pathe studios. By the terms of this sound-recorded agreement she is to receive approximately $4000 for each minute in which her golden soprano voice will be heard in her first sound picture, Derr said.

The sound-filmed contract was executed at the Pathe studio, Culver City. Miss Lewis, with her manager, and Derr and Laura Hope Crews, representing the studio, sat before the sound-recording camera while the terms were read aloud. Both principals then shook hands and verbally announced their intention to abide by the terms of the contract which they thereby acknowledged.

State Oil and Gas Chief Weds Local Woman

SANTA BARBARA, March 2, (Exclusive) — Miss Charlotte Temple Logan of Los Angeles and E. D. Reiter, chairman of the State Oil and Gas Conservation Commission, were married here tonight at the First Christian Church, prior to the opening of the evening services. Rev. Thomas B. Clark, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony.

John Stransky, former United State Senator from South Dakota was best man and Mrs. James Mortimer Davis of Los Angeles was bridesmaid. Mr. and Mrs. Reiter are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miratti, Jr., and will take a honeymoon trip North before returning to Los Angeles where they will be at home soon at 2242 North Catalina street.

FITTS AND SHAW WILL CONFER ON HOSPITAL

A preliminary conference probably will be held this week by Supervisor Shaw and Dist.-Atty. Fitts to determine whether complaints against the General Hospital will be placed before the county grand jury for investigation. This was the announcement yesterday of Supervisor Shaw, who, as chairman of the welfare committee of the Board of Supervisors, last week requested Fitts to place the complaints before the grand jury if such action were deemed advisable. Shaw said he had made a personal investigation of a number of the complaints and found generally that they were without merit.

VENICE OIL AREA DRILLING RESTRICTIONS SCHEDULED

The City Council's City Planning Committee this afternoon is scheduled to take up consideration of a resolution recently adopted by the City Planning Commissing establishing a policy of restriction in regard to the Venice oil drilling. About twenty permits have been granted already.

The commission proposes that the Council adopt an ordinance similar to one emanating from Oxford, Kan., which has stood the test of the courts, whereby one well is limited to five acres, except in areas where a city block is less than five acres, in which case the drilling is limited to one well to a city block. An exception is to be made, however, for offset drilling.

Under this ordinance the commission sets forth, the owners of property receive royalties in proportion to the amount of territory in the area which they own.

Meanwhile, the resolution states, the matter of permitting exploration is to be handled under the "spot zone" section of the zoning ordinance.

The commission proposes to issue permits for wells hereafter only in areas within 1000 feet of a producing well, denying others outside this zone without prejudice pending further exploration and development of the field.

National Figure in Tuberculosis Fight Honored

A dinner in honor of Dr. William Charles White of Washington, chairman of the research committee of the National Tuberculosis Association, will be given tomorrow at the Women's Athletic Club at 6:30 p.m. The affair is sponsored by the Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association and public health societies of the city and county.

Dr. White will report on progress made in the tuberculosis research field. Of special interest will be his report of the work done in the standardization of X-ray pictures; of the living chemistry of the different strains of the tubercle bacilli family and other important branches of the work.

Dr. White will remain in the city until Wednesday.

Large Lemons to be Displayed at Land Show

Among exhibits being installed in the California Land Show, to open Saturday at Hill and Washington streets, are many astonishing things.

For instance, Yolo county will show lemons of incredible size—some of them measuring twenty inches in circumference. They are not freaks, either, but are produced regularly from specially selected types. Many counties have virtually completed installing their exhibits in the huge pavilion.

FEDERAL POSITIONS EXAMINATIONS SET

The United States Civil Service Commission announces examinations for the following positions: Shoe and harness repair man for California, Nevada and Arizona; junior technical assistant, chief of food control, assistant statistical clerk and curator, for Washington, D. C.; junior librarian, also assistant miner and aide, lithographer, assistant copper plate mat engraver, social worker, teacher of home economics, and inspector of weights and measures, for duty anywhere, and trained nurse for Panama Canal Zone. Application blanks may be obtained at the Federal Building.

HI-HATTERS TO MEET AT DINNER TONIGHT

At their second meeting of the year tonight at the Roosevelt Hotel the Hi-Hatters, Los Angeles organization of theatrical press representatives, will discuss a number of matters relative to theater advertising. Mel Riddle, president, will be in charge of the meeting, which will be for dinner at 7 o'clock.

Music Clubs' Retiring Head Honor Guest

Musically prominent residents of the city and from adjacent Southern California communities will gather at the Civic Repertory Theater in Hollywood tonight to honor Mrs. Abbie Norton Jamison, retiring two-term president of the California Federation of Musical Clubs. Mrs. Jamison is to be honor guest at a reception and a special performance of "A Bill of Divorcement," with Ian Maclaren, famous for his impersonation of the Christ in three seasons of the Pilgrimage Play, at the head of the cast.

Funds derived from the affair are to be applied to financing the forthcoming State convention of musical clubs.

LOS ANGELES GIRL WEDS NEW YORKER

Miss Nelle Sangster Bride of David W. Hitchcock, Mining Man

Following a romance of several months, which ensued after a meeting in this city, Miss Nelle Sangster, Los Angeles girl, became the bride of David W. Hitchcock, New York and Boston mining man, at a quiet wedding, which took place at Banning, it was announced here yesterday.

The ceremony took place Friday in the presence of the parents of the bride and groom. The two are planning to sail for an extended honeymoon in Europe, leaving on the French liner De Grasse, at an early date. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Sangster, 2115 Harvard avenue, and has been a resident of Los Angeles six years.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Crawford Trotter of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The couple met here several months ago while Mr. Hitchcock was in the city to inspect mining properties operated by the company, of which he is president.

ANGELENOS WIN TRIP

Three Los Angeles men are among 100 leading salesmen named recently by the General Electric Company. They are Chester E. Sherwood, 2347 Panorama Terrace, A. S. Vincent, 2905 West Forty-second street, and Edward L. Ganey, 1220 Keniston avenue. Each was awarded a trip to the organization's annual convention at Cleveland, O.

NEGRO SUES SEVEN CAFES

Charging that seven local cafes deprived him of his civil rights under Section 52 of the State Civil Code, by refusing to serve him food on account of his race, Oscar Haynes, negro chauffeur, has filed suit for $2000 in each of seven complaints. The cases have been set for trial June 3, next, before Municipal Judges Rosenkrans and Lahey.

Through his attorney, William Christensen, Haynes asserts that the Mayfair Hotel, the Brown Derby, Bell's Dinner Bell, Gyle's Lunch, El Cholo Spanish Inn, Stillwell's Broiler and Paul H. Allen's Chilltown refused to serve him food after he had accompanied his employer, an elderly man who requires his assistance in walking, into the cafes. He charges the cafes "willfully, wrongfully and maliciously refused to serve food to the plaintiff because of his race."

CITY COUNCIL TO HEAR ASSESSMENT APPEALS

Appeals against the assessments for the improvement of Brunswick avenue from Chevy Chase Drive to a point near Rigali avenue will be heard this morning by the City Council, which will take up also protests against the lighting of Ecko Park avenue from Sunset Boulevard to Temple street, the lighting of Stanley avenue between San Vicente and Pico Boulevards, the lighting of streets in the East Boulevard and North Park avenue district, and the institution of setback lines in Third avenue from Jefferson Boulevard to Rodeo Road.

MAX EASTMAN LISTED TO SPEAK AT FORUM

Max Eastman, poet, critic and psychologist, will speak under the auspices of the Jewish Institute Forum Wednesday evening on "Two Revolutions in Russia." Mr. Eastman's father and mother were joint pastors for years of the Congregational Church in Elmira, N. Y. It has been said of him that "the souls of two preachers survive in the restless prophet of the new era." He was for four years a member of the faculty of psychology and philosophy at Columbia University.

NO CROWD NOW IN TAX OFFICE

Collector Urges Those Who Must Pay to Avoid Expected Rush

Taxpayers are urged to take advantage of the uncrowded conditions now prevailing in the County Tax Collector's office by making their payments on the second installment of county taxes which became due the second Monday in January.

According to Chief Deputy Alfonso, the second installment of county taxes becomes delinquent the last Monday in April at which time they will be subject to a penalty of 5 per cent and an additional charge of 50 cents for costs on all parcels of real property.

Between $50,000 and $70,000 is being collected in taxes daily, the chief deputy said.

a term beginning October 1, 1928 and ending September 30, 1929; that the defendant, St. John, was the agent of the publication; that before the expiration of the life of the license the village adopted its handbill ordinance.

OPINION LENGTHY

It was the contention of the defendant that after the adoption of the ordinance copies of his publications were delivered to persons in South Gate only upon their request. The appellant further held that the ordinance did not prohibit the distribution of a publication of the character of the Down Town Shopping News by delivering copies of it to private residences or persons who requested such a delivery, that if the ordinance did forbid such a distribution it was unconstitutional.

The opinion written by the three judges is a lengthy one, covering twelve typewritten pages. Numerous rulings are cited, the consensus of opinion in most of them being that so-called handbill ordinances are designed to prevent the littering of streets and yards with paper which becomes a nuisance and even a menace when it frightens horses on the highways.

BICYCLISTS RIDE ROADS AGAIN

Olympic Cycle Club Prepares for Test

"Ice Wagon!"

But the ones who can recall the staple taunt of the palmy days of the wheel are far too old and staid to hurl it now.

MEMORIES of the preauto era, sometimes referred to as the mauve decade, were recalled yesterday by the spectacle of several score cyclists pedaling leisurely from Los Angeles to Pasadena in an effort to stimulate public interest in the almost-forgotten bike. The demonstration, sponsored by the Olympic Cycle Club, was not in the form of a contest but was calculated only to revive popular admiration for spokes and handlebars. One young woman was noted among the riders.

At Brookside Park, Pasadena, the cyclists dismounted, partook of a wiener bake prepared by the club and set about discussion of plans to "go like the wind" in a genuine race planned for the 30th inst. On that date the cyclists will pedal to Santa Ana for prizes.

From a series of competitions the club expects to develop many formidable riders for the bicycle events of the 1932 Olympic Games.

OHIOANS HERE HEAR DETWILER TRIBUTE

More than 150 former residents of Fulton county, Ohio, yesterday paid silent tribute to the late A. K. Detwiler, Los Angeles philanthropist, at their midwinter picnic in Sycamore Grove Park. With heads bared, they listened as W. H. Eager of Pasadena read a report on the completion of the $300,000 Harkness-Detwiler Memorial Hospital at Wauseon, county seat of Fulton county, to which Detwiler donated $80,000. Henry George, president of the Associated Ohio Societies, was elected president, and Miss Ethel Madison, secretary, for the ensuing year.

ELEVEN GET SENTENCES TO PRISON

Weekly Report Issued on Punishment Meted Out in Superior Courts

Eleven defendants were sentenced to State prisons during the last week by Superior Court judges, according to the weekly report of Judge Wood, presiding in the criminal division of Superior Court.

Of this number three were sentenced for robbery, two each under the charges of burglary and driving an automobile without consent of the owner, and one under each of the charges of murder, grand theft, forgery and issuing checks without sufficient funds.

The list of defendants, the charges of which they were convicted and the sentences imposed follow:

Armando Bollares, San Quentin, first-degree murder, five counts, death by hanging.

George N. Brown, first-degree robbery, five years to life.

Charles T. Wileman, San Quentin, grand theft, one to ten years, forgery, one to fourteen years (sentences to run concurrently.)

Kenneth C. Phillips, San Quentin, forgery, one to fourteen years (two counts to run consecutively.)

Oliver Henderson, Folsom, second-degree burglary, seven to fourteen years.

Ted J. Logan, San Quentin, issuing check without sufficient funds, one to fourteen years.

Luke Barker, San Quentin, second-degree burglary, one to fourteen years.

Glenn W. Hindman, Folsom, driving automobile without consent of the owner (admitting prior conviction of a felony.) not less than five years.

Fred C. Gill, Folsom, driving automobile without consent of owner (admitting prior conviction.) not less than five years.

Robert D. Whitehat, San Quentin, first-degree robbery, five years to life.

Lloyd King, San Quentin, second-degree robbery, one year to life (two counts to run concurrently.)

CHURCH SITE CEREMONY CONDUCTED

Corner-stone Laid for New St. Mary of the Angels Edifice in Hollywood

With notables of screen and stage present, a Hollywood preacher saw the culmination of his dreams of a number of years yesterday, with the laying of the corner-stone of the new edifice which will house the Church of St. Mary of the Angels. The rector of the church is Rev. Neal Dodd, who has been called Hollywood's marrying parson, and the church itself has often been referred to as Hollywood's "Little Church Around the Corner."

The site of the new church building is at 4510 Finley street and both the site and the building are a gift to the congregation of Mrs. Charles H. Quinn as a memorial to her father, Rev. Samuel Philp.

Bishop Stevens laid the corner-stone, assisted by Lord Bishop Deane of Aberdeen, Scotland, who blessed the stone. Following the ceremony, both the bishops made addresses. Rector Dodd recapitulated the history of the church and Alec B. Francis, veteran actor, extended the greetings of the theatrical profession. A part of the ceremony was the singing of a Te Deum composed for the occasion by Oren L. Gardner, organist of the church, and the church choir was augmented by the choir of the Troupers.

WAMPAS HEAD BACK

H. H. Beall, president of the Wampas, has returned to his Hollywood offices after a month spent on a nation-wide tour studying business conditions and contacting newspaper publishers and editors in the interests of his clients.

COUNTY TO PROFIT BY TAX RULING

Court Decision Opens Way for Increase in Revenue from Harbor District

Los Angeles county will profit to the extent of $160,000 yearly as a result of the recent decision of the District Court of Appeals over-ruling the claim of the Hammond Lumber Company for refund of taxes paid upon its leasehold at Los Angeles Harbor, according to County Counsel Mattoon.

The lumber company lease covers twenty-five acres at the harbor. The lease is for a period of thirty years and provides for payment of a rental to the city of Los Angeles of $6060 a year. County Assessor Hopkins contended the actual rental value of the property is $43,000 a year and assessed the lumber company's leasehold at $204,650.

Under this assessed valuation, the company was forced to pay a tax of $10,594, which it sued to recover on the ground the assessment was excessive. The tax was upheld in both the Superior and Appellate courts, however, and paves the way for the county to collect additional taxes on other leaseholds in the harbor district.

According to Robert W. Kenny, deputy County Counsel, other city property at the harbor under lease to private interests has a leasehold valuation of $3,748,908, and the decision of the Appellate Court paves the way for tax levies against the leaseholders on this valuation.

TRAFFIC SIGN ORDERED

The City Council has authorized the Building and Safety Commission to order the construction of a one-way traffic sign to be placed upon the Glendale-Hyperion bridge, the sign to cost $185.

FIVE-FINGER PROJECT REZONING HEARING SET

The City Planning Commission next Wednesday will take up the matter of changing the zone of streets involved in the Five-Finger Plan of development in Hollywood. The hearing will be conducted in Room 150, City Hall, beginning at 2 p.m.

The streets and zones are as follows: From B zone to C zone, Ivar and Vine streets, between Yucca street and Hollywood Boulevard; Argyle avenue from Hollywood Boulevard to Carlos avenue; Yucca street from Cahuenga Boulevard to Vine street; the west side of Cole avenue, between Santa Monica Boulevard and Romaine avenue.

From D zone to B zone: The west side of Gordon street south of Sunset Boulevard; property bounded by Lillian Way, Waring avenue, Cole avenue and Romaine avenue.

From D zone to C zone: Property bounded by Hollywood Boulevard, Cahuenga Boulevard, Selma avenue and Ivar street; property bounded by Vine street, Gower street, Selma avenue and Sunset Boulevard; property south of Sunset Boulevard from Gower street to and including both sides of El Centro avenue; the southwest corner of Sunset Boulevard and Gordon street.

The commission also proposes to take up the proposition of extending business frontage south of Sunset Boulevard.

Officer Thrown Downstairs by Yegg Suspects

Although he failed to effect their capture a policeman yesterday foiled a daylight attempt by four crackamen to rob the safe of a large downtown market within a stone's throw of Central Station.

Suspicious of a black bag they were carrying, Patrolman Jensen trailed two of the quartet from Broadway and Second street to Hill and Third streets, where they climbed a stairway leading to offices of the Grand Central Market. There they joined the other two who were awaiting them. As Jensen reached the landing to question them the four seized him and threw him down the stairs. Before he had scrambled to his feet they reached the street and fled in a green sedan.

Officer Jensen commandeered a passing automobile and gave chase to East Fifth and Wall streets where the suspects outdistanced him. Detective Lieutenants Harper and Thompson opened the abandoned black bag and reported it contained a complete set of safe-cracking tools.

Of Interest to Women

Society

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Complimenting Dr. and Mrs. George Jorgenson, who are visitors in Los Angeles, Mrs. Graham F. Putnam (Natalie Alden) entertained informally yesterday afternoon for some twenty close friends in her studio at 642 South Berendo street.

Dr. Jorgenson is a noted pathologist, while Mrs. Jorgenson is a musician, and chairman of publicity for the National Federation of Music Clubs in Iowa. Both are writers and have just published a book entitled, "The Circle of Vengeance," which is now being filmed.

Mrs. Putnam's guests included Dr. and Mrs. Allison Gaw, Dr. and Mrs. William Duffield, Dr. and Mrs. William Mabee, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Sprotte, Mr. and Mrs. Cedric Johnson and Mrs. Abbie Norton Jamison.

Formal Bridge Tea

A charming formal affair was given yesterday afternoon at the Deauville Beach Club by members of the Phi Delta Sigma Sorority, who served tea on the balcony overlooking the ocean after an afternoon of bridge.

Arrangements for the dainty party were made by Miss Margaret Lill, chairman of the social committee, assisted by the sorority's vice-president, Miss Vivian Paget. They used a St. Patrick's Day motif in bridge cards and tallies.

In attendance were Miss Dorothy Moriarty, honorary member, and the Misses Lucille Lawson, Alice Weisheit, Yvonne Smith, Charlie Hammond, Vivian Paget, Margaret Lill, Mary Mulquen, Ruth Drumgold, Mary Fox, Mary Edith Burgan and Dolores Haldorson.

Marriage Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lee Smith are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Virginia Lee Smith, to Hugh Kennelley Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Wright of Pomona. The wedding, an event of February 21, last, was witnessed only by relatives and a few intimate friends of the bride, who was gowned in blue silk with matching hat and shoes, with a shoulder corsage of white gardenias. Rev. John Eby read the ceremony in the Wilshire Congregational Church.

After a honeymoon tour through the northern part of the State, Mr. and Mrs. Wright will make their home in Los Angeles. Mrs. Wright was graduated from the University of California at Los Angeles, while Mr. Wright received his degree at Berkeley.

Distinguished Dinner

Invitations have been issued by the Masaryk Society of Los Angeles for a dinner to be given at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, the 8th inst., in commemoration of the eightieth birthday anniversary of Thomas Garrique Macaryk, president of the Czecho-Slovak republic. The dinner will take place in the banquet room of the Friday Morning Club, 940 South Figueroa street.

Honored guests will include Mayor John C. Porter, Hon. Felix B. Janovsky, Consul of Czecho-Slovakia; Hon. C. E. Bobers, Dean of Consular Corps; Dr. R. B. Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California; Rudolf Friml, distinguished Czech composer; a representation of the Consular Corps and judges of the Los Angeles Superior Court.

The address of welcome will be made by Mary Jane Harbe, president of the society, with Joseph Pipal, Mme. Anna R. Sprotte, Felix Janovsky and Dr. Von KleinSmid as after-dinner speakers. Mr. Friml will play his own compositions, the musical program being augmented by Mme. Bosa Hescova and Arline Kroutil, soloists, accompanied by Lillian Sharp, and piano solos by Maria Mikova.

Circus Day

"Circus Day" will take place Saturday at the Huntington in Pasadena, when all of the children in the hotel, under the direction of Mrs. Nan Tuedio, will take part in a parade, side shows and circus, representing the eloquent ringmaster, clowns, wild-animal trainers, and all the well-known animals, (and some not so well known,) that Barnum ever presented.

The circus is to arrive Saturday morning, and a three-ring circus tent then will be erected on the Huntington Village circus grounds (the ball room,) which will also house the side shows. Cages are being constructed by Jack Holley and Ted Nash, while Dorothy Riddell, Dorothy Davies, Priscilla Bullitt, Nona Stimson and Polly Walsh are making posters and signs. At 3 p.m. the parade will form on the Japanese garden bridge, passing from there through the lobby to the ball room to the accompaniment of a steam calliope.

William Vosper is to be manager of the side shows, with Ted Nash as ringmaster. Other participants are Priscilla Bullitt, leader of the band; Nona Stimson and Robert Honeyman, trick bears; Sonny and Mary Eda Mattiesson, baby tigers; Dorothy Davies and Dorothy Riddell, dancing frogs; Stephen Vosper, the singing ostrich; Jane Vosper, Robert Honeymoon and John Nash, the woofuses; Shirley Smith, an acrobatic monkey; Peggy and Patsy Lilienthal, tight-rope dancers; William Vosper and Jack Holley, giraffe; Stephen Royce, giraffe trainer; Jack Holley, magician; Anita Nash, snake charmer; Douglas Stimson, policeman, and Polly Walsh, Mary Margery Holley, Dorothy Royce, Ray Davies, Danny Royce, Seaborn Livingston, Harley Higbie, Hughie Higbie, Skippy Phillips, Sonny Riddell and Jimmy Tuedio, clowns.

Dinner and Bridge

Mr. and Mrs. Hart Wagner were hosts Wednesday evening, February 26, at a dinner and bridge party in the Vista Del Arroyo, Pasadena, lighting their flower-decorated table with pastel shaded tapers.

Prizes were won at bridge by Mmes. P. W. McMullen, Minnie Leonard, J. A. Stodel, H. L. Averill, Lena Passmore and Carrie Fletcher, and Messrs. P. W. McMullen, John Gates, Jr., Mattson A. Morrill and J. A. Stodel. Also in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Dille, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Mihran, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Woodward, Mrs. Morrill, Mrs. Gates, Mrs. Theodore D. Robinson of Chicago, Mrs. John McDermaid of Rockford, Ill., and Henry Woolner.

Chef Wyman's Recipes

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

CHOCOLATE ROLL

One-third of a cupful scant of shortening or butter, one cupful of sugar, three eggs, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-half cupful of water, two and one-fourth cupfuls of flour, two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, beat the butter or shortening to a cream, gradually cream into it the sugar and beat well; add the well beaten egg yolks, sift the flour, baking powder and salt together, twice, and add alternately with the cold water, then fold in the stiffy beaten egg whites, line a shallow pan with oiled paper, and bake in a medium oven.

FILLING

One square of chocolate, one-half a cupful of sugar, one tablespoonful of butter, one-half a cupful of hot water, one and one-half level tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, one-fourth cupful of milk, one-half teaspoonful of vanilla. Place the chocolate in a double boiler, when melted add the sugar, butter and water, and cook until blended, mix the milk, and cornstarch together, and slowly add to the hot mixture, cook until thick, beating constantly, add the vanilla, and allow to cool slightly, place the cake on a towel, that has been wet with warm water, and rung out dry. Trim the edges of the cake, spread with the chocolate filling; pull toward you and start rolling; allow to stand wrapped in the towel for two minutes. Remove the towel and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

EGG CROQUETTES WITH SPINACH

Boil four eggs hard, then cover with cold water, and remove the shells, when cold, cut the eggs in small dice, place in a saucepan three tablespoonfuls of butter, three tablespoonfuls of flour, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, a little white pepper, and one teaspoonful each of onion pulp, and finely chopped parsley. Add one cupful of rich milk, and stir until it boils, then add the diced eggs, and cook for two minutes longer. Turn the mixture onto a buttered shallow dish and allow to cool, shape into croquettes, roll in bread crumbs, then in egg, that has been beaten and diluted with two tablespoonfuls of milk. Roll again in crumbs and fry in deep hot shortening; place in the center of the dish a mound of cooked and seasoned spinach, and around it the croquettes. Grate over the top of the spinach one-fourth cupful of cheese.

POCKETBOOK ROLLS

Place in a double boiler four tablespoonfuls of butter, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, and one cupful of milk, and heat, until the butter is melted, and the sugar dissolved, but do not allow to boil. Stir in enough sifted flour to make a stiff smooth paste, place the paste in a bowl, and allow to cool slightly, beat in one at a time, three eggs, beating for two minutes after the addition of each egg, form into balls, the size of a small egg, place on a baking sheet, three inches apart and bake in a moderate oven.

Health and Diet Advice

Author of "The Easy Way to Health"

HOW ADHESIONS FORM

Although many people understand that adhesions may follow surgical operations, they do not usually realize that some of the worst possible adhesions occur in patients who have never been near an operating table in their lives. To understand how adhesions form in the body, you will first have to consider the prolapsus or sagging of the internal organs. This sagging comes as a result of poor muscular tone so that the abdominal organs have been allowed to slip down in the pelvis instead of being held in their proper position.

As the organs slip they may rub against each other. It is this rubbing which causes an irritation, and the irritation brings about an abnormal growth of connective tissues between the two surfaces. In the course of time the organs may grow together, forming adhesions. The word "adhesions" comes from the Latin, meaning "to stick to" and this is exactly what happens; one surface sticks to another and then grows there. Adhesions may also form if an organ becomes inflamed and the inflammation spreads to its neighboring organ.

Since the adhesions tend to bind the organs out of their proper places and limit their amount of free movement, they are often a direct cause of constipation due to kinking the intestines and colon out of their right positions. If you can imagine two of your fingers grown together, you can realize how the functioning and the movement of the fingers would be hampered.

In examining thousands of patients under the X-ray it is quite apparent to me that some of the strongest adhesions in the human body are caused by prolapsus or sagging. These types of adhesions are found in as many as 90 per cent of all the women who come for an examination. It is not so frequently found in men, probably because of better muscular tone. Many causes of female sickness can be traced to sagging organs which are bound out of their normal position by adhesions. A prolapsus and congestion of this type usually reflects in the patient's mental life and there is a manifest tendency to being blue, depressed, discourged and despondent.

When a prolapsus of one organ exists in the abdomen it is usual to find that most of the other organs have likewise fallen and have a poor tone which will cause gas and make indigestion the rule.

With the fluoroscopic X-ray one can usually determine the exact location of adhesions. The internal organs can be moved about with the fingers under the X-ray except in the spots where the adhesions have bound them down. In this way, the location of the adhesions can be discovered and the right treatment undertaken to remove them. In cases of mild adhesions it is often possible to overcome the trouble by using plenty of exercises taken while lying on the back.

A short time ago I published an article on "Slanting Board Exercises" to be used for prolapsus and adhesions. If you have not read or saved the article, I will be glad to send it to you if you will send a two-cent stamp and your address to me in care of this newspaper.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to baking and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking for the leaflet you need on one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

DOES YOUR BABY TURN UP HIS NOSE AT COD-LIVER OIL?

When a mother discovers that her method of doing something is not bringing the right results, she is wise to change her procedure. To force a child in any direction seldom pays, as many of us have discovered. This is especially true when the forcing process relates to feeding.

Mrs. M. F. M. is having a daily battle in giving her baby a teaspoonful of cod-liver oil and wonders whether it should be continued. "I have a 4-months-old baby," she writes, "who weighed seven pounds at birth, and more than fourteen now. In the last few weeks I have noticed that while nursing he kicks and lags along, and acts as if he had cramps. At times he just won't nurse. I have given him milk of magnesia thinking he had gas, but he acts no differently, and I hope you can tell me what is wrong.

"I have been giving him one teaspoonful of cod-liver oil every morning and he does not like it and cries every time. Is it all right to force it on him?"

TRY SMALLER AMOUNTS

Cod-liver oil should not be disagreeable to a child if given in small amounts, but one can easily realize that a large amount at one time might really be sickening. We like butter, but few of us would eat a spoonful of it all by itself. Neither does the child want a whole spoonful of rich, fatty and decidedly "tasty" oil.

Divide the day's total of cod-liver oil in three does. Mrs. M. F. M. This will make only a third of a teaspoonful at one time. Give it by means of a medicine dropper, dropping the oil far back on baby's tongue so that it goes down without much effort. If this is not successful, try one of the irradiated oils, which are comparatively tasteless and require only the tiniest amount daily. Consult your doctor about the amount your baby would require. Giving the oil with orange juice often makes it more tempting.

DON'T EXPERIMENT WITH ERGOSTEROL

Recently almost every other writer asks if the irradiated ergosterols are as good as cod-liver oil. I can't answer this question. The two are quite different, though they act upon the body in the same way—helping to make use of the mineral elements in the diet to build strong bones and teeth, and to prevent rickets. The irradiated ergosterol is hundreds of times more powerful than cod-liver oil and should be used only in the most cautious amounts, and under the supervision of the family doctor. I am actually horrified at the dosages some mothers are giving their children. With the manufacturers' warnings that there is a real and serious danger in overdosage, I feel that there is little excuse for it.

Now for Mrs. M. F. M.'s other question. It is possible that when baby acts so unhappy and restless at his feedings, the breast is empty or secreting very little. However, baby's weight is above the average, if your scales are accurate. Weigh him before and after each feeding to determine whether the amount he gets is the same at all feedings. If not, give a complementary feeding following the nursings at which he seems dissatisfied or gets smaller amounts than at the others.

THE MAGIC CORNSTALK

With the annual meetings of the scientific societies coming around again, we should be disappointed not to find the usual startling announcements of new wonders to be performed in the name of higher chemistry or the higher physics. But there is no need to worry. Already the chemistry section of the American Association for the Advancement of Science has been told that forty acres of cornstalks will provide heat, power and light for the average home for an entire winter.

This picture, if it is true, is somewhat reminiscent of various reports made last year, but the method of transforming cornstalks into power is now made to appear so simple that we are again confident that the farm problem is solved. All that is necessary is to place the cornstalks in a septic tank where they will quietly generate methane or marsh gas. No more labor is involved in the process, Dr. Arthur M. Buswell of the University of Illinois reported, than in tending a furnace.

Here is science's Christmas gift to the harassed agriculturist. Of course, these cornstalks so gaily turning into gas stoves may be missed in the silo, but we have no doubt that science will soon take care of this point. If there is no other way of managing the matter, it will simply do away with the need for cows by making synthetic milk. —[From the New York Evening Post.

"I judge coffee on these 4 points"

If you would know what qualities to look for in good coffee, read the following convincing extracts from a letter written by Ethel M. Sterling of Los Angeles:

"I judge coffee on these four points:

AROMA

"Aroma plays the first part, of course. If the aroma is pleasing, I am all anticipation and think... well, this coffee certainly SMELLS good.

COLOR

"Then when it is served, I notice the COLOR. If it is a beautiful golden amber, I think... well, the color is good anyway.

FLAVOR

"Next I taste it, and if the taste is as good as the aroma and color led me to believe, I feel as though I had discovered a gold mine.

EFFECT

"The last to figure in the coffee quartet is EFFECT. If after drinking the coffee, I feel nervous, all keyed up... then lie awake half the night counting sheep jumping over a fence and get up in the morning wishing there were no such word as work... then I know that coffee was a poor coffee and not properly made.

"BUT...

"BEN-HUR Drip coffee, as made by the Ben-Hur filtration method, is the one and only coffee where all four elements are combined, with NOT ONE bad after effect! In fact, how COULD there be any bad after effects from BEN-HUR coffee made the Ben-Hur way?

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

The secret you have guarded well
A careless tongue is apt to tell.
Whitefoot the Wood Mouse.

WHITEFOOT KEEPS A SECRET

Whitefoot the Wood Mouse had had a very comfortable winter. Yes, sir, he had had a very comfortable winter. He had had a secret all winter. That means of course, that he had managed to keep that secret. Several of his neighbors had tried to find out, but they had tried in vain. Reddy Fox was one of these. Old Man Coyote was another. Bowler the Bobcat was a third. You see, they wanted to know where Whitefoot lived on the chance that they might be able to dig him out.

Of course, Hooty the Owl was always on the watch for Whitefoot, but he didn't care much where Whitefoot lived. His only chance of catching Whitefoot was when Whitefoot was outside his home. Peter Rabbit was another who wondered where Whitefoot lived. But on Peter's part it was merely idle curosity. Peter likes to know all about the affairs of his friends. He hadn't thought much about it until one afternoon just before dusk he discovered Whitefoot on the edge of the Green Forest.

"Hello, Whitefoot!" exclaimed Peter in great surprise. "What are you doing over here on the edge of the Green Forest?"

"Why shouldn't I be on the edge of the Green Forest?" demanded Whitefoot in his squeaky little voice.

"There is no reason why you shouldn't be here," replied Peter, "only it is such a long way from your home."

"Who says it is a long way from my home?" squeaked Whitefoot.

"Well, isn't it?" demanded Peter.

Whitefoot chuckled. It was a funny throaty little chuckle. "That is a question I don't have to answer," said he. "However, I'll tell you this much, Peter Rabbit. I'm not as far from my home as you are from yours."

Peter thought this over for a few minutes. "Well, I don't suppose you are," said he finally. "I'm much bigger than you are; I've got longer legs, and I travel about more than you do. Just the same, it seems to me that 'way out here on the edge of the Green Forest is a long way from where you want to be. Where is your home, Whitefoot? Be a good fellow and tell me. I won't tell anybody."

"Hello, Whitefoot!" exclaimed Peter in great surprise

Again Whitefoot chuckled that throaty chuckle. "No, Peter," said he, "you won't tell anybody. You won't tell anybody for the very good reason I won't tell you. I'll tell you this much, however. I've got one of the best winter homes I've ever had and it is where nobody in all the Great World will ever think of looking for it. Never in my life have I felt so snug and comfortable and safe."

Now, of course, all this excited Peter's curiosity to a very great degree. Probably if Whitefoot hadn't told him what a wonderful home he had, Peter wouldn't have given the subject another thought. As it was, he thought about it a great deal. And the more he thought about it, the more curious he became.

INSURANCE FUNDS

Eastern money is the lowest rate money obtainable, as the East is where the large concentration of wealth occurs. These funds must be invested in good securities such as real estate loans. That is our business.

Yes, we charge a commission. All mortgage companies do the same. The borrower can take his pencil and figure where he is ahead with our loan when he considers the rate he is paying for his money. Loans $5000 or more, 7%: no commission.

A property with a low rate loan is much more attractive to a buyer.

Telephone us the address of your property. A preliminary inspection will be made free of charge.

Conservative construction loans considered.
